The Clinton county democrats have nominated the following excellent ticket: Associate Judges, W. W. Rankin, Isaac Frantz: sheriff, P. B. Smith; treasurer, Wallace Gakle: district attorney, George A. Brown; commissioners, D. M. Morris, Joseph W. Hubbard; auditors, W. T. Young, L. R. Panb. L. R. McGill, esq., was re-elected county chairman.

Gen. W. H. H. Davis of the Doyles town Democrat, started on his summe vacation last week, and in a card announcing that fact, states that his assistants have given bonds not to change the politics of the paper during his ab sence. There is nothing like carefulness, after all, and the General's mind must now be absolutely free from anxiety.

Don Cameron may survive until the end of the present administration, for he has more methods of corrupting politic than any other prominent Republican but, like Conkling, his days of bossism are approaching a close, and the honest people of the State will not mourn for him when he is retired to public life .-Chester County Democrat.

Bull since his capture has been treated tant facts will be elicited. as if he were a very distinguished personage indeed. He appears to take kindly to the honors paid him, and is these fine-days we look to see Mr. Bull once more on the war path, fully armed and equipped, and thirsting for the blood of the white man. This Iudian business is sickening.

"Government Finances" was read by E. D. Randolph of New York. An address was read by Hon John Jay Knox, Comptroller of the Treasury, on "The Banking and Currency of the Country." Several important papers were presented by prominent bankers.

Mahone doesn't seem to be making much headway in his attempt to drag the Republican party of Virginia into the support of the Repudiation ticket. The straight-out Republicans refuse to join the Coalitionists and have nomina ted a ticket of their own. Out of these faction fights will come a Democratic In the mean time the better class of Northern Republicans are build ing up a first class disgust for the whole

The Philadelphia Press has reached the top-notch of journalism and may fairly challenge comparison with any newspaper in the land. It is brim-ful of news, ably edited, and conducted with an intelligent zeal and thoroughness, eminently creditable to its management. Politically its views are not in conso nance with those of the Columbian, though we cannot but admire the quantity and quality of its news, and the energy and ability with which it discusses matters of public moment. The newspapers of Philadelphia hav been waging vigorous warfare against the delinquent contractors who have failed to keep the streets in a decent condition. Fifth has created disease and last week there were no less than 450 infants under one year of age. The Board of Health has been given authority to adopt such measures as will speedily re lieve the community from the danger that environ them, and will be urged to proceed without delay. Contractors ap pointed for political purposes, and no for capability and honesty, are expensive luxuries and rarely perform the duties for which they are paid. If such men are debarred from any further plunder ing of the treasury, this season of filth will not have been unproductive of good

THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION.

The news from Washington is far from esuring. On Monday night the resident was attacked by spells of vomting and his pulse rose rapidly until it reached the alarming height of 150. The cause of the trouble was dyspepsia and the stomach had failed to respond to the femands made upon it. Injections of pulse remained high and the stomach was very delicate. On Wednesday small quantities of infusion of beef were adinistered by the mouth and retained. At last reports there was little or no change in the condition of the sick man. The situation is critical and there seems to be but a slight chance of recovery. The wound is doing well, but the President grows weaker from lack of food and nausca. The physicians in attendance do not give up hope, and it is possible that the stomach may yet regain its tone. Fears for the worst are, however, entertained by many.

The Chicago Times throws out a hint to the effect that possibly another Ohio man in the person of Judge Thurman may be appointed to the vacancy on the supreme bench. The suggestion is ridiculous from the fact that Judge Thurman would not suit the Pacific railroad companies whose object in forcing Stan ley Matthews into the supreme court was to obtain a decision from that tribunal declaring the Thurman act unconstitutional. If President Garfield should prove sufficiently liberal-minded to ap-point a democrat let him name Jeremiah 8. Black of Pennsylvania, the foremost prist in the United States and a mar who has shown as much personal friendship for the President as Judge Thur man or any other man. But we forget Judge Black would not suit the Pacific railroad companies any better than the author of the Thurman act .- Patriot.

New Haven is much excited over the finding of the body of Jennie Cramer, a girl of remarkable beauty, in the waters of Long Island Sound, under circumstances leading to the belief that death was caused by violent means. She had been seen with Blanche Douglass, an abandoned woman, Walter Malley and James Malley Jr., son and nephew of a wealthy merchant of New Haven, on the night of August 3rd and the corpse was ound on the 6th. The Malleys and Blanche Douglass have been arrested on suspicion of knowing something of Jennie's death. James Malley was Jennie's over and it is suggested that to save his putation the unfortunate girl was murred. The exceeding beauty of the girl has aroused a very general feeling of interest and every effort has been made to unravel the mystery surrounding her death. The business of the Convention was conducted with as much dispatch as our system would permit, and no one has suggested that any injustice was done, or partiality shown by the Chairman. Notwithstand ing these facts, the Republican of last week says that the Convention lacked a good presiding officer, a criticism that was entirely uncalled for. It leads to delphia Press, and published in that the conclusion that the writer of the article does not know the difference be tween a good and a bad Chairman. His knowledge on the subject comes from his experience in the Republican Con-vention, where the qualities necessary to constitute a good presiding officer are that he shall allow himself to be easily manipulated by the two self appointed bosses of the Republican party. As Mr. Hanley was not controlled by anybody, the Republican naturally failed to discover any merit in his manner of conducting the business of the Convention.

