

A Strange Reminiscence.

THE ESCAPE OF A WELL-KNOWN EX-ARMY SURGEON FROM AN INFAMOUS SEEN DANGER.

Messrs. Editors: I seldom appear publicly in print, but the facts connected with my experience which follows are so striking, and bear so closely upon the experience of others, that I venture to reproduce them entire.

In the month of September, 1879, I was practicing medicine in New Orleans. The summer had been excessively hot and everybody was complaining of being exhausted and feeling tired. It was not an unfrequent occurrence to have patients ask for something to relieve this weary sensation, and that should also partake of some universal lassitude or weakness, did not alarm me. I supposed that over work and exposure had produced a temporary physical prostration; there fore I made a trip to St. Paul, Minn., thinking that a rest of a few weeks in a cooler climate would soon reinvigorate me. Little did I dream, however, what was in store for me. After getting settled in my new quarters I took a short walk every day, and patiently awaited a return of strength, but in spite of all my efforts I seemed to be losing strength and even my slight exertions became laborious and troublesome. During this time I had frequent dull aching pains in my head, and through my back and hips, occasional shooting pains in various parts of the body, with soreness, shortness of breath, and palpitation of the heart. My feet and hands would be like lead, and my bowels would be constipated. I had no desire for food, and what I did eat distressed me; my sleep became disturbed with the frequent desire to urinate. The quantity of fluid passed would at one time be quite profuse. Then for days I would be perfectly free from this distress and nothing seemed to be the matter; nevertheless my debility gradually increased. My eyelids were puffed out; my bowels were alternately torpid and too active, the urine would be clear some days, on others it would be of a high color and contain much sediment, and at all times there would be a whitish appearance and a thin greasy seam would rise to the top. The pains in my head, back, chest, joints, bowels and bones were horrible in the extreme. I went in vain from place to place and consulted the best medical authorities the country afforded. I would have a chill one day and a burning fever the next. I suffered excruciatingly with a numbness of my feet and hands, and at the base of the brain and between my shoulders; at times my limbs and body would blot and physicians said I was suffering from the dropsy and could not recover. How I could be so blind to the terrible trouble that was devouring me, I do not know; but there are thousands to-day who are suffering from the same cause and are ignorant of its nature as I was. My skin was the color of marble at one time and of a yellowish brown at another. I was told that I would be like saffron, and this terrible restlessness, and I might say wildness, was followed by a dull, heavy, drowsy sensation. I was wasted to a mere skeleton except when the dropsical bloom occurred. I tried all the celebrated mineral waters which are known in Europe; all kinds of medicine and all kinds of doctors. Still no help came. I lay at my hotel in Philadelphia, where I was temporarily sojourning, given up to die by friends and physicians alike, when there providentially came into my hands a little pamphlet which I carefully read and from which I got a view of my real condition, which no other agency had revealed. Acting on its advice, I had my water analyzed at once, and to my surprise, albumen and tube casts were found in large quantities. A medical physician was sent for and apprised of the facts. He said I had Bright's Disease, and that death was certain. My friends importuned me to take a remedy which had won a great reputation for the cure of all forms of kidney diseases, and I therefore lay aside my prejudice and commenced its use. After my stomach each rejected it and I had to use small quantities; but after the first five days my stomach retained full doses. This was one year ago last October, and my improvement was rapid and permanent. I have regained 50 of the 65 pounds of flesh I lost before, and I feel as well to-day as I ever did, and I can unreservedly state that my life was saved by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the remedy I used.

It may seem strange that I, being a physician and an expert surgeon, did not have the water analyzed before; but such is the fact. I had the symptoms of every other disease, and I did not suspect that my kidneys were in the least particular out of order; and here is just where I was in the greatest danger, and where most people who read this article are in danger. I find that I am only one of thousands who are suffering from kidney disorders, which, neglected, surely terminate in Bright's disease. I also know that physicians may treat these disorders for months without knowing clearly what the trouble is, and even after success has been obtained, it is unable to prevent it. When death, however, finally overtakes the helpless victim they disguise its real cause, attributing it to heart disease, convulsions, apoplexy, vertigo, paralysis, spinal meningitis, blood and uræmic poisoning, etc.

