PUBLIC THIEVES

The Bloomsburg Columbian (Dem.) unmindful of party interests, demands that the Congressmen who have been concerned in the Star-route jobs be called to account.-Phila. Press.

The denouncing of public plunderers is a duty that every honest paper owes its readers, and it should be done with an utter disregard of the political affiliations of the thieves. The political organization which contains the fewest rascals is the one that will win in the long run It does not require much independence in a Democratic paper to demand the punishment of the Star-route swindlers. so far as party is concerned, for Democrats have had no show in the plundering. When the roll is called of those who have participated in or benefited by these frauds, there will be a monotonous repetition of Republican names. Democrats have not held many important government offices of late years and, even if they were corrupt, have had no chance to steal. The millenium will be close at hand when Republican plunderers offer to share their spoils with Democrats. The attempt to implicate General Hancock and his friends is so ridiculous that the better class of Republican papers, including the Press of course, refuse to give it support.

A REMARKABLE DOCUMENT. In the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, on Friday morning last, Mr. Bierly of Lycoming county presented, by request, a petition of citizens of Lackawanna county asking for the impeachment of Gov, Hoyt and Attorney-General Palmer for their action in reference to the judiciary of that county. The petition claimed that the Judges ap-pointed to serve for five years should only have been appointed until the next general election, and that the action of the Governor in withholding the commissions of the Judges since claiming to be elected, was an infraction of the Constitution and laws of the State. It further asks the impeachment on the ground of corrupt conduct in pardoning Kemble and his companions from the punishment due them for their crimes.

Mr. Ruddiman offered a resolution characterizing the petition as "impertinent, improper and scandalous;" that is should be returned and the proceedings expunged from the record.

This was followed by an amendment to refer it to the Judiciary General Com-

A stormy scene ensued, and amid the atmost excitement speeches of a violent character were made. Finally the amendment was defeated, and Mr. Ruddiman's resolution was adopted, 80 to 52.

This petition doubtless originated in the fertile brain of ex-Judge W. II. Stanton who has long cherished bitter feelings against Governor Hoyt and Attorney General Palmer. It was probably thought that, in the present temper of the House as regar is Mr. Palmer, an impeachment resolution could be passed, which, if it came to naught, would at least reflect upon the high officers named. It is late in the day to present such a petition and this was evidently the view taken by the House. The pardon of Kemble and his associates deserves condemnation and was freely denounced at the time. If impeachment were expedient, steps should have been taken to some it long ago. The originators of this petition defeated their end by too-this petition.

REFORMER BEWIT

If the Philadelphia Times and Hon harles S. Wolfe are to be credited, Speaker Hewit is a "rooster" and "an abettor of ringsters," disguised in a very thin cloak of reform. The Times asserts that Hewit has steadily opposed all neasures of reform since he became Speaker and only used his position to aid the bosses of the ring. Whether this be true or not, certain it is that on Monday night last the Speaker gave color to the assertion, and proved conclusively that no more vulgar and fluent blackguard han himself holds a place in the House. Even if all the statements made against Mr. McClure were true, it in no wise helps Hewit, who as Speaker of the House of Representatives, is presumed ipso facto to be a man of common decency, and capable of comporting himself with dignity. Such language as properly belongs to the pot house is sadly out of place in a deliberative body and is the more flagrant and inexcusable when it falls from the lips of the pre we have heard of but one or two aspirants siding officer. Reform will not make beside the present incumbents. Both giant strides if its apostles are of Hewit's Conkling in a speech made at the caucus of Republican Senaators on Monday, openly avowed his and mosity to Robertson and said that the President had lied to him. The fight is one for existence and the loser will sink under the weight of public condemnation. Mr. Garfield has blundered sadly since The Senate judiciary committee, on he entered the White Honse, but he is Monday, voted to report adversely on making no mistake in asserting his supremacy. The country has had enough of the arrogance and obstinacy of New York's Senator and will gladly hail his men.

their present terms expire. THE APPORTIONMENT BILL.

The Philadelphia Press is not in favor of the proposed Legislative Apportionment bill, but does not think there is any chance of its being passed this seson, as it will be opposed not only by Democrats but by those Republicans who believe that their districts have been unfairly treated. The Press takes advan tage of the opportunity to state that the last time such a bill was passed a Democratic victory followed. By the preposed apportionment the Republicans would have a joint majority in the Legislature of nearly ninety. The "gerryman der" is the most infamous ever attempt ed in the State and evidences a reckless disregard of the rights of the people execeding that of any previous effort of the Republican leaders. The Pottsville Chronicle points out some of the ener mities of the bill, which will corvey something like an adequate idea of the manner in which the State is divided. It says: "Under the present apportionment Lehigh and Northampton counties ach comprise a separate district. Under the census of 1880, Lehigh has a population of 65,969, and Northampton of 70,-H6; and yet under this new bill Lehigh and Carbon are thrown into one district, and Monroe, Pike and Northampton in to another. Gorham has, through the Senate struggle over organization, become a sort of personal issue in Republican politics, and the foremost representatives of the party have assum ed a certain responsibility for his character. And yet, day after day, the man publishes, in the newspaper which he directs, the most scurrilous innuendoes in regard to the President of the United States, and the most wanton abuse of all who are helping the President to discover the amount of the steal which by the connivance of General Brady has been perpetrated on the Government of the United States. One day the inquiry into the Star route contracts is called an "infamous vitriol-throwing enterprise," and it is asked whether the President or Postmaster General deserve the credit for it. On another the administration is charged with being under the influence of Tilden, of supplying "the polecats of the press" with a festival, and much more to the same purpose. Would it not be well to have it understoood that the Republican Senators of the United States cannot afford to be responsible for an unscrupulous journalistic brave like George C. Gorham?—N. Y. WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Rep.)

Washington, May 10th, 1881.

Secretary Windom is reported as say ng the fight among Republican leaders has had a bad effect upon his "refunding" operations. Whenever political excitement subsides, other things being equal, the government credit is at its best. The Secretary will have to extend the time for receiving bonds for extension at 31 per cent or pay a larger portion of them than he anticipated.

This political fight by the way is unlike any we ever had. It has incidents more discreditable to those in power than have been developed by any other. To say nothing of President Garfield's withdrawal of New York nominations to "spite" Conkling, he has unquestionably used language towards the Senate that is as much bull dozing as anything ever said by a New England mill-owner to his employees or a Mississippian to freed-men. He has said, for instance, that those Senators who fail him now, "will require a letter of introduction" and that he should know his friends. These are direct, open, unblushing threats to use the spoils in coercing Senators. But the worst facts of the times were stated vestatives at Harrisburg, made another appeal to the admiration and respect of that he had asked no favors of the Presitheir constituents on Monday night last. | dent, that the President had voluntarily promised, at an interview, not to disturb Merritt in the New York Custom House, Hewit and Colborn united in abuse of take it with the one in which Brady is Colonel McClure, denouncing him as a asked to contribute to the Republican gambler and a man without a character. campaign fund, and convince the world Myers and Hewit were severe upon Mr. that Garfield wrote the Morey letter, too.
