

Col. Bliss stated that out of 14,101 bids in the Star Route cases, bonds were valued for $8,000,000, and there was not value enough represented by the eight millions to buy a spanned horse.

The struggle for the presidency of the Philadelphia and Reading R. R. company ended on Friday last, in a victory for F. B. Gowen. The vote was the largest ever polled and Mr. Gowen had a majority of more than 48,000.

Let it not be said that the Republican party is not for free trade. It is trading with John Kelly in New York, Mahone in Virginia, with Jones in Texas, and the greenbackers in a half dozen other southern states.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The Baltimore Gazette has reached an unchangeable conclusion and says: "The Star route thieves will escape justice, and the Star route system will survive in its entirety." It is not for nothing that the Baltimore Gazette is a Republican paper.

Hon. S. P. Wolverton of Sunbury has been mentioned as a desirable candidate for Governor. We heartily endorse the suggestion and cannot think of a man in the State who would more creditably fill the gubernatorial chair. He is a man of great ability, unimpeachable character, fine presence and agreeable manners and would reflect honor upon the State.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, on taking a survey of the political field, remarks: "We have a Stewart President, a Stewart Cabinet and a Stewart speaker—no one of us is to be trusted."

Judge Tuttle says that in his judicial district in North Carolina only five voters were white men, and yet it was frequently carried by a large Democratic majority. Does the Judge intend it to be understood that those five white men bulldozed the whole voting population of the district? The story is on a par with many published in the Republican organs about election time, and has not even the merit of originality.

The President makes the fatal error of nominating Eliza Sargent for Secretary of the Interior, the Senate should not disgrace itself by confirming the nomination. If that body will only act with respect of honest and reputable citizens which the President throws away, Aaron A. Sargent will be rejected without loss of time and by a decisive majority.

To those gentlemen who are lamenting the squandering of hundreds of millions of the public money in the last years of pensions at we wish to suggest this thought: No such act could have been passed if Samuel J. Tilden, the rightfully elected President, had been inaugurated in March, 1877. Had he been in the office to which he was chosen, instead of the white-livered Hayes, he would have vetoed the bill as it came from Congress and would have given reasons for his action so cogent as to make it respected. He would have been strong enough as President to organize the timely opposition to the measure.—Buffalo Courier (Dem.).

More than three hundred delegates were present at the meeting of the Independent Republican State Committee in Philadelphia, on Thursday last week. Lively speeches were made by several speakers, among whom was Charles S. Wolfe, and the 24th of May was fixed as the date for holding a convention. This is after the day of the machine Republican Convention. Whether the Independents will make the nominations made at the Cameron Convention or name a ticket of their own, remains to be seen. There does not appear to be any great alarm in the Cameron camp.

The steamer Okenholme from Liverpool was considerably damaged by a fire caused by the explosion of an internal machine on the voyage to New Orleans. O'Donovan Rossa, the Irish agitator in New York, was asked whether he believed this machine had been put on board with intent to destroy the vessel. He replied: "I do not believe it."

The following is a list of the dead: Brown, Mrs. Mary L., 55 years old, of 45 West Fifth street, New York. Keeley, Oliver B., 36 years old, of Spring City, Pa. Marchal, the Rev. Francis, 55 years old, of the Jesuit order. Ranam, Darwin L., 30 years old, of the Hoffman house New York. Valentine, Park, 21 years old, of Bennington, Vt. Valentine, M. Louise, 19 years old, wife of Park Valentine. Wagner, Senator Webster, 64 years old, of 14 East Forty-fourth street, New York.

An unidentified body of a man in Meritt's undertaking rooms, believed to be that of a Mr. Richards of Troy. The only person who is seriously injured in Miss Mary Daniels of Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street. Her physician expresses fear that she may not recover.

Many others sustained injuries more or less severe. Senator Wagner was the owner of the drawing room and palace cars which ran over the roads controlled by Vanderbilt. Mr. Valentine and his wife had been married only the day before when the accident occurred. On their wedding journey. Both were caught by broken timbers of the car and burned to death, in spite of the most energetic efforts to release them. There seems to be little doubt that the horrible sacrifice of innocent life was due to the carelessness of a brakeman, George Melvin, whose duty it was to run back and stop the approaching train. Instead of doing this, he remained only a short distance in the rear of the standing train, and used both red and white lanterns in signaling the Tarrytown train to stop. This man has been arrested and held in custody to answer the charge of manslaughter. If the facts are as stated, he richly deserves the severest punishment.

The assassin's trial. The trial of Guitau draws to a close and it is thought that the end will be reached in a very few days. Mr. Davidge made the opening argument to the jury on the part of the prosecution. He spoke for two days and made a masterly arraignment. The prisoner withdrew under the scorching sentences and frequently interrupted the speaker. Mr. Reed spoke for the prisoner on Monday. On the following day, Mr. Scoville began the main argument for the defense. Guitau read an ingenious appeal to the court for permission to address the jury. Opinion differs in Washington as to the result of the trial, but there are many who believe that the jury will not convict. Guitau's manner is unchanged and he apparently is confident of acquittal.

Mr. Scoville's speech lasted through Wednesday and was not concluded. Guitau again asked permission to address the jury at the conclusion of Mr. Scoville's address, and he said he would consider the matter. The prisoner made the usual number of interruptions but was not violent.

The Drunkard is a burden to himself as well as his friends, but, since intoxication becomes a disease, it requires a remedy of unusual activity. Those who have taken Simiton Liver Regulator declare that it sets the liver in action and invigorates the system in such a way as to destroy the craving for strong drinks.

The shabby, nervous and distressed should be careful to get a good remedy to arouse the torpid liver to action, to regulate the bowels and remove the feeling of general depression and with it the craving for liquor.

An insane man named Walsh deliberately shot himself in the temple last week at the Notre Dame Cathedral, Ottawa, Ont., while services were in progress. The congregation, composed principally of ladies, was panic stricken, and several of the ladies fainted.

Charles and Augustus Dean have been arrested in Harrisburg, for what probably prove a murder. A few nights since the Dean brothers lodged at their house, and the next morning the man was found with two bullet holes in his body, one of which it is believed will prove fatal. The man recovered sufficiently to tell who had shot him to a person who was attached to the place where the water was drawn. The Dean brothers had concluded they had killed him. He charged the Dean brothers with the crime, and with robbing him of $400 and a lot of goods. The accused were found at home and arrested while drinking the plunder, and are now in jail.

William Encke, justice of the peace of Mahanoy City, committed suicide on Thursday evening last week, by shooting himself through the heart. Financial and family troubles are thought to have caused the act.

Rosaria Andreola, a boy twelve years old picked a piece of bread out of an ash barrel in New York, a few days ago, and ate it. He was taken sick immediately afterwards and died. Investigation showed that the bread had been covered with rat poison.
