BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Friday, March 3, 1882.

Mrs. Scoville, sister of Guiteau, has sent to the United States Senate a protest against the confirmation of Conkling as a justice of the Supreme Court. She considers such action as a degradation of the bench. Circulars have been sent to the members of the last legislature by their committee asking for an additional fee of $20, to be given to the attorneys who appeared for them in the salary case. The fee for the two lawyers will thus be increased from $1,000 to $6,250.

The election in Philadelphia last week resulted in the overthrow of the bosses and rings of both parties. The only relie remaining is the famous Bill McMullin, who is retained as councilman from the 4th ward. The citizens' committee did

The Chicago Tribune thinks that Speaker Keifer has made a rather bad mess of it so far, and that "all the skill, patience and loyalty of the leading members such as Kasson, Hiscock, Reed, Cannon, Calkins, Robinson and Will iams, will be needed to prevent a ship wreck of the narrow Republican ma-

The Delaware county Gazette, a Republican paper, has the following to say of one of the shining lights of its party; "Pinchback, the Senatorial claimant of Louisiana, has been nominated by the President as Surveyor of the port of New Orleans. Pinchback is a gambler and a blackleg and it is no credit to either the administration or the Republican party that such an appointment should have been made."

A statement has been published that the Adjutant General of the army has rendered the decision that all soldiers who enlisted between June 22, 1861. and August 6, 1861, were entitled to bounty, and as a consequence the War Department has been flooded with letters asking for information on the subject. Adjutant General Drum states that there is not the least ground for the publica-tion, as no such decision as the one referred to was ever made.

So it seems after all that the Supreme Court was not unanimous in deciding the legislative salary case. Justice Trunkey, one of the ablest members of the Court, delivered a dissenting opinion on Monday last. He holds that the salary means a fixed round sum for a specific, service, and that the first section of the act of May 11, 1874, clearly violates the constitution. A very large proportion of thinking men in the State, will agree with Justice Trunkey in his cen-

The statement of the business of al lines of the Pennsylvania railroad company, east of Pittsburg and Eric, for January, 1882, as compared with the same month in 1881, shows an increase in gross earnings of $184,106; an increase in expenses of $316,701; a de crease in net earnings of $132,595. All lines west of Philadelphia and Erie, for January 1882, show a surplus over liabilities of $9,741, being a loss as com pared with the same period of 1881, of

The great tax case of the Commonwealth against the Standard Oil Company was argued last week, and the papers are now in the hands of the court. The original claim was for more than $3,000,000 but this was reduced to something less than $800,000. The de fense was that the company did not do business in Pennsylvania, being located in Ohio. This is preposterous. The oil from which the company has acquired its enormous gains was taken from the soil of this State, as all the world knows, and it is but just that the company should pay taxes thereon.

When the bronze medals are distributed to the faithful "306" who stood by Grant at the Chicago convention, abso lute impartiality should be observed. When Gen. Beaver, the Christian soldier and lawyer, is decorated with his pound of brass, Dave Mouat, now in seclusion in jail for election frauds, should be simitarly rewarded. Invidious distinctions in matters of this kind will break up any kind of political fidelity. Perhaps, too, there may be others of the "306". behind prison bars before the medals are distributed-it begins to look as if political scoundrels can be punished.

The President's nominations range from good to very bad, and that of Ex-Senator Sargent belongs to the latter class. He was nominated as Minister to Germany, last Friday. It was at first intended to make him a cabinet officer but so strong was the protest from press and people that this was reluctantly abandoned, and he is now given one of the best of the foreign missions. His political reputation is unsavory and he s not a reputable representative of the United States to a great foreign power. He is a third-termer however, and that fact is as good a recommendation as is needed under this administration.