Words, of course, fail to express my thanks to H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., for giving the world such a needed and certain specific as the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, but such as they are I gladly give them; while to the thousands to whom I have lectured upon the laws of health and hygiene I commend this letter most cordially, and warn them to beware of the insidious nature of a disease over which in one form or another, is carrying more people to untimely graves than any other malady.

J. M. PORTER, M. D., Baltimore, Md., 94 Saratoga street.

FOR THE HAIR.—One dram of carbolic acid, six drops of oil of lavender, and two and a-half ounces of olive oil formed the perscription which proved effective in destroying a parasitic infestation of the mite of a gentleman who consulted Dr. George Thoms, London, England. The hair had fallen out, and a sort of baldness occurred in spots, but after the application of the remedy the hair grew again as thick and healthy as before the parasites had attacked it.

HONORABLE MENTION.

Of all the remedies on earth that will claim attention, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil commands especial mention. For wounds, sores, to cure disease, its fame there is none can throttle. Its merits are not in the puff, but are inside the bottle. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, diphtheria, etc. are all cured by Thomas' Electric Oil.

"Sometimes I wonder what a mean man thinks about when he goes to bed." says Bartlett in the Huckley. "When he turns out the light and lies down. When the darkness closes in about him and he is alone, and compelled to be honest with himself. And not a bright thought, not a generous impulse, not a manly act, not a word of blessing, not a grateful look, nor a blessing prayer. No! he only drops into the unstrutted palm of poverty, nor the balm of a loving word dropped into an aching heart; no sunbeam of encouragement cast upon a struggling life; no strong right hand of fellowship reached out to help some fallen neighbor. No! he thinks of these things to him as the 'God bless you' of the departed day, how he must hate himself. How he must try to roll away from himself and sleep on the other side of the bed. When the only victory he can think of is some mean victory in which he has wronged a neighbor. No! he wonders what he sneers when he tries to smile. How pure and fair and good all the rest of the world must look to him and how cheerless and dusty and dreary must his own path appear. Why, even one lone, isolated act of meanness is enough to smother his heart. No! he must be the average, ordinary man, and what must be the feelings of a man whose whole life is given up to mean acts? When there is so much suffering and headache and misery in the world anyhow, why should you add one pound of wickedness or sadness to the general burden? I don't know, my boy. Suffer for injustice a thousand times rather than commit it once.

USE OF THE HAND HOE.—With the introduction of the horse-cultivator the hand hoe went out of use on most Western farms. More work could be done with the cultivator, and it could be done with greater ease. The more the cultivator was improved the more farmers became attached to it, and the greater was their reluctance to handle the hoe. At present the implement that has been used so long and to better advantage than any other in the cultivation of crops is generally discarded on Western farms. Indeed, many market gardeners manage to raise most of their vegetables without using the hoe to any considerable extent. The horse-cultivator is certainly a very desirable implement to employ in both the field and the garden, but its use should be supplemented by that of the hand hoe. It is profitable to continue the use of the hoe in every garden and cultivated field. Work can be performed with it that can not be done with any implement drawn by a horse. The hoe should be used in every corn and potato field before the cultivator is put in operation. It should be employed to remove stones, turfs and pieces of hard earth that may be over the plants that are making their appearance above ground, and to stir the soil around them. The cultivator is excellent for working the ground between hills, but for cultivating the hill itself there is no implement like hand hoe. It is very difficult to keep a field devoted to any cultivated crop entirely clean of grass and weeds without using the hoe. A field that has been worked at least once with a hand hoe is always more productive than one that has been tended with the cultivator alone. The truth is, the former performs some work which the latter cannot do.—Chicago Times.