Not satisfied with this untrue state ment, the Republican attempts further to cast reflection upon Major Hanley by the following item in their local columns: "The Democratic Convention was very appropriately presided over by an ex bel officer, In view of the fact that the Republican party has adopted the policy of appointdeaths in the city, of which 141 were of ing rebel officers to important positions, including Longstreet, Mosby detestable officer in the Confederate army, Akerman and Key, both members of Republican cabinets, and many others, it would seem that consistency, if not common decency, should have prevented our cotemporary from resorting to this antiquated style of journalism to reflect upon the surrender of Fort Sumter upon Major Hanley and the party of Judge Black said, "that there never had which he is a member. SUITEAU ATTACKS A GUARD.

On Wednesday morning, Guiteau, the assasein, made a desperate attack upon one of the guards of the jail, using a kuife which he had obtained in some unknown way. The knife passed through the guard's cont collar, cutting off a button and making a cut on the left shoulder nutritious matter, were administered and the President rallied somewhat. The wounded. RULES FOR THE PARTY.

At the recent meeting of the Demo eratic State Committee in Harrisburg, Mr. W. U. Hensel, of Lancaster called attention to the lack of rules for the gov ernment of the party, the state commit tee and state conventions, and offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of seven to prepare a new code The resolution was adopted quanimously and the following committee appointed Hon. A. H. Dill, chairman ex-officio, Hon. W. A. Wallace, Hon. S. J. Ran dall, W. U. Hensel, James P. Barr, Thor J. Barger and B. Whitman. This com mittee will report to the state committee at a meeting to be held in Williamsport on the evening of September 27th. Mr. Hensel proposes a radical change in the management of party affairs with a view to more effective work. He thinks the chairman of the state committee should have a long term and that the secretary should be paid a salary. He favors the appointment of a small executive com mittee from different parts of the State to manage general campaigns.

He was dressed in an unpretentious suit and assumed the name of John Sterling After mixing with the men and picking up bits of evidence here and there, Capt Linden was convinced that the murde was the work of the Mollie Maguires and that the organization which had been suppressed in the anthracite coal fields was in existence in this coke village Careful investigation revealed sufficient evidence to warrant the arrest of eight men, whose names are as follows: James McFarlan, John Collins, James Rogan, Mart Donohugh, John Kane, Mike Dolan, Bernard Flood, and Pat Dolan.

The evidence against Kane, Captain Linden thinks is nearly conclusive. Such an atrocius crime merits the most severe punishment and it is to be hoped that the guilty parties may be convicted and Unless Mollie Maguireism is rooted out speedily and effectually the people of Fayette county will have as serious an affair on their hands as had the citizens of Schuylkill and Carbon counties, not many years ago.

BLACK AND BUCHANAN.

One of the most interesting contribu tions to the history of the country, is the report of an interview with Judge J. S Black by a correspondent of the Phila paper on the 7th inst. The Judge make clear many facts connected with the lat ter portion of Buchanan's administration, which have been unknown or materially misunderstood. He states that the fail ure to reinforce Fort Sumter was caused mainly by the misrepresentations of General Scott and that to his pernicious counsels the war was attributable. Gen. Scott's overweening vanity precluded the possibility of his accepting suggestions from Judge Black or any one else, and the fort was not reinforced. Judge Black proves beyond a doubt that h was loyal to the Union, that he was op posed to the evacuation of Fort Sumte and that he did all in his power to convince the President of the soundness of his views. The statements of Judge Black are corroborated by Philip Francis Thomas, who was for a brief time Secretary of the Treasury, after Howell Cobb withdrew. Mr. Thomas says, "Of all the men in the Cabinet in those days Judge Black was the one who never lost his head. He was the one positive and con servative force in that Cabinet. He expressed his convictions clearly and for cibly, and never seemed to lose his self been a period in the history of the English nation when any Minister could propose to give up to an enemy of his government, a military post, which was capable of being defended, without being brought to the block." There is no mistaking the ring of those words, and no misunderstanding their meaning. It would have been well for the country if the President had paid heed to the wise counsels of his Secretary, and been ing one with Mr. Thomas, are of the greatest value to the future historian, and the Press has done a high public service in laying them before the country.
