A farmer observed a flock of quails run ning along between the rows of corn which was just sprouting. Conceiving the idea that they were pulling up his corn, one of the birds was killed, and its crop examined. Instead of corn it was found to contain one cut-worm, twenty-one stripe-bugs and over one-hundred chinch-bugs. This shows conclusively that the quall is a valuable bird to the farmer, and one that should be protected instead of being hunted down and shot for mere amusement by sport-lov-

in Northumberland county of hydrophodia. Just as they were about to bury him his friends telegraphed to send the remains to Harrisburg. There a distressing accident occurred. In taking the rough box from the car and placing it on a truck it dipped off the latter and went crashing to the Belgian pavement. The lid of the oine box flew off and the coffin with its ecupant was spilled out. To add to the scene the top of the coffin burst and the remains were thrown face downward into the gutter. The body was greatly decomposed and swollen and a stench of an un earable character followed. Matters were finally righted and the remains were taken to his home. Much excitement was aused by the accident.

Coal Oil John Again

HIS TIME HE APPEARS WITH SIX INDICTMENT

It seems John W. McNulty, the gentle nan who laid claim to being the original Coal Oil Johnnie in a Harrisburg restaurant several months ago, exhibiting at the time a number of specimens of copper to show the new enterprise he was running near New Cumberland, is in trouble. The trouble takes six different forms, in the shape of six different indictments. The Cumberland county court, now in session at Carlisle, heard the finding of the grand jury in six true bills, and will try McNulty on the six different charges, forgery, false pretense, uttering a forgery, and so on. This is a perfect cyclone of misfortune on McNulty likely to sweep him from public sight and mind and nip in the bud his many schemes to gather in the shekels from the copper ore mines, real estate and the Harrisburg and Western company. McNulty has been going for the farmers, evidently in the New Cumberland section of Cumberland county, and the farmers have been going for him.

The many different branches of her family were represented from toddling infancy to old age all bent upon a pleasant day. The assemblage of so many was somewhat casion one of no little excitement, but the old lady received the friends, and moved pleasantly and conveniently about among them, with the most refreshing old time courtesy and sprightliness. In spreading the two large tables, old cupboards and closets were ransacked by those guests who prepared the sumptuous dinner, and the oldest china and silverware again saw the light. Notably among them was a teapot one hundred and fifty-five years old and a large round silver salver or plate that looked as though it might have groaned under a big browned turkey two hundred years ago. The table was graced here and there with china old enough to raise the envy of the least envious of bric a rae gatherers. Then too, there were silsouette pictures of old members of the amily, for which the artist charged three dollars apiece some sixty or seventy years ago; and then some quaint old furniture stood about bespeaking Aunt Clark's age, and possibly the age of those before her.

Mrs. Clark, whose husband was James Clark, has been a widow for thirty-one years, and has resided in the house she now occupies for nearly sixty years. It was the wish of those present upon her birthday that she might continue to occupy her home many years longer. Of the guests who participated in the pleasant affair, besides those of Mrs. Clark's immediate household, there was : Mr. Andrew Clark and daughter residing near Catawissa : Mrs. James Funston a sister inlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Funston and family, Dr. and Mrs. Fessler and daughter. all of Newbury, Pa., Mrs. and Mr. H. J. Clark, a son, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Funston. Mrs. Henry Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Jacob Dieffenbach, the Misses Dieffenbach and brother, Mrs. W. C. Richey, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Then came the great balloon at night that didn't go up. It was hardly known whether it was intended to go up or down. It did neither, however, but simply toppled over, and that was the end. At night there was a rope stretched across from St. Charles Hotel to the store of Bowman & Crispin. John Vanderslice mounted upon it in show clothes to tread it. He did not tread, but fell, because the rope gave way precipitating John to the pavement below. He found himself with a lame leg, but brave, undaunted John had the rope readjusted, sprang again upon it and walked it with success, performing also upon the trapeze to an admiring and applauding crowd. He proposes to travel.

I should have written you before in regard to the Rheumatic Syrup you sent me, but have been waiting to see if the result was permanent. I can confidently say that it has had a very gratifying effect on my wife, relieving her of all pain within three days after she commenced taking it. I also gave away one bottle of the Syrup to a friend, which had the same effect as on my wife. My wife has suffered great pain from rheumatism and kidney difficulty for years, and at times could hardly move. She has tried a great many medicines recommend-ed to no purpose. It is the only remedy that gave her permanent relief. Yours, ROBERT S. ARMSTRONG.

We are glad to say that our daughter, who has been afflicted with Rheumatism for about eight years, is nearly cured from the use of two bottles of Phelps' Rheumatic We regard it as an excellent remeday, and anticipate a perfect cure by the time another bottle is taken.

A Woman in Disguise.

A Lehigh county physician has made a liscovery near the line of Berks and Lehigh counties which has created some excitement among the inhabitants along the Blue Mountains. For some time a strange man known by the name of Marks Smith has been doing odd jobs for the farmers. He was about twenty-five years, good look-ing and tolerably well-dressed. He shunned company as a general thing, preferring to be alone. A few days ago Smith was taken sick and was compelled to keep his bed, which was in the loft of an old unoccupied barn. The Lehigh county doctor was summoned and made an examination of the sick man, but refused to say what his ailment was. On Tuesday the fact was made known that the person was not a man but a woman, and that an infant had been born in the loft. The doctor provided an old nurse and neighbors provided clothing for both mother and child. It is not known who the woman is. She says she left home. cut her hair off and disguised herself to prevent detection. She was sent to the Lehigh county almshouse.

We have now on hand a stock of twenty ve pound flour sacks-not printed. Also large stock of printed sacks for wheat and buckwheat.

HOLMAN'S PICTORIAL BIBLE!

To-Merrow a Long Way off When Help is Wanted To-Day. Comfort is never in a hurry. Pain and distress are in not haste. It is to the "friend in need"—the friend who does something now—that the old adage pays the compliment of being "a friend indeed," Thatthey do not keep the sufferer in suspense is the silent excelence of BENSON'S CAPCINE PORGUS PLASTERS. The plasters of other days—whether porous or otherwise—said—"want until to-incorrow: We can promise nothing on the spur of the moment." But pain unrelieved, like hope deferred, maketh the heart size Benson's plasters not on application. They premeate, soothe, warm and heaf, containing, as they do, chemical and medical agents of the highest emclency. Their motto is sow, and the genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the middle of each plaster. Price 20 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.

tain more pure gold than many "solid" gold cases The demand for these watch cases has led to the manufacture of a very poor grade of solid gold watch cases— Circulars, low in quality, and deficient in quantity-WEDDING & PARTY INVITATIONS. These cases are made from 42 to 10 karats, and a 5 or 6 karat case is often sold for 12 or 14 karats. It is NOT economy to buy a watch case so poor in quality that it will soon lose its color, or one so soft that it will lose its shape and fail to shut tight, thus letting in dust and damaging the works, or one so thin that a slight blow will break the crystal, and perhaps the movement It IS economy to buy a Junes Bout Gold Watch Case, in which NONE of these things ever occur. This watch case is not an experi-ment—it has been made nearly thirty years. Heal Time been made hearly thirty years.

I sold two James Bose' Gold Watch Cases thirty years ago, when they first came out, and they are need to good condition yet. One of them is carried by a carjenter, Mr. L. W. Drake, of Hazleton, and only shows the wear in one or two places: the other by Mr. Bowman, of Cunningham, Pa.; and I can produce one or both of these cases at any time.
