

Cultivating Celery.

Celery is one of the most agreeable and wholesome plants grown in the garden. It is generally believed that it has a quieting effect on the nervous system, and celery blanch in milk is recommended as a remedy for rheumatism. At any rate, celery is a good thing to have in the house, and every farmer should make it a point to have a good bed of it.

Cultivation of Orchards.

Cultivation is very beneficial to young orchards. A young orchard set in grass land and left to take care of itself, will make very slow growth. If indeed a large part of the trees do not fall to grow, and after a few years die, as is generally the case. Before setting a young orchard, the soil should be brought into a fine, rich condition by cultivation and fertilization.

Cures for Sleeplessness.

There is a form of wakefulness which is somewhat frequent experience with persons engaged in sedentary occupations. It has been busily engaged during the day in his usual avocation, retires, let us say, at about 10 or 11 o'clock, feeling quite sleepy.
