The taxidermist of Lehigh University at Bethlehem is at work stuffing a snowy owl or harfang shot near Seneca recently. This species of the owl is a native of the Arctic regions and is seldom found so far south. Its presence here is said to be a sure indication of a hard winter. The harfang is white, with very small brown spots on the back and wings. The wings measure over four feet from tip to tip.

The present situation in regard to the depression in the iron industry does not seem to worry in the least the capitalists of Danville. The Latest Swindler. The newspapers have unearthed another swindle which took place in a neighboring county lately, and a farmer, as usual, the victim. This time a fellow comes along driving a shining rig, and sells carpets by the sample. He offers a three-ply ingrain at 27 1/2 cents. The farmer selects the pattern he wants, the agent writes out the number of yards and the price; the farmer signs the order (Y) and the next week he has a note in the bank to pay and he never sees or hears of a carpet man again.

On Tuesday of last week a convention was held in the Opera House, in the interest of the constitutional amendment movement. There were representatives from Berwick, Briar Creek, Bloomsburg, Catawissa, Centre, Greenwood, Hemlock, Mt. Pleasant, Madison, Orange and Scott. The delegations from Berwick, Greenwood, Catawissa and Bloomsburg were quite large. The permanent officers of the convention were: President, Rev. W. M. Evans of Berwick; Vice-Presidents, Rev. S. Mitchell, D. D. of Bloomsburg; Mr. E. M. Tewksbury of Catawissa; Rev. A. N. Spear of Centre; Secretaries, Mr. C. H. Zelandor of Berwick; Rev. F. P. Manhart of Bloomsburg; Treasurer, Mr. Aaron Smith of Hemlock. An executive committee, composed of one member from each voting district, was elected. This committee organized by electing M. P. Lutz of Bloomsburg, Chairman, Dr. Schuyler of Bloomsburg, Secretary and A. W. Spear of Centre, Treasurer. The convention resolved that this executive committee and their officers should constitute the officers of the Columbia County Prohibition Amendment Association auxiliary to the state association of the same name. The afternoon session was devoted entirely to business. There were about 225 persons present.

The evening meeting was attended by a large audience. Rev. Dr. Mitchell presided and made a brief address, Rev. M. L. Snyder also spoke briefly but emphatically in support of the proposed amendment. Mrs. Anne Witmer of Philadelphia presided dressed the convention for more than an hour. Her address was a very able one. Her friends are justified in saying that she, Mrs. Foster and Miss Willard constitute a trio of American women, unequalled in eloquence and in successful work for humanity. One of the results of the convention will be a thorough canvass of the county for signatures to a petition in behalf of the proposed amendment.

Thursday evening, November 23, 1882, Daniel Fiedt, the oldest man in our township, died at the ripe old age of 84 years, 11 months, 13 days. Many of his friends of the deceased followed his remains to his final resting place in the Berean cemetery, near the brick church, Sunday morning. Though he had no children he had been a fatherly friend to several young men who will ever stand ready to testify to his hospitality, kindness and inestimable worth. Among others was the Hon. A. J. Dietrich of Wilkesbarre, who found a home under the hospitable roof of this generous man, from infancy until he arrived at the age of about 18 years. It was Judge Dietrich that the deceased said a short time ago—"Aaron was my best boy."

Opening of the N. & W. B. Railroad.

EXCURSION TO WILKESBARRE. After many years of adversity the North & West Branch railroad is at last completed, and was formally opened on Thursday last week, by an excursion from Wilkesbarre to Sunbury and return, which was participated in by about 500 people living along the route. The excursion was under the management of Rev. D. J. Waller, Charles Parrish and H. W. Palmer, the committee on invitations, and everything was done by them that tended to the convenience and enjoyment of their guests. The train left Wilkesbarre at 8 o'clock in the morning with about 250 gentlemen, and it arrived at Sunbury, arriving at about 11 o'clock. Here the party was largely augmented. Shortly after 11 o'clock the return trip was begun, and at Danville, Catawissa, Bloomsburg, Berwick, and other points delegations were taken up, and the six coaches of which the train was composed, were filled to overflowing. The new road follows the river on the left hand side, and the scenery from the cars cannot be surpassed anywhere. It was a subject of common remark that the track was as smooth as any old road, which speaks well for the contractors, the Messrs. Collins. The day was all that could be desired, and the trip was made to Wilkesbarre in good time, when the excursionists repaired to the Wyoming Valley House at partook of an elegant collation. After the wine had been fully discussed, Dr. W. H. Bradley, of the Wilkesbarre Board called the meeting to order and stated that a series of resolutions relating to the occasion had been prepared, and he moved that they be read by J. K. Bogert, of the Wilkesbarre Board. Mr. Bogert stepped forward and read the resolutions as follows:

The Long Evenings.

HOW SHALL THEY BE PASSED TO THE PROFIT OF THE YOUNG. That the long evenings of winter drag heavily upon the young, every one who has any recollection of his boyhood will admit. The young man will find means of amusement either at home or abroad. The social nature of the young cannot be ignored, but should be taken advantage of to inculcate good practices, if the development of bad ones would be avoided. There are thousands of young men who can just as well be trained up into the paths of virtue, honor and industry, as to be allowed to be caught in the meshes of the vice and dissolute. It is not that young men want to cut upon a questionable life; but there is an excessive restlessness in their make up, which cannot be controlled by compelling them to sit at home in the evening mulling their brains, or reading long dissertations on religious subjects, or listening to tedious lectures on moral questions. If mothers would rear their sons, says Appleton's Journal, so that their homes are associated with the repression of natural instincts, they will be sure to throw them in the society that in any measure can supply the need of their hearts. They will not go to the public houses, at first, for love of liquor; very few people like the taste of liquor; they go for the animated and hilarious companionship they find there, which they discover does so much to repress the disturbing restlessness in their breasts. See to it, then, that their homes compete in attractiveness with public places. Open your blinds by day and light bright fires at night. Illuminate your rooms; hang pictures upon the wall. Put books and newspapers upon your table. Have music and entertaining games. Banish demons of dullness and apathy that have so long ruled in your household, and bring in mirth and good cheer. Invent occupations for your sons. Stimulate their ambitions in every direction. Make your make home their delight, fill them with higher purposes than mere pleasure. Whether they shall pass happy boyhood, and enter upon manhood with refined tastes and noble ambitions, depends on you. Do not blame others if your sons miscarry. Believe it possible that with exertion and right means, a mother may have more control over the destiny of her boys than any other influence whatever.

When ladies are attractive. All ladies look their faces are most attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Kidney Pills will cure you of them, because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

Very Crooked.—The crookedest of crooked work, and yet that which has grace and elegance in every crook, may be seen in the Noyes Dictionary Holders and Noyes Handy Tables. In them the facts clearly demonstrate that if an inventor has not made the crooked straight he has made the straight crooked, and thereby increased its beauty and utility. People in search of holiday presents will appreciate his success. A fine illustrated circular may be had free by addressing L. W. Noyes, 90 West Monroe St., Chicago. The prices have been greatly reduced.

Some of the gentlemen connected with the new railroad had a banquet at the Exchange Hotel on Tuesday evening, prior to their final departure from this place. A number of their friends were invited, and a very pleasant evening was spent. The supper was one of those for which the Exchange has become famous, and everything was served in the highest style of the culinary art. There are but few hotels in the state that can surpass this one, and very few landlords that are more popular than Mr. Tuttle's.
