THE COLUMBIAN.

G. E. Elwell, J. K. Bittenbender,, } Editors.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1883.

The administration is in trouble. The President's Stalwart friends seem to be going back on him. Why is this thus?

The City Council of Meadville, has exempted from taxation for city purposes for ten years any manufactories that will invest $5,000 or more in factory buildings.

The Star Route tirals still drag along at Washington. The evidence is all in and the counsel for the defendants are endeavoring to talk the jury to death, which appears to be about the only way to prevent a conviction.

The Millheim Journal believes that General Hancock is the only man in the country who can lead the Democrats to victory in 1884. The New York Sun thinks Tilden is the man. We do not agree with either of them. We believe that any sound Democrat of national reputation, with a square tariff record can be elected.

There was a prize fight in New York, on Monday evening between Sullivan and Mitchell which resulted in another victory for Sullivan. There was three rounds fought. About 10,000 people witnessed the fighting, among whom were Chas. A. Dana and Roscoe Conkling, who had seats reserved for members of the press. The gate receipts were about $10,000, sixty per cent, of which went to the winner and forty per cent to the loser.

The law and order committee of Wilkes Barre, last Saturday ordered all the saloons, two hundred and fifty in all, to be closed on Sunday; and have officers stationed to see that the law was enforced. The liquor dealers entered complaint as to the cigar stores and they were ordered to be closed also. There is now a bitter feeling between the liquor dealers and cigar stores. The latter declaring that they will see that the Sunday liquor law is rigidly enforced.

With a Republican administration at Washington, plenty of protection tariff, and everything else that the Republican party claimed during the last Presidential Campaign was necessary for the prosperity of the nation there is not as much activity in the business of the country as there ought to be. The great cry of that party in the Garfield fight was that if a Democratic President should be elected it would be followed by hard times. Now let them give us the promised prosperity or acknowledge themselves unfit to govern a free people.

Chairman Hensel, of the state Committee, in a letter to the Jefferson Democratic Association of York, speaks as follows of the importance of such organizations:

My present official concern for the most nearly perfect organization of the Democratic party in the State, will justify me in expressing the high estimate which I set upon the influence of a network of such associations as yours. If these organizations were extended throughout the State their rolls would represent a great body of its most intelligent and active Democrats, whose united thought and action could not fail to powerfully and beneficially influence the sentiment of the party. The effect would be to educate speakers and writers who could appeal with conviction to the individual judgment of the voters at a time, like this, when in the reaction against political "bosses" and "machines" the power of such appeal to common sense and common honesty is greatly heightened.

PATTISON AND McCLURE.

Ever since the inauguration of Governor Pattison, the Philadelphia Times has been villifying him for appointing William B. Smith recorder of Philadelphia. A few days ago Col. McClure got himself interviewed by a New York Herald reporter, and in response to that the Governor has made public the following letter:

THE TIMES.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.

MY DEAR GOV.

Upon reflection I think you were right in the suggestion to appoint a recorder at once and an Ind. Republican and I was wrong in suggesting delay for legislative action. I write merely to say that upon full consideration I think your suggestion entirely right.

YOURS &c.,
A. K. MCCLURE.

The Patriot thus comments upon it:

It is a complete answer to all that McClure says on the subject of the recorder. It convicts him before the country of deliberate falsification. It proves him unworthy of trust, and makes anything he may say against the governor in the future absolutely harmless. It proves that every step the Governor took, in the matter of the recorder, met with McClure's fullest commendation and approval. It demonstrates that McClure believed the governor had the right to remove the exciting recorder, a right which he now denies. It shows, also, that he approved of the appointment of an independent republican to the office, in advance of any legislative action looking to its abolition, through, in the columns of his paper, he has presistently denounced the governor on this very ground. In short, it proves that all for which the governor has been criticised by McClure in the Times was unequivocally, fully —nay, almost abjectly—assented to by the same McClure in private. All Mr. McClure may say, hereafter, against Governor Pattison will he as harmless as the bleating of a sheep or the braying of an ass. The Ananias of Pennsylvania journalism will be known in history as Colonel A. K. McClure.

