BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1883.

The Philadelphia politicians ought to be able to keep the wolf from the door during the coming year. They do not seem to be failed at the philadelphia politicians ought to during the coming year. They do not seem to be faring at all badly at Har risburg. After the third Tuesday of The second view regards Philadelphia will have the January Governor, the Attorney General, the Governor's Private Secretary, the Pres-convulsion. It is based, wittingly or Governor, the Attorney General, the Governor's Private Secretary, the Pres-ident of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, the Secretary of Internal Af-fairs till next May, the Major General commanding the militia, and possibly the Adjutant General. The Democratic State Committee will meet next Monday at Harrisburg.

It will choose an executive committee of seven, either inside or outside of the membership of the general com-mittee to corduct the next campaign. It will also elect a permanent Secretary who will be paid a salary and have an office at Harrisburg. The Committee will name the time and place for holding the next State Convention which will nominate a candidate for State Treasurer and Auditor General. In whole number of delegates in the convention will be 856.

The Adjutant Generalship.

Governor Pattison has tendered to Colonel Guthrie the office of Adjutant General of the State and the tender has been accepted. It is understood that this appointment was made without solicitation upon the part of the gentleman thus complimented and he will enter upon his duties with the incoming administration absolutely free from any alliances of an entangling nature. Colonel Guthrie served in the Union army during the whole length of the war and distinguished himself and won rapid promotion by personal courage and meritorious service. He identified their granges and trades unions, in ferred to were no practical good to the their industrial leagues and commer people and unprofitable to their owners, rapid promotion by personal courage elf with the National Guard at an early period of its development by en-listing as a private. He has been ad-vanced by regular gradations until the welfare. Even the primary meeting, attainment of his present position as colonel of the Eighteenth Regiment.

Gov. Hoyt's Message. The concluding portion of the Gov-ernor's message has been criticised in certain quarters becase he alludes to the present political situation in terms that do not suit the stalwart idea. We publish it that our readers may judge it for themselves. He says : In Pennsylvauia the people have determined upon a change. What does this decision mean? To this question three answers are proposed :

FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1883.The funeral of M. Gambetta tookplace in Paris last Saturday, and wasa very imposing affair.Col. Polk, the State Treasurer ofTennescee, has absconded, and theState is short a half million of dollars.The Civil service reform bill haspassed both houses of congress. The second view regards the recent overturn as a mere caprice of mobile hope for the perpetuity of our institu-tions, and for that magnificent indus-trial and political development which is the staple of our noblest daydreams. But the third view is more hopeful cherish it, argue that thousands of our best citizens, relieved of the pressure of national anxieties, and unwilling to for national anxieties, and unwining to live forever in the past, are beginning to study the nature and details of State and municipal government as never before; are awaking to the busi-ness and scientific character of political ness and scientific character of political Treasurer and Author Connection the Democracy of each that Convention the Democracy of each county will, under the new rules, be represented by one delegate for each one thousand votes cast for Puttison and one for the surplus if it amounts to over five hundred votes. This gives Columbia county four delegates, as content with automatic activity in politics; they demand a conscious share in this noblest pursuit of intelli gent men. The people have come to claim their own without the intervenstring them with wires in utter disre-gard of the laws of the state. It has tion of middlemen.

If this view be correct, then the ocbeen said that the Western Union Telcupation of the professional politician is gone. He belongs to a doomed fact that it constructs public necessiegraph Company is beneficial in the species ; ne has outlived the only envities. I say it does not construct, but species; he has outlived the only envi-ronment adapted to his nourishment, and must shortly pass away. That this is true, is indicated by our lineage, our traditions and the character of our recent progress. We are the descen-dants of men who defied kings and parliaments; we are the children of men who destroyed the congressional descention of the companies construct, but lets other companies construct and, as soon as they reach competitive dimen-sions, buys them in utter violation of their powers.
