Special attention is given to repair of Osborne's reapers and binders and all kinds of farming implements. The principal work of this firm now is on heavy contracts for coal breaker machinery, and they have filled a number of large orders for the Scranton Steel Works. The railroad company has laid a switch on the premises, so that the shipping of heavy pieces is comparatively easy. About thirty men are employed in the foundry and machine shop, and the kindliest feeling exists between employers and employees. Such establishments are a credit, as well as an assistance to the

Too Many Swindlers.

The conduct of the fair this year by the officers was very successful in every respect, and entirely satisfactory in every thing but one. There were too many swindlers allowed to play their games on the ground. Games of chance, which if played on the street at any other time would have subjected the proprietor to fine and Imprisonment, were allowed to be conducted openly and undisturbed by the Henry Rosenstock, S. P. Hanley, C. G. The ball throwing game, the striking maare sure to capture the money of the unto get the people's money, and the people ought to be protected against them. An exhibition that instructs or amuses, is not objectionable, but schemes based on getting something for nothing ought not to be tolerated. A Shameful Swindle. An old man named Esau Girton was swindled out of $160 last Friday by some of the many sharpers who attended the fair Just how it was done is not known, but one of the party met Mr. Girton on the street and pretending to be an old friend, was soon joined by his accomplice, who was introduced to the victim- By representing that they would either pay a large interest for the use of the money, or else that they would secure him a large quantity of land in the west, they induced the old man to go home and get his money T. J. Vanderslice on Saturday afternoon, $160, and hand it over to them, when they disappeared. There were two of them, and one stopped at the Exchange Hotel, forgetting to pay his bill when he left. As nearly as we can learn their description, it is as fellows: One was short and heavy, in Main township, was destroyed by fire wore a reddish suit of clothes, dark comon Monday night. This is the fifth death in the family, the father and four sons following one another in succession. Mr. Ent was a good citizen and took an active interest in all public matters. He was one of the directors of the Bloom Poor District a few years ago and was elected constable of Scott township for several years. In all his dealings he was upright, and his genial disposition made him many friends. He removed from Light Street to Berwick about two years ago and was engaged in the stove and tinware business. A wife and two children are left to mourn his death. His age was about 40 years. The funeral took place at Light Street on Wednesday, and was largely attended. Jackson Post G. A. R., under the command of Col. A. D. Seeley, accompanied by the Berwick Band, and the Odd Fellows, of both of which bodies he was a member, escorted the remains to their final resting place. Mr. Ent was a member of Co. I. 178 Regiment. He enlisted as Sergeant, and was afterwards promoted to 1st Lieutenant.

Democratic Meetings.

The opera house was well filled las week, Thursday evening, at the Democratimeeting. Chairman Buckingham callethe meeting to order, and an organization was effected by the election of Hon. C. B Buckalew as chairman. The following vice-presidents were elected: Judge Elwell C. B. McHenry, David Lowenberg, N. F. Moore, John Graham, A. B. Hartmat payment of a few dollars for the privilege. Barkley, Rolandus Herbein, George Lock ard, Jacob Yeager, John Lore, U chines, the lotteries and all that, are catch II. Ent. The fairs are for something more were Stephen Pohe, Peter Lennon and J than to afford an opportunity to swindlers C. Yocum. Mr. Buckalew made a brief address and then introduced General Wil liam McCandless, of Philadelphia, as the orator of the evening. The General made an excellent speech, and was frequently applauded. Among other things he charged the Republican party with being responsicle for the war, and said that the men now who had most to say about that party having fought the war, were amongst those who never served a day as a soldier, the stay-at-home patriots. All through he made telling points, which was evinced by the fact that several stalwarts who couldn't stand the truth, left the hall while he was speaking. On Monday evening, October
