DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT.

The struggle is ended at last, and the brave man who with unwavering courage combated death for eighty days, has sunk to rest, leaving a nation in tears. It is marvelous that he had so long borne himself against such a combination of ills,and maintained hope and faith under continued pain and weakness. With death is genuine and sincere. Struck down in the very prime of life and just at the beginning of his administration of the highest office in the people's gift, his passing away is peculiarly affecting. His death was not wholly unexpected, though perhaps more sudden than was generally anticipated. In the White House it was evident that he was steadily failin and when he was removed to Long Brane on the 6th of September, it was believed that there would be a marked improve ment. This belief proved to be untrue, and hope steadily declined until the final

The President breathed his last at 10:35 on Monday night. Up to the last moment he showed as true, tried courage as ever was seen at the cannon's mouth. If ever man stared death resolutely and valiantly in the face it was James A. About 10 o'clock Attorney General MacVeagh sent his despatch to Minister Lowell. At that time the President was lying quietly. Dr. Bliss had just left him and found his pulse 106, with all the conditions promising a quiet night. The doctor asked him if he was feeling at all uncomfortable, and he answered that he was not. After that he fell asleep. Dr. Bliss then retired to his room across the hall, leaving General Swaim and Colonel Rockwell with the President. At about fifteen minutes after 10 the President woke up and said to General Swaim, who was the nearest to him, "I am suffering," and then, after a pause, with intervals between each word, "great pain; I-am-suffering-great—pain."

As he spoke he laid his hand upon his heart. Possibly he may have meant to indicate his lungs. Dr. Bliss was immediately called. When he entered the room he found the Presi-dent unconscious and substantially with that Mrs. Garfield be called into the room and Doctors Agnew and Hamilton sent for. He remained in a dying condition until 10.35, when he was pronounced dead. His death was scarcely expected anticipate the worst. She was with him, kneeling by the bedside and holding his hand, as, with the paleness stealing over him and a smile upon his lips, his immortal spirit winged its flight.

A few minutes afterwards, when the members of the Cabinet had arrived, Mr. MacVeagh sent the following despatch to Vice-President Arthur : "It becomes our painful duty to inform you of the death of President Garfield, and to advise you to take the oath of office as President of the United States without delay. "If it concur with your judgment we will be very glad if you will come here on the earliest train to-morrow morning.

WILLIAM WINDOM, Secretary of the Treasury. W. H. Hunt, Secretary of the Navy. Thomas L. James, Postmaster General. WAYNE MACVEAGH, Attorney-General. S. J. KIRKWOOD,

Secretary of the Interior." The sad news was telegraphed to all parts of the country and in every city, town and village bells were tolled, flags were draped and citizens with sad dened faces discussed the solemn event with subdued voices. Business was practically suspended on Tuesday; all public celebrations and assemblages for leasure abandoned. In New York the theatres and other places of amusement will be closed until after the funeral.

It is a singular fact that the President died on the eighteenth anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga, in which he bore a conspicuous part.

We give herewith a brief biographi eal sketch of the dead President ; James Abram Garfield was born at Orange Cuyahoga county O., November 19, 1831; educated at Hiram Edectic Institute and Williams College; was graduated from Williams in 1856, with metaphysical honors; Professor of Latin and Greek and President of Hiram College till 1859, when he was elected to the Ohio State Senate; August 16, 1861, mustered into the service as lieutenant colonel of volunteers; Colonel Forty second Ohio Volunteers, October 5, 1861; Brigadier-General January 19, 1862, and Chief of Staff to Rosecrans; elected to Congress from the Nineteenth Ohio District, October, 1862, and re-elected until 1878, serving on the Military Committee, the Committee on Ways and Means, Chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency (1871), Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations (1871), Republican candidate for Speaker, 1876, 1877, 1878; nominated to the Presidency by the Republican National Convention at Chicago, June

