The subject of an assistant Bishop for the present Diocese was referred to the same committee.

General Grant has always been indifferent to public opinion, and, apparently, be greatly moved by the expressions of contempt so liberally bestowed upon him, for his gratuitous intermeddling national politics.

The Ohio Republican State Convention was held in Cleveland, on the 9th of June Senator Sherman in the chair. The platform adopted endorses the adminis trations of President Garfield and Governor Foster and congratulates the latter on the successful refunding of the state debt at less than three and four per cent. interest. It also endorses the policy of giving full protection to American labor and discriminating in favor of home production. The temperance plank favors leaving the whole liquor traffic to legislation. The Philadelphia Ledger speaking of one of the most outrageous forms of ture, is proof positive that the recent sespublic plunder at Harrisburg, says: State Treasury arising from the employment of politicians who do not work as pasters and folders, messengers, clerks, etc., at Harrisburg, would not be perpetrated or attempted if these employees were paid reasonable salaries for the work they are supposed to do. Those who hire substitutes at two dollars a day to do the work for which the State pays six dollars a day have pointed out to the legislature the market price for such services, and if the wages were reduced members is indefensible. It is to be reto the market rate the State would save snoney and none of the employees could afford to do their work by deputy.

The State Treasurer recently inquired of Attorney General Palmer, whether he will be compelled to pay the full amounts claimed by members, and provided for versed in parliamentary tactics and be in the general appropriation bill. One of the most meritorious bills passed by the Legislature just before adjournment, was that increasing the salaries of Judges of the Supreme Court. Hereafter the Chief Justice will receive $8,500 per annum and the others $8000. A writ of mandamus was served upon In view of the arduous labors performed er. There will be an argument on the been conceded that the compensation of the judges was inadequate and the increase, even at this late day, will meet with general approval. Not only are the duties of the Supreme Court judges, person's ears. They have been an expensive pair of anticular nuisances to the country, and their disappearance from the public gaze will be a relief position to increasing public expenses, but it does not extend to the payment of ablic servants whose labors are evidentgreat and worth more than the resugration bestowed. There is no judge on the bench, litted for the position, whose income would not be larger if he were practicing at the bar, and although this is, perhaps, not a sufficient reason for the increase of salary, it is nevertheless entitled to consideration.

A STRANGE STORY.

An odd affair is reported in Wilkes-Barre. Last Tuesday, a man known as heedless of censure, no matter how well deserved. It is not probable that he will be greatly moved by the expressions of his name as F. D. ## THE LATE LEGISLATURE

The very general expression of pleas ure at the adjournment of the Legisla sion had earned the disapproval of the "The disgraceful frauds upon the people of the State. The number of laws out the State: "The troubles which have enacted is small and the work could have been done in a decorous manner, in less than one hundred days. Instead, however, of devoting themselves to the transaction of public business, the members frittered away their time in undignified attempts to harass Attorney General Palmer for his official opinion as to the salaries due them. Whether he was right or not, does not enter into the questionthe manner of procedure adopted by the gretted that the many honest and well meaning men who desired to do what was right and just, suffered themselves to be overruled by the "lewd fellows of the baser sort." ### THE STORM'S WORK

The storm of last week did great damage in various parts of the State, the loss Fourteen cars were smashed or destroythe lower part of the city was inundated. Gardens were destroyed, fences and out buildings washed away and much damage done.

The storm extended over a great re gion of country and was very severe along the New Jersey coast. The southern mails were delayed by a wash out of the railroad track near Havre-de-Grace, Md. In Minnesota the storm was exceedingly severe and was accompanied by a gale that prostrated buildings, uprooted trees and destroyred the growing grain. Two or three lives were lost by falling buildings. Such a heavy and prolonged storm in June is something unusual, and may be included in the list of extraordinary happenings in this year of grace 1881.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.

It was my privilege to be present at ne closing sessions of the legislature last week. Everybody has heard of the confusion that attends the making of laws in this state, but no one can realize the extent of it, until he has seen with his eyes and heard with his ears. While bills were being voted on, on final pas sage in the House, the members were engaged in throwing paper balls at each other, and the conversation and general hubbub was such that it was utterly impossible to tell how a member voted while daughter. It is a complicated case. A in Harrisburg that Huhn has been in the habit of passing or killing bills by manipulating the tally list, I have never observed in the reports of legislative prowanted for some offence committed in ceedings that anybody has ever made an New York State. Mr. Girton denied that effort to put a stop to his corrupt practices. It would have been a proper could not prove the fact, no order was thing for some of the so-called reform statesmen to have taken this matter in hand, by insisting upon it that the laws should be made by those who were sent there for the purpose, and not according to the whim of the clerk.

isitor to the House, is that the constutional convention made a grave blunder in increasing the number of representatives. This has made an unwieldly body, and the quality of statesmen has deteriora ted in a far greater ratio than the quantity has been increased. There are undoubtedly some able men in the legislature, but these are an exception to the rule. There are altogether too many young and inexperienced hands at the wheel, a fact that is made clearly apparent by er, lessee or manager of any saloon, hotel, tavern, inn, billiard room or other place of resort or entertainment shall keep, main-tain or permit to be played mon his of the members seemed to be more interested in the question of salary, during the closing hours, than in the bills that were having passage or communication to or being rapidly read on final passage. A committee of the Senate and House was of pool with balls, or any other game of chance, the result or price of forfeiture to conduct proceedings in the courts, to of payment in any form of such game or compel the State Treasurer to pay the extra five hundred dollars to each member, which under the advice of the Attorney-General he has refused to pay For a session of one hundred and fifty days, if the time were profitably spent fifteen hundred dollars is not too much but that is not the point in dispute. It is simply whether the law which allows a per diem of ten dollars after one hundred days, is constitutional, and the motive of the Attorney General in deciding that it is not, can have very little to do with

THE TROUBLE IN MILLERSBURG. A despatch from Lancaster dated Jun 9th gives the following interesting ac count of the scholastic mutiny, which has caused so much excitement throughbeen brewing in the Millersville State Normal School, four miles from here, for some weeks, came to a climax this morning, when between seventy and eighty of the students, who withdrew from the school on Monday, marched down to this city under the escort of about one hundred and fifty of their companions and departed for their various homes. The circumstances which led up to the present situation are briefly as fol lows: Among the rules of the institution is one forbidding any of the students to see their friends anywhere else than in occasions. #### A Coal Miner Impaled on a Priming Needle

A miner named Charles Gilgallon, of Archbald, is suffering from one of the most painful accidents that ever occurred at that place. He had with him in the ing rifle. Arrived there he passed up the chamber where he worked a boy who but 2 years of age by his runaway wife, and that during the fourteen years that have since passed he has been scouring the whole country for her. He says he has traveled thousands of miles and exset up in its place. That sort of business will not do." Conkling is vastly preferable to Chauncey M. In the fall the LIAM KRICKBAUM, of Boomsburg, as a candidate miner's light went out, and the lamp in the lad's hat revealed a shocking spectacle when he went to his aid With much difficulty he pulled the needle from Gilgallon's body. Just then the driver came along and called out, "Bring on that ear." The wounded man sprang to his feet and pushed the wagon out of the chamber without any assistance, then walked about 300 yards along the gangway,until he met two laborers, who help d him out of the mine. The doctors who are attending him think it possible that he may recover, as he is endowed with wonderful vitality and courage. Mine accidents are of frequent occurence and various kinds, but nothing so peculiarly painful as this has ever happened before Union-Leader.
