

THE COLUMBIAN.

G. S. BULLOCK, Editor. BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6th, 1882.

Notice to Democrats. Last day for paying taxes—Saturday, October 7th.

The Democrats of Lycoming county opened the campaign on Monday evening at Williamsport, by mass meeting at the court house, which was addressed by Chauncey F. Black and Mortimer F. Elliott.

No earnest Democrat will be deluded into voting anything but his own ticket, by any of Cameron's side-shows, whether it be called a workingman's candidate or what not.

Beaver's speeches consist mostly of boasts of his own popularity, and assurances of his own election. He tells his auditors that the Independent movement has died out, although they are holding larger and more enthusiastic meetings all over the state than the Stalwarts.

Republican organs are very much worried because Pattison will not neglect the duties of the important office he now holds to travel about the state exhibiting himself at county fairs and the like.

A report was circulated that each of the clerks in Controller Pattison's office had been assessed $300 by the Democratic committee for campaign purposes.

The Stewart managers will have to revise their schedule of campaign issues, change their candidates or import and naturalize a London tailor.

The immense electioneering fund which has been raised by the stalwart state committee cannot be disbursed in the payment of legitimate expenses of the canvass.

Prof. Tilden, who made a chemical examination of the poisoned bouquet that was given to the late Mrs. Scoville, the day before his execution, reported to District Attorney Corkhill on Tuesday that the large bud contained five grains of white arsenic.

The Grand Army of the Republic of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia held a reunion at Pittsburgh on Monday. It was estimated that 50,000 strangers were in the city.

Prof. Tilden, who made a chemical examination of the poisoned bouquet that was given to the late Mrs. Scoville, the day before his execution, reported to District Attorney Corkhill on Tuesday that the large bud contained five grains of white arsenic.

The tactics of the Cameron corruptionists are well understood. If the Democrats of the state will but take counsel of their past experience the dirty money of the bosses will be spent in vain.

The lesson of 1878, for instance, should be vivid in the recollection of every democrat. Thirty-one dollars were spent that year by the Cameron committee in diverting democratic votes, from Hill to Mason.

Baron von Ranb, Leon Springs, Bexar county, Texas, has 8000 acres all under fence, properly subdivided, and stocked with beautiful Shetland and spotted ponies.

Judge Folger has accepted the republican nomination for governor of New York. Henry Ward Beecher says he would rather see his right hand shouldered than cast a ballot for a man nominated by fraud and forgery.

The Pennsylvania election of this autumn. They will see their party defeated rather than fraud and patronage triumphant.

The electioneering fund of half a million dollars means that the worst work of the worst of political dependents is to be performed in this state before the seventh of November.

The people be on their guard.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Georgia was carried on Tuesday by the Democrats a majority of about 30,000.

There was a large republican meeting in Philadelphia last Saturday night at which Beaver was announced to speak on State issues.

The "Republican" will get one. From the Philadelphia Press. (Rep.) Chairman Hensel, when he gets time, should write a card thanking the Stalwart organs for their silly attempts to connect Pattison with the Alms House frauds.

At the regular republican headquarters on Monday afternoon of last week, while Secretary Targgart and a host of clerks were busy at desks and tables in the main room, a young girl, about eighteen years of age, of prepossessing appearance and plainly dressed, came in.

"I've brought my money," said the girl, waving out a one dollar pocket book and taking out two one dollar bills. Secretary Targgart was at once himself again. Jumping into his chair at the table again, he asked the girl to sit down, while he opened a drawer and took out a book.

"What's your name?" asked the secretary. "Emma," said the girl timidly. Mr. Targgart wrote it out and handed her the receipt.

"How much is it?" asked the secretary. "Two dollars," said the girl, tremblingly. She handed the money over, the secretary dropped it into a drawer, turned the key, entered the sum on a book and began to make out a receipt.

"What's your first name?" he asked. "Emma," said the girl timidly. Mr. Targgart wrote it out and handed her the receipt.

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Targgart, mechanically. "And it doesn't make any difference—my giving it to you instead of Mr. Cooper, does it?"

"Good bye," said the girl, bowing as she withdrew. "Good bye," said Mr. Targgart, turning to his work.—Phila Times.

Prohibition Convention.

Pursuant to call of the chairman of the county committee, the prohibitionists of Columbia county met in convention, in Ellis Eves & Brother's hall, at Millville, at 2 p. m., on Friday, September 29, 1882.