Secretary of State. At five minutes of 2 o'clock Tuesday orning General Arthur took the oath of office as President, which was admin-istered by Judge John R. Brady of the continued pain and weakness. With such steadfast heart and unbending will had he faced the grim adversary, that the sympathy and admiration of his countrymen grew with his sufferings. It has seemed best to the Almighty that the life for which thousands have supplicated should end, and it only remains for the people to submit to the decree with decorous grief. There is no doubt such as the standard of the submit to the decree with decorous grief. There is no doubt submit and acting Assistant Surgeon D. The operation was per-formed by Dr. Lamb. It was found that the immediate cause of death was a secondary hemor hage from one of the arteries adjoining the track of the ball. The blood ruptured the peritoneum and nearly a pint escaped into the abdominal cavity. The ball had passed through the spinal column. A long suppurating channel extended from the external wound between the loin, muscles and the right kidney almost to the right groin. This channel, now known to be due to the burrowing of pus from the wound, was supposed during life to have been the track of the ball.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

Chester Allan Arthur, who became the twenty-first President of the United States on Tuesday, was born in Frank lin county, Vermont, October 5th, 1830. His father, the Rev. Dr. William Arthur, College Schnectady, graduating in 1848.

He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1853. He married a daughter of Lieut. Herndon, U. S. Navy, and she died in January, 1880. Mr. Arthur has been a member of the Republican party from its organization. He has held offices under the New York State and city governments and was appointed Collector of the Port of New York by President Grant November 20th, 1871.

Mr. Arthur is a man of superior physi-que and commanding presence. He is fully six feet in height, broad shouldered, Suddenly the Record underwent a redeep chested, athletic and prepossessing in countenance and figure. He retains much of the high culture and literary taste received from a scholarly parentage and acquired by education. the kind of Democrats that might with great benefit be eliminated from the party. It will be remembered that he was one of the Democratic Senators who supported Stanley Matthews for the Supreme bench. This fact should be Supreme bench. This fact should be born in mind by the members of the Kentucky legislature before whom he is to come as a candidate for re-election.

The New York Sun says that Beck was among the most ferocious denouncers of the Great Fraud in 1876. Yet Hayes was hardly warm in office before procured for his son-in-law promotion in the Marine Corps over the heads nearly fifty seniors in rank. He was open to conviction then and denounced the fraud no more. Taking these things into consideration it would be well if the Kentuckians were to find a man for Senator whose notions of party fealty and personal purity are rather more pronoun-to the Presidency by the Republican National Convention at Chicago, June 7, 1880; elected President over Winfield Scott Hancock November 2, 1880, by 214 votes to 155, carrying nineteen out of the thirty-eight States, and receiving 4,442,950 votes on a total poll of 9,204,428; inaugurated March 4, 1881 Married in 1857 Lucretia Randolph, by whom he had five children who survive him—Harry, James, Mary, Irwin and Abraham.

Charles S. Wolfe, the independent Republican candidate for State treasurer is "a reformer." Those who favor him are supposed to be honest and to desire reform in the party. If Mr. Wolfe believes that a majority of his party is in favor of honesty and reform, he knows less about its composition than he ought to do, considering his lifelong member to do, considering his life

Recent dispatches indicate a critical state of affairs in Southern Arizona. The Indians are committing outrages and the white settlers are exasperated, troops are marching to the front with all expedi tion, and a war of extermination is prob able. It looks as though the Apaches would be wipea out.

The Philadelphia Times is of opinion that President Arthur's first duty is to call an extra session of the Senate at once, in order that a President of that body may be appointed. If Mr. Athur should die before next December the country would be without a lawful Chief Magistrate. The contingency is possible but not probable.

Mr. S. D. McDonald of Lewisburg, is much opposed to Wolfe's candidacy for State Treasurer and announces in print that he has "always recognized the fact that his mental structure was insecure and that he was most remarkable for his want of judgment and common sense." Now who vouches for Mr. McDonald's possession of those admirable qualities in which he thinks Mr. Wolfe deficient? We have heard of Wolfe, but who McDonald.

