McNarra, a swindler from Belfast, Ireland, has been traveling through this state defrauding clergymen by false representations. His method was to represent himself as a member of the same denomination as the clergyman he called on, and then by telling a very plausible story, to borrow money from him "for a few days."

In his peregrinations he struck Bloomsburg, and calling on Rev. L. Zahner, who he was a member of the church of England, that he had but recently arrived in this country, and came to Scranton to visit his brother. Upon arriving there he found his brother had gone to Tyrone, this state, and as he had only money enough to bring him to Bloomsburg he concluded to stop off here and borrow sufficient to carry him through, when he would return the money. He asked Mr. Zahner for twenty-five dollars, but got nothing as Mr. Z's suspicions were aroused. He then went to Rev. Dr. Mitchell's where he represented himself as a Presbyterian and gave a different name. Not long ago he was arrested in Northampton county and is now in jail at Easton, for practicing the same game. He will be convicted, and if all the clergymen whom he has swindled throughout the state should appear to testify against him it will probably be a good many years before he dupes another one.
