The hanging on to cars and wagons, as well as other light vehicles by youngsters in our streets is daily becoming more of a habit, and should be prevented as far as possible by the parents of the archers. One little fellow came near being crippled for life on Elder street, Harborsburg, says the Patriot. He clambered to the top of a wagon with other striplings, when looking back he fell to the ground and came near being trampled beneath the feet of a passing horse. This incident should be read and serve as a note of warning to boys who are addicted to fun of that kind. The many accidents upon the streets and railroads should keep children on their guard.

SPARROWS ON A SPIRE. The Kingston (N. Y.) Freeman tells a curious story or an ornithological jumblebox which took place recently. A local entomologist having on his shelf several bottles of insects preserved in spirits which he had no further use, emptied them upon the ash heap in his back yard. No sooner had he emptied the bottles than the sparrows lit over the heap in a perfect cloud, swallowed the bugs, and in about ten minutes were drunk—drunk as men could get—and cut up the same idiotic antics. They fought in free fights of half a dozen, a dozen and in furies, and suddenly half a dozen, a dozen and to these establishments that had been pulled down and the whole colony was in a state of anarchy and the direct cause. The whole drunk was over in half an hour, but that short time served to allow the cats to slaughter over fifty of the sparrows, whose combative qualities and forgetfulness had brought them too near the ground. Not a sparrow has been seen in that neighborhood since.

"A Better Mortgage or do not know"—Richard Chronicle Advertiser.

GOOD COMPANY NUMBER EIGHTEEN.

"Good Company." ($3.00 a year; Springfield, Mass.) Number Eighteen, has a second article by Dr. G. H. Hepworth, one of the committee for the distribution of the New York Herald relief fund, on Ireland and Irishmen which relates his personal experience among the famine stricken people, and expresses his views as to the situation in decided language.

An account of Sergeant S. Prentiss is given, the man who attained such wonderful proficiency in eloquence by his twenty-ninth year as to rank with Webster and Clay as an orator. There is a sketch of modern travel in Egypt. Mrs. L. W. Champney has a cleverly done satire on ephemeral literary reputations entitled "The Story of a Lion." A bit of fiction true to life is the quaintly told New England story "On the Edge of the World." A story of which the scene is laid in Spain is "A Girl of Cadix."

There is an installment of "How and the Doctor" Ellen W. Olney's charming and powerful serial as one of the paper's calls; Octave Thanet has a Colloquy in which the methods of practicing charity are discussed; there is a paper on the "New Testament and Creeds;" and several articles under "Discussion and Suggestion," one of which depicts the opposition manifested by some of the southern border papers to the view regarding the conditions of the South, recently expressed by Senator Brown of Georgia and others.

YOUNG SAWBONES. Some young surgeons when accidents happen, on their way to the hospital, regard the leg of the close to the thigh, when they only should cut off the toe, like cutting off a dog's tail by the ears, or the skimming alive of the frog. It is all very well as a surgical case, but devilish tough on the dog.

"The man who is not to be wounded, Or have either cut, bruise or burn, To find Electric Oil is the very best thing, And it will cure you long so to learn."

Electric Oil Paragraph.

LITERARY REVOLUTION.

CHANGE OF BASE.

This very remarkable enterprise continues to make such progress as to astonish its friends and astound its enemies. It is greatly increasing in popularity and has compelled the removal of its headquarters from the Tribune building to the very large and beautiful building, No. 764 Broadway, which is in the very midst of the "book district" of New York city, and therefore of the publishing enterprise of the nation.

This building, though six stories in height, 25 feet front and 106 feet deep, is sufficient only for the offices and retail store of the company. The manufacturing is carried on in several large buildings located in other parts of the city, though it is contemplated concentrating them soon in one immense factory to be erected.

Their list of recent and early forthcoming publications are extremely interesting to all who enjoy what is choicest in literature. The Library Magazine is unique in both form and character and altogether delightful in the richness of its contents. Of the books announced, Green's "History of the English People," reduced from $10 to $1; Carlyle's "History of the French Revolution," reduced to 40 cents; Carlyle's "Heroes and Hero Worship," 25 cents and the "Revised New Testament" which is promised to be manufactured with rapidly heretofore unheard of, will attract special attention. It is worth while for every one who has not already seen it, to send and get the illustrated pamphlet, "Book Making, and Type Setting" by Stearns, which will be sent free upon application. Address, The American Book Exchange 764 Broadway, New York.

Hon. George N. Orson, Norristown, says: "The Phoenix Pectoral is indispensable in my family. It is like a charm, curing coughs and colds with the children, and I always use it when addressing a jury. Price 25 cents. C. A. Klein, Bloomsburg, April-17

A MODERN POET. What is a modern poet to write his thoughts upon a slate, To scribble on what is done, gives it a wipe and all is gone, Like rheumatism from our bodies fly, When Thomas' Electric Oil we try.
