While this is of advantage to the farmer, it is very disadvantageous to consumers of the beef, for the flesh of a fat animal in every case is much richer in fixed, nourishing material than that of the lean; and it is never good economy to purchase lean beef. It is better to purchase the poorest parts of a fat animal than the lest of a lean one. The best piece of a fat ox (the loin) contains from 21 to 28 per cent. more fixed material than the corresponding enough, the worst piece in a lean animal (the neck), is the richest in nour-ishing material. The flesh of the neck improves very little in fattening: hence, economy considered it is the best portion to purchase, as its value is in a measure a fixed one - Boston Journal of Chemistry
