It is reported that Senator Beck in tends to put himself on the reform side of congress next session by offering a resolution to do away with the usual Christmas vacation. He wants congress to "buckle down to revenue and civil service reform.

Surgeon-General Barnes and Dr. Woodward, two of the attending phy-sicians at the bedside of the late President Garfield, are now nearing the dividing line that separates them from eternity. The former is dying with Bright's disease and the latter with softening of the brain.

E. P. Kisner, of Hazleton, publicly says that he is not an aspirant for the chief clerkship of the house of repre-sentatives, and that he is not entitled to the appointment, and furthermore he hopes that the Democratic members of the legislature will have the foresight to select men with special ability for the offices to be filled.

THE ATTORNEY GENERALSHIP.

In the selection of his cabinet, Govchosen with caution, and because of advantage is all this? to which they will be called. Among those whose names have been sug gested for the office of Attorney-Ger eral is that of Hon. Charles R. Buck alew, and his appointment would be a source of great gratification not only to the people of this county, but all over the State. The fact that Columbia county stands sixth in the list of forty-eight counties that gave Pattison pluralities, gives us no special claim. But as we present a gentleman whose reputation as a lawyer and statesman extends throughout the Union, hi appointment would be considered as a recognition of the ability of a great man, as well as of the staunch Democracy of this county, which through good report and evil report, have stood by their colors. The selection of Mr. Buckalew would meet with universal approval, and the confidence of the people would be still further assured to the new administration, by the knowl-edge that the business of the chief law officer of the state is intrusted in the hands of such a man. Other able lawyers have also been named for the position, and it is sure that whoever receives the appointment will be fully competent to discharge its duties, yet we know of no man in the State who possesses the necessary qualifications to a greater degree than does the Hon. Charles R. Buckalew.

President's Message.

THE ABOLITION OF ALL TAXES TO BE RE QUESTED EXCEPT THOSE ON TOBACCO AND DISTILLED LIQUORS.

It is believed in Washington that Commissioner Raum in his annual report will recommend such a reduction in internal revenue taxes as will leave the aggregate income of the government from this source about $100,000, 000 per annum. It is known that the President, while he is firmly opposed to any proposition looking to the abolition, at this time, of the entire internal revenue system, believes that the time has come when substantial relief can safely be accorded the tax issues of the country, and that a portion of this relief should come from the reduction of internal revenue taxation. With this view the members of the Cabinet are in entire accord, and the President in his forthcoming message to Congress will recommend the abolition of all internal revenue taxes except those on tobacco in its various forms and upon distilled spirits and fermented liquors, and except also the special tax upon the manufacturers and lealers in such articles, with a reduction in the tax upon whisky and passed the House of Representatives at the last session of Congress. The retention of the special tax is deemed essential to afford the officers of the governabout $100,000,000 per annum. Any further reduction on internal revenue sociated with you as your secretaries than the proposed would compel the for their valuable contribution in achievgovernment to rely almost entirely ing the victory. upon import duties for its necessary income and would render any revision or Pattison's generous expressions, Mr. reduction of tariff duties dangerous if Hensel says: ey that would create such contingency and will in his forthcoming message urge upon Congress the importance of immediate revision of the tariff with a view to reducing the aggregate income of the government to such an amount as is absolutely required to meet the interest on the public debt and the current and ordinary expenses of the government.

Sees by large pluralities, the poll for yourself of 38,000 more votes than were ever before cast for a Democratic candidate of the loss, and eventually won the fight. He had no doubt that his son would do the same.

Dismissed From Service

The president has directed the removal of Charles E. Henry, marshall of the District of Columbia (D. B. Ainger, post-master, and Myron M. Parker, as charges made by the attorney general and Colonel Bliss with having interferred with the ends of justice in cor nection with the Star route trials. Thomas Beaver of Danville, has These offices will all be filled immedi ately, so that there may be no interrup tion to the public service. To prevent any possible embarrassment in the affairs of the marshall's office the suspension of that officer will be withheld until his successor is appointed. In his report to the president Attorney General Brewster says that it is his opinion that the ends of justice have enth congress, will convene on the first Monday of December, and terminate Spending the People's Money.

The latest sensation in Washington is over the newly furnished and decora-ted rooms of Attorney General Brewster in the Department of Justice. The furniture and decorations have all been made from designs specially prepared for Messrs. W. B. Moses & Son of that city, in pursuance of an order from Attorney General Brewster himself, with carte blanche to make the rooms perfect. The principal room, the one used by the Attorney General to trans act official business, is furnished with ebony chairs and lounges covered with the finest moroeco leather, and said to be the most elegant and costly suit of furniture in Washington. The centre table, designed and made to order, is a gem of its kind. Although measuring only six feet by four, it cost $100. The smaller tables are also elegantly furnished, and strictly in keeping with the central one.

The carpet in this room, consisting of a Turkish rug, cost the Government $1,200. To walk upon it makes one imagine himself to be treading on down. To complete this there is also a rich, fleecy rug costing $150.

But the most gorgeous adornments in this room are the curtains. They are made of the finest silk plush, rich and dazzling in texture; lined and interlined with fine Turkish satine, with cardinal cords and tassels. The brass rods, holders, and other accessories are equally elaborate in pattern, and were especially designed for the Department of Justice. There are four windows in this, and, as the price paid for each pair of curtains was $300,the cost is $1,200 for curtains alone.

