Centre Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Barton, of Lime Ridge, gave a very pleasant wedding party at the marriage of their eldest daughter, Laura, to John H. Alkman, on Thursda, afternoon, December 28th, 1882. The mar riage ceremony was performed in the parlors of the Barton Homestead in the presyears of age. The funeral was held on ence of about seventy-five guests, all relatives and particular friends of the bride and groom. Miss Edith Barton, only sister of the bride, and Miss Clara Aikman, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaids.

groomsmen were Myron I. Low, of Lime Ridge and H. V. White of Bloomsburg. Promptly at 21 o'clock the piano pealed forth a beautiful wedding march and the bridal party appeared at the side entrance to the rear parlor, passed to the fron of the first parlor, and formed a semi circle tacing the minister, who stood in the centre of the room, and the parents of the bride and groom, who were scated at either side.

Rev. J. Horning officiated, joining this happy couple in the bonds of holy wedlock. adopting the ring ceremony to make the nuptial knot doubly secure.

The bride looked lovely, robed in a beau tiful sult of cream colored nun's veiling, cut entraine, and the groom appeared remarkably well in a suit of conventional black, The bridesmaids and groomsmen were dressed in suits to match in style and color these of the bride and groom. The only ornaments were neat bouquets of natural flowers worn by each. Miss Barton carried a very beautiful bouquet of cut flowers that she presented to the bride immediately after the ceremony.

After the usual congratulations the brida party and guests partook of the delicious viands served in great abundance. All
