

Professional Cards. C. B. BROCKWAY, Attorney-at-Law. L. WALLER, Attorney-at-Law. N. C. FURK, Attorney-at-Law. R. W. J. BURKALEW, Attorneys-at-Law. JOHN M. CLARK, Attorney-at-Law. F. R. R. LITTLE, Attorneys-at-Law. W. MILLER, Attorney-at-Law. FRANK ZARR, Attorney-at-Law. A. E. CHAPIN, Attorney-at-Law. G. E. ELWELL, Attorney-at-Law. KNORR & WINTERSTEIN, Attorneys-at-Law. PAUL E. WIRTH, Attorney-at-Law. GUY JACOBY, Attorney-at-Law. J. H. MAYNE, Attorney-at-Law. A. K. OSWALD, Attorney-at-Law. W. M. L. EYERLY, Attorney-at-Law. W. H. BROWN, Attorney-at-Law. A. L. FRITZ, Attorney-at-Law. R. HICKINGHAM, Attorney-at-Law. C. B. BARKLEY, Attorney-at-Law. J. B. ROBINSON, Attorney-at-Law. D. W. M. REBER, Surgeon and Physician. J. R. EVANS, M. D., Surgeon and Physician. D. R. J. RUTTER, Physician and Surgeon. D. R. L. RAIB, Practical Dentist. W. H. HOUSE, Dentist. C. M. DRINKER, Gun and Locksmith. DAVID LOWENBERG, Merchant Tailor. I. S. KEHN, Dealer in Meats, Tallow, etc. JAMES REILLY, Tonsorial Artist. W. R. TUBBS, Proprietor.

The Backus Water Motor. Economical Power Known. DRIVING LIGHT MACHINERY. B. F. SHARPLESS, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Staple and Fancy Notions. SCARFS, TIES, COLLAR AND CUFF BUTTONS, GLOVES and MITTENS, COLLARS and CUFFS, PENCILS and CRAYONS, WRAPPING PAPER, HEALTH CORSETS, SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHING, A. J. EVANS, SPRING and SUMMER SUITS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, HATS, Caps, & C., PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STOVES and TUBS, E. B. PROWER, RANGES and HEATERS, N. S. TINGLEY, Custom Tailoring, NEW SPRING SUIT, JAMES BROWN'S INSURANCE AGENCY, EXCHANGE HOTEL.

Dr. JACOBS OIL. THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest, Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellings and Sprains, Burns and Scalds, General Bodily Pains, Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frosted Feet and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches. Valuable Real Estate AT PRIVATE SALE! THE LARGE FLOURING MILL. RED MILL. FOUR PAIRS OF ROLLERS. A Large Custom Trade. C. E. SAVAGE, Silverware, Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, &c.

Poetical. LOVE SONG. THE ROUND OF LIFE. Select Story. ROSE GERANUM. Valuable Real Estate AT PRIVATE SALE! THE LARGE FLOURING MILL. RED MILL. FOUR PAIRS OF ROLLERS. A Large Custom Trade. C. E. SAVAGE, Silverware, Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, &c.

Unaccountable Antipathies. Troubles of Babies. Odd Items. The rich young widow, loved him with a most wild, absorbing passion which defied everything before it. The crafty Mrs. Warrington discovered that there was no engagement existing between Miss Moreton and Mr. Penryth, and raked her brain for some method of disengaging the young man, and turning his love for Lily into aversion and dislike. While Harry Penryth related the story of his friend and his tragic death, Mrs. Warrington's face had grown very white; a wild, hunted look stole into her eyes, and the little hand, which held a sprig of the obnoxious rose geranium, was joyously trembling. "I'm so sorry I offended you with my geranium," she said, humbly, "it is no favorite of mine."

Unaccountable Antipathies. The odd aversions that have terrified him, the wisest and most covetous. Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice" has a well known passage concerning the unaccountable antipathies of some men, and an interesting look might be written upon the subject. Not infrequently these antipathies are strongest and—apparently—most ridiculous in people whom one might suppose to be lofty and superior to anything of the sort. The young man, however, who had never drunk milk, Cardan was disgusted at the sight of an egg; a French lady "never could abide" boiled lobsters, and "brother Paro" records the case of a gentleman who is similarly affected by the view of a cocked hat. Vaughan, a famous Hanoverian sportsman, had a dog, whose name was "Moose," and who would never follow him, but would follow a man who carried a hat. As soon as she was alone in her own chamber she paced the floor like a caged tiger. "My God!" she panted, breathlessly, "what would he say—how he would scorn me, if he knew that I am Edith Delorme!" The woman who had loved Gerald Brookes, but who never shall know, I love him! I love him! And I shall win him if I die for it! She fell into a profound reverie. All at once her dark face lighted strangely. "I have it!" she exclaimed. "I believe I can see my way."

Unaccountable Antipathies. The odd aversions that have terrified him, the wisest and most covetous. Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice" has a well known passage concerning the unaccountable antipathies of some men, and an interesting look might be written upon the subject. Not infrequently these antipathies are strongest and—apparently—most ridiculous in people whom one might suppose to be lofty and superior to anything of the sort. The young man, however, who had never drunk milk, Cardan was disgusted at the sight of an egg; a French lady "never could abide" boiled lobsters, and "brother Paro" records the case of a gentleman who is similarly affected by the view of a cocked hat. Vaughan, a famous Hanoverian sportsman, had a dog, whose name was "Moose," and who would never follow him, but would follow a man who carried a hat. As soon as she was alone in her own chamber she paced the floor like a caged tiger. "My God!" she panted, breathlessly, "what would he say—how he would scorn me, if he knew that I am Edith Delorme!" The woman who had loved Gerald Brookes, but who never shall know, I love him! I love him! And I shall win him if I die for it! She fell into a profound reverie. All at once her dark face lighted strangely. "I have it!" she exclaimed. "I believe I can see my way."

Unaccountable Antipathies. The odd aversions that have terrified him, the wisest and most covetous. Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice" has a well known passage concerning the unaccountable antipathies of some men, and an interesting look might be written upon the subject. Not infrequently these antipathies are strongest and—apparently—most ridiculous in people whom one might suppose to be lofty and superior to anything of the sort. The young man, however, who had never drunk milk, Cardan was disgusted at the sight of an egg; a French lady "never could abide" boiled lobsters, and "brother Paro" records the case of a gentleman who is similarly affected by the view of a cocked hat. Vaughan, a famous Hanoverian sportsman, had a dog, whose name was "Moose," and who would never follow him, but would follow a man who carried a hat. As soon as she was alone in her own chamber she paced the floor like a caged tiger. "My God!" she panted, breathlessly, "what would he say—how he would scorn me, if he knew that I am Edith Delorme!" The woman who had loved Gerald Brookes, but who never shall know, I love him! I love him! And I shall win him if I die for it! She fell into a profound reverie. All at once her dark face lighted strangely. "I have it!" she exclaimed. "I believe I can see my way."