TO THE EDITORS OF THE RECORD: -Lo, the best men he ever knew. Consequentthe poor Indian ! How often do we see ly he concluded that the best men in this this sentence derisively quoted in our different papers and periodicals. Only recently there appeared in a caricature in Harper's Weekly representing a parin Harper's Weekly representing a par-ty of Indians dancing around a white man, whom they had just killed and them. He abandoned the previous pracscalped, and under it was written: 'Lo, tice of taking counsel with Congressmen the poor Indian! The caricature was simply because they were Congressmen, intended to portray the sentiments of an and has confined himself to Ohio influen-Indians were represented as men worse than beasts, who deserved killing off instead of being well cared for by the government, as the only returns they made for our generous provision for them was they could find.

Some years ago an eminent statesman in a speech on Indian affairs said: 'In the beginning God made the land and gave it to the Indians.' Assuming that this is true, let us see what we have done to gain the hatred of the Indians," With the notable exception of the William Penn treaty, about all the land the white people live upon belonged to the Indians and was taken from them either by force or fraudulent means. We have driven them from their homes and the graves of their ancestors; we have watonly destroyed the buffalo and other animals which were food, shelter and clothing to them. In exchange for all the valuable land we have taken from them, the Indian Territory has been given them; and now, not satisfied with our millions of acres of unoccupied lands, we wish to take that from them also. And the few tribes which yet live upon their ancestral soil are envied, and steps are being taken to deprive them of it.

'Lo, the poor Indian!' We have given you cause to murder us. The amount of our blood you have shed is no compen- who take pride in keeping it in perfect sation for the injuries we have done you: order. Many of the presents bestowed and yet on every hand we hear the Christian exclaim: 'Kill em all!' 'Wipe their sojourn in China and Japan are to 'em out!' 'They're dogs!' 'They don't be seen in the parlor and library. know how to use the land. If God made the white man He made the Indian. He made the white man to live as a civilized being and the Indian to live ing a remedy of acknowledged merit by the pursuit of the chase; but we have with the numerous quack medicines that deprived them of that employment, and now comes the question: What is to be done with the Indian? But before we Ginger Tonic is a startling health restoraanswer that question let us see what is tive and will do all that is claimed for it being done with them now. Our East ern people and those of the West who have had no opportunity to look at the situation, will reply: Oh, they have more than they deserve; the Crows re ceive an annuity of $100,000 per year, the Piegans $40,000, etc., etc.' No,they do not. They are supposed to receive that amount, and the money is from the U. S. Treasury to individuals who are because they receive the goods for the Territory to kill their agent in the hope two to three days, when they were sup-posed to have plenty to keep them until the next issue. And when the Indians remonstrated with the agent on the state of affairs he would reply, 'Pooh, pooh! Go away, go away! You have plenty, you have plenty!' And then they would turn away with a sinking heart and a fierce gleam in their eyes which boded no good to the agent. If it were not for the buffalo and small game from which they manage to get a scanty living, God knows what they would do, or where they would stop. There would be death and desolation on many a hearth-stone which burns with fancied secueity. And now comes the question. What are we to do with the Indians? We know that they are not capable of taking care of themselves and battling for their live-lihood with their sharp white brothers; we know that as affairs stand at present, they do not receive their annuities-anmuities large enough to keep them in comfortable circumstances the year round. That being the case, let us suggest a change of Indian affairs. Let us do away with Indian agents and give the United States army full control of the Indians and their affairs; then they would receive over dellar day then would receive every dollar due them. Let us keep them on their reservations; will live peacefully and contentedly. That the Indians are anxious to live this with them on the subject. Last summer several head chiefs of the-tribe came to us in great excitement and said that they had heard that the reservation was going to be taken away from them. We ssured them that it could not be done without their consent. With tears standing in his eyes an old, white headed cheif stood up and said: "We don't want to leave here. Our tribe has lived here since the great spirit made them. Look at those mountains. They have been fathers to us; we love them, and our eyes would ache if we could see them no more. Once we owned the world [meaning the whole Northwest Terriory,] but the white man has driven us tory,] but the white man has driven us and rich and will build you up and give back and back until we can go no furth you good health at little cost. Read er, and now we only own enough land to live on. The buffalo are gone. We have no more use for our guns. We are now obliged to live on the white men : but they starve us. We are anxious to live like the white man. We want to have houses, cattle and potatoes. If the Great White Chief will only take away our sgent and put soldiers in his place; if he will give us what belongs to us—help us to build houses and show us how to farm, we will ask no more. When we think of years gone by and of the present time our hearts are sad, and we almost wish to die; when we think of what we were and what we are, our strength leaves us and our ambition is The old chief was right. His opinions were more to the point than all the speeches which have ever been made in Congress. It was practical. Our states mea's are only theortical.

Hayes and his Mania for Chie Men.

It is rarely that a man at an advanced state of life can reach out above or be yond his personal associations. It was only by this course that President Hayes could satisfy his own conscience that he was making proper appointments. It may have been unfortunate for some people who were not "Ohio men" that President Hayes had a conscience, or that, having a con science, it had been so strictly schooled to the Ohio idea, but he could not reasonably be expected to strangle his conscience on that account. SLIGHTLY EXHILARATED.

'Re-fol-de Riddle! How well I feel! chirped an elderly bachelor t'other morning. 'That Thomas' Eclectric Oil seems to have cured my lumbago completely. I feel as if I were young again and be-lieve I'll ask the widow to have me.' He did so, was accepted and is now the hap-py parent of a fine boy.

James Anthony Froude, the historian, has been making a study of the Ireland. He has little sympathy with the sentimental aspects of the Irish grievances, but he gives his judgment of the only way of dealing with Ireland in these remarkable terms:

and strongest would come to the front and the baser elements be crushed. . . show them how to build houses; give them plows and farming implements, some stock cattle and horses, and they the Irish to rule themselves, nature and the Irish to rale themselves, nature and fact may tell us that, whather we will or no, an experiment which has lasted for way is evident to all who have talked seven hundred years shall be tried no longer,

> Worth Remembering. Now that good times are again upon us, before indulging in extravagant shows, it is worth rembering that no one can enjoy the pleasantest surroundings if in bad health. There are hundreds of miserable people going about to-day with disordered stomach, liver or kidneys, or a dry, hacking cough, and one foot in the grave, when a 50 cents. bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the expensive doctors and quack medicines they have ever tried.