A VERY LIVELY MAYOR.

On Tuesday afternoon President Arthur went to Elberon and paid a brief visit of condolence and respect to Mrs. council then passed an ordinance prohib-Garfield. He then returned to New iting him from unloading in the city. York. On Wednesday morning he went An injunction was obtained, and an orin a special car to Elberon where it was der served on Mayor Taylor restraining attached to the funeral train conveying him from interfering with the unloading the body to Washington.

The President's mother was told of the death on Tuesday morning. At first she was very much shocked, but soon came to and talked calmly. "It is probably all for the best," she said. And then suddenly observed "It is not to the ground until the circus left town.

The above dispatch to the Philadel phia Times seems intended, and no doubt will have the effect of putting all the republicans in this county fully in support of Wolfe. That he was a soldier and fought "against the Fishingcreek Confederacy" would seem to b qualifications as a candidate, altogether superior to those of Baily. The latter only had a little something to do down south, but Wolfe, no doubt, will come back during the campaign to gather the sheaves, the seed for which he sowed so gallantly, long ago. Now is the time for the republican-stay-at-homes to pay a debt of gratitude which they have so long protested that they owed to the Fishingereek army of occupation, individually as well as collectively. His father, the Rev. Dr. William Arthur, a Baptist clergyman, emigrated to this country from the County Antrim, Ire land, in his eighteenth year, and died lican stampede to the den of the Wolfe, October 27, 1875, in Newtonville, near and there will be another slaughter of Alberts Herris and the stampede to the den of the Wolfe, and there will be another slaughter of Albany. Shortly before the Republican State Convention, the Wilkes-Barre Record had a vigorous article in which it sup-ported The Press and went beyond it in warning the party leaders against their methods of management. It pointed out the repeated wrongs they had He was subsequently re-appointed and was removed by Hayes July 12, 1878.

Mr. Arthur is a man of superior physical and these leaders should be very markable change. It assailed The Press for the very course which it had pro-nounced an argent public duty. It be-gan to defend and support the leaders whom it had denounced a few days before, and it is now engaged every day in eating its own words, stultifying itself and aspersing those whose anism is as true and whose earnestness n this campaign is as great as its own. It was the general impression that At orney General Palmer was the author of the article which appeared in the Record of August 27. It bore internal evidence of coming from his pen. In view of this and of some other facts Mr. Palmer was credited with favoring the nomination of Senator Davies, and there was some surprise when he turned up at Harrisburg as the champion and mouth piece of the machine.

Is it true that, following the same policy of subservience which he exhibited at Harrisburg, he is writing the ar ticles which now appear in the Record And is the explanation to be found in the fact that he has suddenly become concerned lest there should be a public arraignment of the Pardon Board, and of his particular party in it? That is not the only chapter of interest in the recent history of this State. Does Mr.

There is one remedy which has proed itself to be a priceless boon and true friend to suffering humanity. It has saved thousands of nervous, debilitated, headaching mortals to lives of usefulness and the full enjoyment of robust health. If you are weak, nervous and debilitated, or suffer from indigestion and dyspepsia, you make a serious mistake and do your self great injustice if you fail to try this excellent medicine. You will find it a perfect panacea for all your troubles. In a few weeks time your shattered nervous system will be restored to a natural and healthful condition, all symptoms of dys pepsia and indigestion disappear, and the possibility of paralysis, apoplexy, and other disorders that lead to sudden death, will be removed forever. This meritorious compound is a preparation of Iron and essential vegetable tonics. It is the only preparation of Iron that does not give headache or blacken the teeth. It is called Brown's Iron B'tters. Demand it of your druggist, and take no substitute. It will give the greatest satisfaction, for its effects are lasting, and not temporary, as is the case with alcoholic preparations Brown's Iron Bitters contain no alcohol.
