THE COLUMBIAN,

C. E. ELWELL, J. E. BITTENBENDER, Editors. BLOOMSBURG, PA,

FRIDAY, MAY 26th, 1882.

Charles R. Buckalew will be a candidate for Congress in the eleventh district, and it will be an eternal disgrace to the people if they fail to elect him —Bellefonte Watchman.

President Garfield's grave, on every pleasant Sunday, is visited by thousands of quiet people. The sentinels still pace about the vault, the bronze doors of which are thrown back, revealing

W. M. Monroe of Rupert, went to Philadelphia on Wednesday to attend the Independent Convention. Nobody can question Mr. Monroe's republicanism, but he, as well as many other men who have always been consistent and who have always been consistent and earnest members of that party, have had enough of bossism and the spoils system, and believe in reform this year.

The machine leaders will be surprised at the size of the Independent vote in this county next fall.

Late of the republican vote of the state, were adopted.

Colonel Duff then addressed the convention accepting the nomination. Chas. S Wolfe, ex-Senator Mapes and Major Merrick followed with brief members after which the convention

The State convention of the National Greenback-labor party was held at Harrisburg last week Thursday. The attendance was small and the proceed-ings were attended with but little interest and no enthusiasm. After adopting the usual platform the following per-sons were placed in nomination. For Governor, Thomas A. Armstrong of Pittsburg, for Lientenant Governor, Mayor Powderly of Scranton, for Su preme Judge, J. A. Cake, of Northumberland, for Secretary of Internal Af-fairs, J. L. Dewoody of Venango, for Congressman-at-large, R. R. Tomlinson of Bucks.

elected him, under the misapprehension that he could control him. It looks Independents will triumph in the state now as though Pennsylvania has two and nation. The Independents are ors instead of one, and because greatly pleased at the results of the one of them denounces the corrupt methods of the other and leads an ope revolt against bossism and the spoil system, the stalwart organs call for his resignation. After next fall's election it will appear which of the two senators represents the majority of the republican party.

In response to the unanimous request consented to become a candidate for re-election. It is probable that he will instead of influential Witkes Barre Record.

The delegates to the Republican county convention last fall were mostly self appointed. The members of the standing committee were appointed by g committee were appointed by to the Cameron State convention were appointed by this committee. Machine made all the way through, in accordance with the methods of the party in every minority county. And yet the Republican, and all other Cameron organs, are endeavoring to convince the people that Beaver is the choice of the party for governor. The party at large had no say in the matter. Beaver was nominated by the Bosses.

Here at home, where General Beaver is best known, he will not be a strong and popular candidate, even if his connections with Cameron are forgotten. While he is a good citizen and a gentleman of good character, his dictatorial and overbearing manner towards all with whom he comes in contact and his abusive course towards those against whom he has been professionally engaged has made him many bitter enemies in his own party here, who will not or cannot be persuaded to vote for him. With the workingmen and farmers he is not at all popular, on account of his aristocratic tendencies, and among the soldiers even of his own good regiment, the One Hundred and Forty-eighth, he has fewer real friends than any officer connected with that organization. We state these facts not because he is the nominee of the Republican party, but because they are true.—Bellefonte Watchman.

The postmaster general has written an important letter to the house of representives recommending that all postage on newspapers and magazines— that is on all second class matter—be abolished. He shows very clearly that the present year. The cost of the Star route service has been reduced nearly two millions a year. It will be still further reduced. THE INDEPENDENTS.

The convention of Independent Republicans was held at Philadelphia on Wednesday. Senator Mitchell was hosen temporary chairman, and Henry L. Foster of Venango permanent chairman. The following ticket was nominated; for Governor, Schator John Stewart of Franklin, for Lieutenant Governor, Levi Bird Duff of Allegheny, for Secretary of Internal Affairs Geo. W. Merrick of Tioga, Supreme Judge, George Junkin of Philadelphia, Con-gressman-at-large, William McMichael of Philadelphia.

In response to calls Senator Stewart addressed the convention, accepting the omination.

A resolution was inserted in the plat form calling upon the legislature to submit to a popular vote the proposed amendment to the state constitution

mittee to fill vacancies on the state ticket; constituting Mc Kee chairman and Leach secretary of the new state committee, and providing for represen-tation according to the republican vote

The Gazette & Bulletin wants Mitchell to resign from the United States Senate because he is not representing the party that elected him. That is true. Don Cameron was the party that elected him under the misanurchension of stalwart bossism? I appeal to roughly appear to the party that elected him under the misanurchension of the party that elected him under the misanurchension of the party that elected him under the misanurchension of the party that elected him under the misanurchension of stalwart bossism? I appeal to you—no, it is not. But in the end the

The Editorial Association of this State will meet for its annual excursion the first week in June, and during the time they are together matters of interest to the fraternity will be discussed. There is one subject that should receive of the attorneys of the Twenty-sixth their attention, and upon which some Judicial District Hon. Wm. Elwell has definite and decided action should be taken. We refer to the growing impositions of advertising agencies. Hardbe elected without opposition. It is seldom that an officer so thoroughly merits the public confidence that is evidenced in this proceeding. He is a learned and honest Judge. Interspersed with notices of the same become the propositions that discreet, learned and honest Judge.

Promotion could not bring him additional honor, but he would do great are made to us, we judge that much of credit to the Supreme Bench, if the practice were to choose capable men the regular advertising rates, and yet politicians .- the agencies seem to have no difficulty in making their contracts at their ridiculously low rates, and keep one fourth of the amount from the poor editor to pay their "commission". The balance they offer to pay in printing material, these delegates, and the representatives Directory for both of which, outrageous prices are asked.