The bill to retire General Grant passed the Senate last week. It authorizes the President in recognition of the eminent public services of Ulysses S. Grant, late General of the army, to nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint him to the army with the rank and grade of General, to be placed on the retired list with pay accordingly. With the assistance of the salary that Grant will now receive, and his $95,000 New York mansion, besides several other elegant properties in different parts of the country, and about $300, 000 that he received during his two terms as President, he ought to be able to support himself hereafter. Who says that republies are ungrateful?

There does not appear to be any im-mediate solution of the contest over the Wilkesbarre postmastership. The rom-nation of Mr. Orr is still field up in the Senate at the instance of Senators Cameron and Mitchell and against the wishes he has a brilliant future before him. chamber and were assigned to seats to of Representative Scranton. In the When the nomination came before the meantime letters continue to be received protesting against the removal of Postmaster Smith, and asserting that Representative Scranton is not carrying out the wishes of the Republicans of Wilkes barre by his action, and that the nomination of Mr. Orr is a great mistake, Senators Cameron and Mitchell respect of writing papers, either pro or con, regarding the sanity of the assassin. For instance, a paper from Dr. Hammond, of New York, will be presented this week in one of the leading medical ournals. Others may be expected to follow until the matter has again come to be widely discussed, from which it is inferred that pressure may be brought to bear which will result favorably to

The Wilkes Barre Record says "The Democratic managers by collusion with the Wolfe Independents, and under the patronage of Mr. Gowen, of the Reading Railroad, are cooking up a scheme to nominate Hon. S. P. Wolverton, of Sunbury, for Governor, with an amalgamation ticket as the tail of the kite, and elect it under the reform dodge." is a very gauzy yarn, emanating from the too lively imagination of the Record's editor. If Mr. Wolverton receives the Democratic comination for Governor it will be upon the grounds of eminent fitness and capability and not because any clique or faction desire it. Mr. Wolverton's record both public and private is unimpeachable and he would certainly make an unexceptionable Governor. He is a man of sterling integrity, a hard worker, an able lawyer and possesses at inexhaustible fund of common sense.

The statement published of amounts allowed by the committee to audit the expenses of the sickness and burial of President Garfield to the attending surgeons is pronounced incorrect by a member of the committee. The amounts allowed are as follows: To Dr. Bliss, $25,000; to Drs. Agnew and Hamilton, $15,000 each; to Drs. Reyburn and Boynton, $10,000; to Mrs. Dr. Edson, $5,000. Mr. Crumps, the stew ard, is allowed $3,000 and the other employes of the Executive Mansion two months' extra pay. The committee recommends the appointment of Surgeon General Barnes to the rank of major general and his retirement at that grade and the promotion of Dr. Woodward to the rank of lieutenant colonel. The committee has also agreed to grant to Mrs. Garfield the remainder of her husband's salary for the current year. The report will not be unanimous, but Messrs. Springer and Blackburn will submit a minority report opposing most of the

THE TAX ON MATCHES.

There can be no good reason why longress should not repeal the law im posing a tax on matches. The manuacture of these necessary articles as now conducted, is controlled by a monopoly, all of the small establishments having been crowded out by the imposition of the tax. A purchase of stamps in sums of fifty dollars or less must be paid in full at the time of the purchase. Any one buying more than fifty dollars worth may, by giving bond, have sixty days' credit and a discount of five per cent. while he who purchases more than five reasons for stopping the tax.

Much of the heavy rock cutting Stalwart Unionist and the zealous Conand grading between Williamsport and Jersey Shore was completed a few years ago, so that nothing now remains but to ay down the ties and place the iron thereon. At Stokesdale a junction is formed with the Antrim, Cowanesque and Geneva Railroad, which leads to a with a six-nond cannon lasted to bis connection with the New York Central back.

The new link, which is to serve as the outlet for the Reading Railroad, will form a very important one, connecting, as Democrat, true and consistent-one in t does, with the great trunk line system of the Vanderbilt roads and supplying try have confidence. The corps of engineers has reached Jersey Shore, twelve miles west of Wil liamsport, and will now push up Pine Creek rapidly. Another corps, it is expected, will greatly facilitate the work of surveying and locating the line through the Pine Creek Mountains. The chief engineer has already advertised for rail road ties and such other material as will be required in the construction of the line, and just as soon as spring fairly rapidly.