LIKE FOR HEN-HOUSES.—Through the summer months the hen-house should have had a thorough cleaning out once or twice. Before cold weather set in, if there are any doubts as to the cleanliness of the house, it should be treated with a little kerosene, to remove all the droppings from the house, and sweep the floor clean. Then sprinkle air-slaked lime and ashes thickly thereon. Wash all the perches (after all patches of manure have been scraped off) with boiling lime whitewash, put on with an old brush, and carefully worked and rubbed into the cracks, being careful to cover every part of the roost thoroughly. Lime is the greatest cleanser and purifier known. Any one at all acquainted with insects would not for a moment think of working them, but with brimstone. A thorough cleaning must be gone through with twice each year. After the floor is cleaned, the siding, nest-boxes, perches, and every appearance belonging to the inner building, must be thoroughly whitewashed before a residence of the pests can be expected. Their food, whitewash, and delight and revel in filth. Use strong, unleached wood ashes, if they can be had, and keep the floor dry and covered with them. If not, employ quick lime. If the droppings are dried up immediately, their living is gone.

Remember, if you want health and strength of mind and muscle, use Brown's Iron Bitters.

RICH WAFFLES.—Rich waffles, which are simply delicious for breakfast, must be started the day before you wish to eat them; that is, the rice must be boiled. A good way to accomplish this is to make a rice pudding to-day and reserve half a cup of the cooked rice for to-morrow's waffles. To this quantity add a pint of sweet milk, the yolks of three eggs, two ounces of butters (or a good sized lump) and a little salt. Mix half a teaspoonful of soda with one pint of flour, beat these all together a d dake in waffle iron in hot oven.

SPONGE CAKE.—One pint of sugar, one pint of flour, seven eggs—the whites and yolks beaten separately—one teaspoonful and a half of lemon extract; stir the flour in a little at a time, put the whites of the eggs in a beating them thoroughly in. Bake in a long, narrow tin; line it with white paper, the sides as well as the bottom. You are then sure to have no trouble about taking it from the tin.

THE NEW GEOGRAPHY.—How many farmers are there in the United States? 4,038,997. How many dwellings in city and country? 8,955,812. Which State has the most farms, and how many? Illinois, with 255,741. What is the total number of farm animals? 1,897,979. What do they comprise, and the number of each? Swine, 47,683,651; sheep, 35,191,245; milch cows, 12,443,953; working oxen, 994,970; other cattle, 22,488,599; horses, 10,357,981; mules and asses, 1,512,932.

UNIVERSAL ANTIPOY.—By the community at large has been given to Bardock Blood Bitters. No instance is known where dissatisfaction has been manifested by their use, or where ought to benefit followed their administration. Price $1.00.

EFFECT OF NOT EATING.

About four months ago, Peter Lappan, a resident of London, Ontario, was shot through the center of the body by a comrade who was carelessly handling a revolver. The doctors were of the opinion that the wound was mortal, and it was evident that the ball had passed through the body, but the stomach ought to be, and the chances were that a vital part had been pierced. But the man, contrary to all expectations, recovered, and now comes the explanation of the cause of his remarkable escape from death. It appears that prior to the shooting Lappan had fasted for thirty-six hours, and as a result his organs of digestion were shrunken and drawn out of the chest cavity. It makes the course of the bullet. Had he eaten a breakfast that morning, or even supper on the night before, he was a dead man.

A FAVORITE FISH.

A Russian correspondent says that sterlet is the favorite fish in St. Petersburg. Frozen sterlet is cheap, but fresh sterlet is very dear. The fish is caught in the Volga, and, if intended to be sent alive to St. Petersburg, during winter, it makes the journey in water artificially warmed. When the guests bidden to the feast arrive, the sterlet is shown to them swimming in water; then it is taken out, killed and cooked. So costly is it that it is estimated that a plate of sterlet soup is worth about one pound.

WIFE-SELLING.

The Brighton Herald of May 27, 1890, states that the Brighton Market Book records: "May 17, 1890, Mr. Hilton, of Lode-worth, publicly sold his wife for 30s., upon which the sale of the wife." The wife came to the knowledge of the magistrate, who sent for the collector to justify his strange conduct in charging toll; when he at once referred the bench to the market by-laws: "Any article not enumerated in the by-laws pays one shilling."—Notes and Queries.