When an editor declines a proposition from one of these agencies, because the price offered is too low, his right to do as e pleases is sure to be questioned, and the correspondence ends by the offer of a very little more, which is too often accepted by the editor.

A still greater nuisance is the travel ing agent who makes cantracts with country newspapers. He wants a half column of advertisements, next to reading matter, and about twenty lines of reading notices, separate from any others, for which no credit will be al lowed if not in position. For this, he may offer as high as ten dollars a year, and if pressed, may possibly come up to fifteen dollars, but he will not do this until he informs you that "he does not want to buy the whole office." times out of ten, these agents represent such parties as Helmbold, Henry & Co., and others, who do not pay their bills. This sort of thing has been tolerated by the press for years, and it will continue until some active measures are taken to stop it. The remedy is not difficult. Let the editorial association agree upon a minimum price per inch for advertising offered by legitimate and responsible agencies, and insist upon a compliance with the terms. As for traveling agents make the terms invariably cash in advance, and we shall see fewer notices in exchanges to the effect that "So, and So & Co., are frauds; they do not pay the printer." For our part we have adopted the fol lowing for the future: No foreign advertising will be received at rates that have been offered heretofore. No medithis can safely be dene. The amount cal notices to go among pure reading of postage received from this source matter will be taken at any price; they last year was $1,399,048. It is now must go under Business notices. No certain that there will be a surplus of advertising will be taken from traveling $1,500,000 on the postal business of agents unless paid quarterly in advance first quarter to be paid before first in We shall thus benefit our readers by driving out a class of advertisers that do not pay half what they ought to pay if at all, and benefit our-

Thomas M. Marshall who was nom nated by the Cameron convention for filled by the State committee, while others insist that another convention must be held. The declination of Marshall has added to the consternation of the Cameron clans. His nom-ination was one of the Boss's strokes of policy to make it appear outside that the convention contained an indepen-dent element, but it did not work. The day of reckoning is close at hand.

The Republicans in the House have determined to unseat Mr. Dibble, the A large mass meeting of Independent Republicans was held at Wellsboro, Tioga county, last Saturday, which was addressed by Senator Mitchell. His speech was received with every sign of approval and was a strong arraignment of machine methods After reviewing the rise of the Independent movement, he speke of it and the regular ticket as Democratic member from the Second publican scheme.

After many days' notice the Repub-lican Chairman of the Committee of man or men, but candidates who represent autocratic power. The Cameron ticket did not go to the people for the offices, but every man from Beaver down went to the bosses except in the case of Marshall. In refering to the case of Marshall. In refering to the case of Marshall. In refering to the case of Marshall, in refering to the case of Marshall, in refering to the case of Marshall, in refering to the case before the House was find much confusion, the effort to get the case before the House was ried three times, but in each instance no quorum voted.

With a strange perversity of temper, the Republicans lay the blame for the want of a quorum upon the Democrats who refused to vote on this motion. The answer is obvious. A two factions together at the Continen-tal hotel and in the Conference. We demanded a class of nominees who, by their antecedents and character could and can at any time make a quorum without Democratic aid if they will and said if you name them we will ask the Independents to endorse them. We know how Don Cameron's ticket was made up, for I have the word of a man who was present that it was made at the word of a man who was present that it was made at the thirty-five of their members who was present that it was made at the thirty-five of their members when the said in they will only attend to their business. The failure of the Republicans to get at the Dibble case, and carry out their plan for unseating him, was owing to the fact that thirty-five of their members

Why Beef is High.

A New York Comme has been interviewing some of the New York butchers concerning the high price of beef. One said:

"Last fall corn was 80 to 90 cents bushel. Farmers in the West thought it was too dear to feed their cattle. Therefore they sold their cattle rather than feed them on anything but corn. Of course they sold the corn at a great profit. When corn is over 60 cents a bushel farmers can't afford to feed it to their cattle. Last fall there was any quantity of small two-year-old cattle in a thin or poor condition that were put upon the market. Then beef sold at 8 to 84 cents a pound at wholesale. Now the same quality of beef costs 12 or 13 cents per pound. Beef won't be any cheaper until July. There are not many good cattle now in Chicago or Western markets In July we shall begin to get Texas and Kentucky cattle; but this won't effect the prices of Western beef, be cause these cattle are not so good, be-

been shipped, too, since last fall. The demand is greater than the supply—that is the whole thing in a nutshell. Prices are from five to six cents higher than last fall. My books show that they are higher than at any time since 1875. An inferior quality of beef sells for more according to its value that beef at the best quality. We don't ex-pect lower prices until July. The higher rates are no doubt due in part to speculation in corn and its advanced prices since last fall.

The Warren County Wonder.

The new oil well in Warren county which is causing so much excitement, is about 24 miles east of Titusville, and a narrow gauge railroad is already talked of. On reaching the well, says a cor-respondent, the guards, who before would not allow one to approach the derrick, stand back and say no more. The boards which formerly kept the nside from view have been torn away.

Two lead pipes are connected with an 800 barrel tank, which stands under cover. The guards still keep watch guage. At the beginning of every flow a loud, rumbling sound can be heard, when suddenly the lead pipes begin to quiver and the oil rushes forth, amid a terrific pressure of gas. The flowing of the well and the rushing of the gas can be heard half a mile, sounding like blowing off steam in a boiler.

At the opening of this mystery the well flowed about every hour, but to day she would flow for about seven minutes, and stand idle fifteen minutes. which at a twelve barrel rate would