CONKLING'S APPOINTMENT.

The President created a decided sensation on Friday last, by nominating Ex-Senator Conkling to fill the vacancy on the bench of the Supreme Court caused by the resignation of Justice Ward Hunt. Senators as well as the public were surprised as no such action ad been anticipated. Mr. Conkling it will be remembered, once refused to accept the Chief Justiceship proffered him by Gen. Grant, and there is a great divirtually retired from politics and those cal life is by no means ended and that nomination and it is not known what he ately behind them.

The bill fixing the number of repreentatives in Congress at 325 has become a law. This adds 32 members to the present number and increases the Electoral College from 369 to 401, so that 201 electoral votes will be required to elect a President and Vice President instead of 185 as at present. Pennsylvania gains one member by the new apportionment. Ten Republican states gain 17 members and ten Democratic states 15 members. Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont each lose one, New York gains one and California two. The Pittsburg Post has a very interesting editorial on the subject and thus comments on the political outlook:
"On the old sectional lines, the South

gains 15 members over the last apportionment and the North 20, but loses 3, as bearing on the next Presidential election, that it will require a very decided change in political sentiment for the Democratic party to carry the Elec-toral College without New York. Judge Black on the Silly Craze for Political Sensation.

In an interview published in a Washington paper with Judge Jeremiah S. Monday last was the day set apart for the memorial service in honor of the late President Garfield. called to order by Speaker Keifer and prayer offered by the chaplain. The resolutions setting apart the day for the memorial services were read by Clerk McPherson. At 12.10 the Senate was announced, and all rose respectfully as the Senators, headed by the officers of that body, entered and took their assigned seats.

They were followed by the Chief Justice and the associate Justices of the Supreme Court, dressed in their robes of office. Again the assembled multitude arose as the President of the United States and his cabinet were announced. They were accompanied by Senator Sherman and Representative McKinley, chairmen of the committee of arrangements.

At 12.30 the orator of the day, James G. Blaine, was announced, and his ad vent was the signal for a round of ap-plause. The ceremonies were then opened by a short prayer by Chaplain F. D. Power, of the House, after which President Davis said:

"This day is dedicated by Congress for memorial services of the late President of the United States, James A. Garfield. I present to you the Hon. James G. Blaine, who has been fitly chosen as the orator for this historical occasion."

Mr. Blaine then rose, and, standing at the Clerk's desk immediately in front of the two presiding officers, proceeded, making a net gain of 17. It is evident with impressiveness of manner and clear ness of tone, to deliver his eulogy from manuscript.

The eulogy, which is too long for publication, was both graceful and elo-quent. It was characterised throughout by the greatest delicacy and tact. Blaine's remarks on the bitter party The 153 votes from the South strife which culminated in Conkling's must be supplemented by forty-eight resignation, were very brief but to the point. The President was fully vindi cated and that too without causing any bitterness of feeling on the part of those who were opposed to him. The speaker reviewed the whole life of Garfield, and dwelt with fervor upon the manly earnestness and honesty of the dead man. The eulogy reflects the greatest credit on crats could triumph without New York both the heart and brain of the distinthe whole schedule would have to be guished orator. An hour and a half were occupied in its delivery. A resobe gained, and in a contest in which lution of thanks of both houses of Congress was adopted unanimously.

A Healthy Corpse.

One of the most common forms polit ical stupidity takes on in Republican journals is the statement the Democratic party is either dead or rapidly going to pieces. A party that has a following of 5,000,000 votes, organized and maintained without the aid of federal patronage, can hardly be called a dead institution. The wish is father to the thought on the part of our esteemed Republican contemporaries.—Pittsburg Post (Dem.)