The Attorney-General's private office, his sanctum sanctorum, is certainly remarkable for splendor and elegance. Turkish carpet and rugs, handsome Oriental furniture covered with French velours, with silk plush trimernor-elect Pattison ought not to be hampered in any way, and if we understand his character he will not be dictated to, nor influenced by appeals from any quarter that ask for the appointment of this one and that one, because they are good party workers, because they are good party workers, are given to these offices, making them or to repay them for services rendered are given to these offices, making them in the campaign. Whoever he selects what he designed they should be, the as his assistants and advisers will be cost will reach $10,000. But to whose Self out of the range of Cabinet honors. It is hinted that he would have accept- Gartz and two others. The bodies ed the Attorney Generalship, but not the Secretaryship. There is a matter of four thousand dollars difference in the salary of the two positions-the Secretaryship being worth including fees, about $7,000 per annum, and the Attorney Generalship, $11,000.

The latest rumor that is rapidly crys talizing into Democratic belief, is that Ex-Congressman William S. Stenger of Chambersburg, is likely to be ten dered the Secretaryship of the Com-monwealth, and that the Attorney Generalship oscillates between Lewis C. Cassidy, of this city, Charles R. Buckalew, of Columbia, and George A. Jenks, of Jefferson. All are strong and experienced lawyers. There i formidable opposition to Cassidy in his own party in this city, and all the Sen-atorial candidates for 1885 would look with suspicion upon his appointment to the Pattison Cabinet. Mr. Cassidy has not avowed his desire to be appointed and it is possible that he may solve the problem by declining altogether, in which case it is believed that Bucka lew would have more than an even chance for winning.— Times. Pattison Thanks Hensel.

RARY DEPRESSION The iron manufacturers of Pittsburg in general do not agree with eastern sistant post master, for the city of washington; M. D. Helm, foreman of manufacturers who are disposed to inthe Congressional Record, and George E. Spencer, director of the Union Pacific railroad company, upon charges made have a large number of the most prominent manufacturers were interbreak. The mills there are all doing a fair business and while none are rushed with orders every pound of iron now being manufactured is being consumed. The nail trade is generally dull at this period but now on the contrary the nail manufacturers are very busy and plenty of orders coming in. In regard to the Bessemer scare a prominent manu-facturer stated that there was a good profit in Bessemer rails at forty cents per ton, reports to the contrary not withstanding, and that the rails could be made for $32, leaving $8 of a margin for profit. B. F. Keating, Vice-President of the Iron Association speaking on the same subject, says the Bessemer men had made large profits, but now when an over production had come, they find their profits lessened and their first object is to reduce the price of labor. In order to do this they are endeavoring to show that the entire bottom has dropped out of the business.

Another point they have is to influence legislation and prevent any further reduction of rates on steel rails.

HOW ENGINEER MELVILLE FOUND THE BOD 1ES OF DELONG AND HIS COMPANIONS.

Chief Engineer Melville resumed his narrative before the Jeannette Board of Enquiry, describing the final expedition which resulted in finding the bodies of De Long and his companions. In the first place it was necessary to travel to Jamavalock in quest of provisions, as the Russian traders, having learned of the expedition, had bought up all the fish. With Ninderman and the interpreter, Mr. Melville then pro-ceeded to Usterda. He was anxious to find the hut in which Erricksen had died, but after two days of ineffectual search he was compelled by a storm to return to Kaskarta. When the storm cleared up witness started Bartlett with his party to Matvai, with instructions to work northward, while witness would work from the northward to the southward. After several days of travel Mr. Melville found some sticks stuck in the sand and a Remington rifle fastened to the sticks. Some distance further he found the dead bodies of Captain De Long, Dr. Ambler and Ah Sam, the cook, buried in the snow. Captain De Long's arm extended out of the snow. Just behind De Long were two ice hooks, as though he had tried to throw them as far as possible upon high ground. A fire had been built at the spot. Ninderman helped Mr. Mel-ville pry up the bodies, which were frozen in the snow. Upon rolling the body of Dr. Ambler over, witness found under it the pistol which Captain De Long had carried upon his person all through the march. The pistol had apparently been held in Dr. Ambler's right hand. This led witness to Postage Free to all subscribers in the Unit

Soon the men engaged in digging threw out a box of books, some cooking utensils, etc., and after a while exposed the shoulders of a Dr. Ambler, and that the latter had speculation is rife among the Demo- in digging threw out a box of ninistration is to be organized. Silks of all sorts have come; and never were silks more acceptable. And these words have a meaning here beyond any they could have clsewhere; because of the greater variety of wants that look to us for supply. We must have all accepted styles, and all the approved qualities of those styles; and, as to colors, can you think of one that we can do without? A store that has only one c'ass of trade can get along with comparatively few silks. Which stock would you rather biry out of?

Two damask towels at 15 and 18 cents may serve to show what we gain by buying of the makers. The very same towels are in the wholesale trade in New York at about 21 and 22 cents, which means at least 25 cents at

We are not going to say that all our retail prices are below New York wholesale; nothing of the sort. "More" than one swallow to make a summer," But where such towels are to be got for 15 cents is a good place to look for bed and table-linen, and all the other linens. That's what we mean exactly; it's true, too.

Outer circle City hall square entrance. A very wide and surprisingly good navy-blue twilled flannel for 50 cents; 45-inch. Do you remember a 35cent flannel for 25 cents, of which we had 18,000 yards last fall? Afterward we got 7,000 yards more of it; and a little of it is left yet. That is 23-inch. This wide flannel is fully as good as that. Tidel circle, southeast from center.

All the warmer sorts of underwear are ready; for men, women and children; thick-cotton, merino, wool, and silk. All the sorts needed for all sorts of people with all sorts of notions; and, for people who want it, there is quite a little wit about underwear to be picked up at the counter. Where else would you look for it? Not in books surely; for goods are changing all the time; and so get ahead of books.