The convention was called to order by the Chairman, and the call read, stating the object of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and adopted, after which a motion was made that a committee of three be appointed by the chairman to prepare resolutions, which was carried, and in accordance therein, Aaron Smith, John Bodine and Ellis Eves were appointed.

The committee then reported the following resolutions which were adopted: 1. Resolved, That we hereby declare it to be the purpose of this convention to nominate and support only such candidates for the Legislature as are believed to be unequivocally in favor of submitting to a vote of the people an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for use as a beverage within the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

2. Resolved, That we as members of this convention will support the nominees of the Prohibition party at the polls as well as elsewhere. 3. Resolved, That we endorse the platform of the Altoona convention.

4. Resolved, That we congratulate the Prohibition people of Columbia county on their success in securing prohibitory amendments. The convention then proceeded to the nomination of candidates.

For the offices of Congressman and State Senator no names were presented. Webster Eves and John Bodine being chosen congressional conferees, and Aaron Smith and G. A. Potter, senatorial conferees, with instructions to support such candidates as would in their judgment best serve the interests of the party.

On motion the following were elected as officers of permanent organization: Aaron Smith, chairman, (he to appoint one man in each township to assist him in the work of the campaign.) J. B. Eves, secretary, and G. W. Miller, treasurer.

Mason, who shot at Gullett, is to remain in prison, the judges refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus. "Profuse expenditure by Government is not only burdensome, in itself but generates in officials a spirit of profligacy which permeates every private life. Extravagance breeds extravagance. Every useless expenditure creates an excuse if it does not cause a necessity for further waste."—Robert E. Pattison.

Pottsville merchants have agreed to close their places of business at 8 o'clock during the winter evenings. A company with a capital of $112,000 has been organized at Greenville, Mercer county, to operate a mica mine located there.

Arrangements have been made for a concert in connection with the Bi-Centennial at Philadelphia on the evening of October 25, at the Academy of Music, by fifteen hundred school children. Eight thousand acres of valuable coal lands have been purchased by Philadelphia capitalists in Westmoreland county.

Zell's circus was wrecked at Lancaster, Kentucky, last Sunday, by a car jumping the track. The car rolled down an embankment, followed by fifteen other cars. The cars were loaded principally with the baggage of the company. Several attaches were scattered through the train. Three men were instantly killed, three probably fatally injured and seven or eight others seriously wounded. A tiger escaped from a cage, but was secured before doing any damage. The engine and three front cars escaped uninjured.

INVITATION.

Strangers passing through the city are cordially invited to visit the store, and make free use of its conveniences; leaving their luggage under check at any of the doors, or in the Luggage Room in the Department of Public Comfort.

Really we meant to have this important department in full operation before everybody got back from sea and mountain. It is made for strangers; and they seem to enjoy it, so far as it has got. It consists of a free Reading Room for gentlemen, a free Writing Room for ladies, free resting-rooms in both, closets, and other little conveniences; a soda and mineral-water fountain that isn't free; and a lunch-room to be added.

We make the great public welcome there, beyond the wont of any other house, so far as we know. We think it will pay us to look after Public Comfort a little, as a means of advertising. There's nothing sly or crooked about it. We want visitors to Philadelphia to have a good time, and to connect our store with it.

New things are coming, and fall trade is already begun. New things do not come all together. They come in a steady stream from now till Christmas. And they go in the same way. They have to. You may easily believe it, when you see our house full all the time, of goods and all people taking them away. It would be hardly worth speaking of so obvious a fact, but for the moral; which is: Buy when you find what you want; for tomorrow somebody else will be after it.

New things will crowd upon us now for mention every day. Only a few can get into the papers, except in the most general way. It will be fair to come for whatever you want, and expect to find it.

New foreign wraps have come. There are jersey coats, jersey ulsterettes, pelisses, and others. The writer of this hasn't even seen them. He has only heard of the flutter they are going to make.

Wonderful silks have come. But we must say more about the least of them than we have time for today.

We have neither time nor knowledge today to go into particulars. This is only an early notice that the store is filling up with goods for fall. We need to say further to you who live at a distance that you needn't go to the city every time you want anything. We take so much pains to send you what you want, that you risk little in writing for goods. Let us know, as nearly as you can, what you want, and we will send you samples and prices, or take other means of finding out exactly what you do want.
