Many complaints reach the Post, Office Department from the smaller post offices of lack of facilities for the transaction of postal business. Under the present regulation, made necessary by the smallness of the appropriation for the purpose, the gross receipts of an office must exceed seventy-five dollars per annum before it is entitled to a letter balance and canceling apparatus. Many of the postmasters not being able to buy the necessary outfit use inferior link for cancellation, and crude apparatus, or none at all, for weighing, thereby causing a loss to the department and themselves, as they are compelled under the law to make good any deficiency in postage on matter sent from their offices. The shortage from this cause alone was over two hundred dollars for last month and this class of postmasters are unjustly liable for that

At Sunbury Thursday morning the Muncy Hills terror, William Hoagland, came into court and plead guilty to breaking jail. The court remarked to the prisoner that "it seems the Northumberland county prison is not strong enough to keep everybody there, so we have concluded to send you to the penitentiary to serve out the balance of your term, and also the term which we intend to sentence you for breaking jail." It will be remembered that Hongland was convicted of three burglaries in the upper end, for which he was sentenced to twelve years. The court has now added three years and six calendar months to his sentence, giving him fifteen years and six months in all to reflect over past sins. He is the handsomest criminal Northumberland county has ever been cursed with, and sleek of tongue. After sentence he quietly returned to his chair, saying as he did so, "Thank you."

Great Labor Saving Invention.

Christopher Lewis, who years ago worked a the mills in Danville, and for some years acted as superintendent of the Lochiel Roll ing mill, at Harrisburg, has lately patented a colling mill which, if it is successful in practice, must work a revolution in rolling iron. The mill has reversible rolls and buggy attachments that work with such rapidity that the mill is estimated to have apacity of three rails per minute. It is also ande to roll girders and plates. One of the most important features of the mill. It is claimed is the amount of labor it saves, re quiring only two men and three boys to di the work which now requires the services of seventy-six men. The model was made it Columbus, Ohio, and while it was being re moved from Pittsburg to Philadelphia umber of rolling mill men in the forme city, hearing that it was intended for doing away with labor, battered it up so with ledge-learnmers that it took $600 to make he necessary repairs.

Justices of the Peace and the Court.

If the many petty cases, such as surety of ie peace, that come up at every term of art were settled, as they should be, before the justices of the peace, the time occupied edited by that popular novelist, Emerson in their hearing before the court could be devoted to more important cases and the county and the parties interested would be saved much expense. A judge in a neighboring county recently made some very timely renarks in regard to the bringing of trivial prosecutions, which, we think, hit the mil quare on the head. He referred to the fact hat for 8 hours the time of the court had been occupied in trying three unimportant cases, he said: "In the first case tried the costs, $56.20, were imposed, one half on the plaintiff and one half on the defendant; in he next case the costs, amounting to $40.67, were disposed of in a similar manner. In the third case the costs were $48,99, making in three cases $146.86 of costs imposed of the prosecutors and defendants. The jury in these cases have found that there was nothing in any of them calling for conviction or punishment. Hi temper and bad conduct deserving of censure there had undoubtedly been, but nothing deserving the penalties of the law. This is the deliberate opinion of court decidedly concurs in each verdict of subject. the jury. Hiram Edware of Mifflinville was indicted y the grand jury last week, charging him with an attempt to burn the store of Snyder & Eckrote, of which firm he is a member The trial began on Thues by and lasted un til Monday night, when it terminated by an agreement on both sides that the verdict should be not guilty, but the defendant to pay the costs. A large number of witnesses were in attendance and the trial excited great interest. It was simply a case of suspicion, as no evidence was produced by the prospention to show any motive on the part of Mr. Eckrote. On the contrary the fact were in his favor. The firm was doing a large trade, had a big stock of goods not fully insured, the building was not insured to its full value, they had no debts to speak of, and there was nothing to be gained by a fire, and a good deal to be lost. It was drown by the defence that Eckrote was lo bed when the fire broke out. Under these freumstraces a verdiet of acquittal was the only probable result of the trial, if it had not been ended by agreement. There were still a number of witnesses to be examined, and the costs of each day that the trial was prolonged were very heavy. Feeling certain of acquital but fearing lest the jury might put the costs on him in the end, Mr. Eckrote consented to pay them, rather than run the lars larger. Ask for Clark's "O. N. T " Cotton and ce that you get it. For sale by all leading dealers, Gunners often make mistakes in trespass ing on the premises of farmers and others in the quest of game. Many farmers seem to forget the law relative to this matter. For the benefit of this class of people and as in-dructions for farmers, we make use of a charge of Judge Ross, of Montgomery county, to a jury on this subject : "No man has the right to go upon the premises of another, whether for gunning or other purposes, without the consent of the owner, and every person so doing is a trespasser. Although it is customary for persons to enter upon the grounds of others for the purpose of fishing, nutting and gunning, yet they have no right to do it without the consent of the owner. Being a trespasser he must get off the premises, if directed, and must not stand upon his going. He must move off as fast as he can, but need not run. If he refuses to go the owner can use as much force as is necessary to put him off even if it result in the death of the offender: but you dare not use more force than is absolutely 'necessary,' ' Messrs, Ely Bros., Druggists, Oswego, N. Nesses, Ley Bloss, Pruggiss, Cawego, S.

Price 50 cents. Elect Good Constables.

The Williamsport Sea & Bonnes says that the office of constable is not recognized as i should be by the public. An efficient man in this position finds occasion every day to exer eise himself in behalf of good order and govern ment. If he is a true friend of law and order the evil disposed are kept in check and restrained from committing deeds that they otherwise would commit. The citizens therefore, in voting for constables, should favor those who are a terror to evil doors, and seek as favors from a class who disregard the law. There are men who seek the vote of the vic ious and deprayed, with the understanding that they will shield them if possible, in cas of trouble. Do not vote for men of this character, but rather for those who will discharge their duty regardless of fear and