As to Governor Pattison, he is to be congratulated. He remained silent a long time nader criticism which he knew to be false and when he might, in a moment, have silenced his accuser. He has, at last, spoken, and spoken opportunely as well as effectually. He has completely disposed of Col. McClure. He has no more to fear from that quarter. In the story of Ananias in Holy Writ these questions are asked; "Why hath satan filled thine heart to lie?" "Why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart?" And in the sequel it is recorded, "And Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and gave up the ghost." "And the young men arose, bound him up, and carried him out and buried him."

How the President is Deserted.

The wail again rises from Washington that the President's Stalwart friends have deserted him. It is shown that Conkling, Logan, Crowly and Harrison have from time to time withdrawn their valuable support. All but Crowly quit because they didn't get as much consideration or as many offices as they wanted. The western New York statesman, who is the excepted, left because he couldn't have a night key to the White House, together with the privilege of waking the President at all hours of the day or night.

But in spite of the fact that Conkling didn't want Folger nominated, that Logan was somewhat disappointed because his son-in-law could not have the Zuni Reservation, that Gresham was made Postmaster General and Woods Judge, regardless of Harrison, and that Crowley actually vowed he would never again set foot in the White House—in spite of all these facts, the President has actually been able to keep the country going and has taken a considerable fishing excursion beside.

This has probably been a great surprise to these recalcitrant statesmen, and will discourage their compatriots from breaking off their relations with the President until they are assured that their strike will be successful. This ought not, however, to have the slightest effect upon the proprietor of the late Keim incident.—Times.

A Defense of Pattison's Administration.

From the Doylestown Democrat.

Some of the Republican newspapers charge, that the desire of buncombe is at the bottom of Gov. Pattison's reform policy. But he can stand this if they can. We wish there was a little more such "buncombe" in public administration, State and Federal. It is too often the case, that he who inaugurates measures of reform is charged with selfish motives; some never receive justice, while others have to wait until their work is over, and perhaps are in their grave. But the shafts of envy and hatred fall harmless at the feet of Governor Pattison, for his past career has made him a record that is proof against all such attacks. He is only pursuing the course he pursued in the Controller's office, protecting the interests of the people against the machinations of the bosses and their henchmen Moreover, he is but carrying out the pledges made to the people before the election. This is the kind of "buncombe" a great many men forget to carry out after they get the office; their promises are forgotten. As the people are satisfied the Governor is consistent in his course, and is governed by honest motives, it matters not what partisan newspapers say. If Governor Pattison should violate his pledges by forgetting to redeem them, we should hear a howl of indignation along the whole Republican line. Instead of this, he has redeemed every pledge made. Under these circumstances he can afford to let his unjust enemies peg away. The people know who stands by them, and already they proclaim, from the Delaware to Lake Erie, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Death of the Original "Uncle Tom."

The Rev. Josiah Henson, Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom," died at Dresden, Ontario on the 5th, inst.

Mr. Henson has long made the claim that he was the original from which this celebrated character was drawn, and he used it for all it was worth. He visited England a few years ago in this capacity and was presented to the Queen. But Mrs. Stowe rather upset this pretension by the declaration that "Uncle Tom" was not drawn from any one person, but was the result of her observation and study of slavery.

A tramway is to be built up Pike's Peak which will overshadow the Mount Washington Railway. The plan is to construct three of these tramways, each nearly three miles long, one beginning at the end of the other. The first will start from the rear of the iron spring at Manitou, and the last will be terminable in front of the signal station at Pike's Peak, at an elevation of 14,000 feet. The supports will be made of trees not less than eight inches in diameter and about twenty-four feet high, braced above, and below. On these an endless wire cable of one inch bore will revolve, and upon which will be fastened, at intervals of about 100 feet each, a large covered armchair, in which two persons can comfortably sit. This will be suspended about eight feet from the ground, and pass an entertaining and discharging point along a movable platform to load and unload without stopping. The lower section will be propelled by an engine at the lower end. The centre one will be driven by water power, utilized on the mountain side through a turbine wheel, and the third by an engine erected on the summit of the peak.

An Old Soldier's EXPERIENCE.

"Calvert, Texas, May 3, 1882.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.
