A repetition of the Jerseytown tragedy occured in New York a few days ago. A Presbyterian clergyman cut his wife's throat, and after cutting his own jumped out of a fourth story window. Another similar case occurred recently in Chicago. It seems to have taken an epidemic form.

Chief Clerk Meek, of the house at Harrisburg, has shown what an honest and careful scrutiny of his department can accomplish in the way of saving money to the state. His contingent expenses have been $4,411,56 against Hahn's $10,000, and his supply account $305.47 against Hahn's $2,763,-93.

The Democrats have gained all that it is possible for them to gain by the extra session. It is just as certain now that no apportionments can be made as it will be two months hence. What good can come of a longer session we cannot see. The propriety of an early adjournment is therefore respectfully suggested.

Governor Pattison has vetoed the joint resolution instructing the appropriation committees to include pay for members of the Legislature only up to September 10th. He says the pay can't be stopped except by an act of Assembly, although there is nothing to compel members to take pay, who do not want it.

Considerable complaint is made in regard to the new postal note, on account of the paper used in its manufacture, which is so easily counterfeited. The sample submitted for proposals was far superior to that used and was such as could only be obtained from the government. It is probable the contractors will be compelled to comply with the requirement of the proposals or forfeit the contract and new proposals will be issued.

On Saturday September 15th the real estate of Peter Herdic of Williamsport, was sold by United States Marshal James S. Rutan. The attendance at the sale was very small, and the properties brought a mere trifle. The beautiful Park Hotel was sold for $1200 The Herdic Park embracing 18 acres for $600. Thirteen or fourteen properties in various parts of the city were sold at prices ranging from $5 to $50. Clinton Lloyd, Herdic's attorney, was the purchaser of nearly all the properties.

AN ACT.

For the registration of dentists, supplementary to the act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of dentistry, and to protect the people against empiricism in relation thereto, in the state of Pennsylvania, and providing penalties for the same," which became a law on the seventeenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy six, providing for the registration of practitioners of dentistry, and penalties for violations for the same.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and house of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. That it shall be the duty of any person practicing dentistry within three months after the passage of this act, and of any person intending to practice dentistry within this Commonwealth, before commencing the same to have recorded in the recorder's office, in the county in which he or she practices intends to practice the diploma or certificate provided for in the act to which this is a supplement.

SECTION 2. Any person beginning to practice dentistry in this State after the passage of this act, having a dental diploma issued, or purporting to have been issued, by any college, university, society or association, shall present the same to the State examining board provided for in the act to which this is a supplement for approval; such examining board being satisfied as to the qualifications of the applicant and the genuiness of the diploma, shall without fee, endorse the same as approved, after which the same may be recorded as aforesaid.

SECTION 3. Any person who is entitled to practice dentistry in this Commonwealth without a diploma or certificate, under the provisions of the eighth section of the act to which this is a supplement, shall make written affidavit before some person qualified to administer an oath, setting forth the time of his continuous practice and the place or places where such practice was pursued in the Commonwealth; and shall, within three months after the passage of this act, have such affidavit recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which he is practicing. And it shall be the duty of the recorder to record such diplomas, certificates and affidavits in a book provided for such purpose.

SECTION 4. Any person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act or the act to which this is a supplement, or who shall cause to be recorded any diploma or certificate which has been obtained fraudulently, or is in whole or in part a forgery, or shall make affidavit to any false statement to be recorded as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be sentenced to pay afine of not less than fifty nor more thantwo hundred dollars for each offense, for the use of the proper county.

SECTION 5. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

APPROVED—June 20, 1883.

Rose Ambler.

THE VICTIM OF A MYSTERIOUS MURDER IN CONNECTICUT.

The details of a tragedy are always of thrilling interest, for the loss of a human life is a subject upon which the rich and the poor, the high and the low, reflect with kindred emotions.

To this interest is added an element of deep regret and pain, when the victim is a young and promising woman, whose life has been such, as to warrant her right and title to a peaceful end.

The circumstances attending Rose Ambler's death and the whereabouts of her murderer are still shrouded in mystery.

She was returning home from the house of her lover, where she was in the habit of visiting him during their engagement, and from which, to his shame be it said, she was allowed to go alone, as his duties demanded early rising, and she did not wish to deprive him of his sleep.

On Sunday night, September 2d, at nine o'clock, he said good-bye to her for the last time, and her lifeless body was found next morning, in a field, to which it had been dragged from the sidewalk, and upon her person were the evidence of a struggle and marks of the violence which caused her death.

Four years ago, at twenty-two years of age, Rose Clark married Norman Ambler, and a daughter was born to them, but neither his wife's affection nor the ties of home proved sufficiently attractive to restrain the neglectful husband from dissipation and profligate excesses, so a separation took place and divorce followed.

Then began the marked attentions of Lewis, and on the night of the murder, their conversation was concerning the furnishing of the little cottage which was building for them, and in which they were to live as man and wife as soon as it was completed. On her homeward walk there was several lonely stretches, though the streets for the most part has houses here and there. Within a stone's throw of the spot where her body was found, is the house of Preston Hodges, and three of the inmates of his house heard a cry of distress at twelve o'clock, which was mistaken for the scream of an owl, and therefore no inquiry was made.

This leaves an interval of three hours, during which time naught is known of the victim's movements.

The thorough sifting of this interval may bring the murderer to light, but the absence of clues leads to the conclusion that this case also must go upon the record of unsolved mysteries with those of Mary Stannard and Jennie Creamer.

The latest developments in this terrible mystery seem to indicate that some important information has been obtained, and that there is possibility that the perpetrator of the crime will soon be in the custody of the law. The microscope has been called into requisition, as in the cases above mentioned and revealed some startling facts. A substance found under the murdered woman's finger nail was found to be human skin and blood corpuscles of some white person. They were the results of scratches inflicted by the victim on the person of her murderer during her struggle for life, and may prove an important factor in solving the problem as to who committed the horrible deed. At last accounts suspicion against Rose Ambler's prospective husband, which had been turned away for a season, has been renewed, and was growing stronger, under the researches making by the detectives.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The celebration of the seventy-third anniversary of Mexican Independence was celebrated at the city of Mexico on the 16th.

Unless speedy measures are adopted there will be war between Germany and Russia, and also between France and China. This will leave England as the only one of the great powers not entangled in disputes leading to taking up of arms.

On Saturday Sept. 15, at Narragansett Park Providence, R. I. a trotting horse called Jay-Eye-See, who had a record of 2:15, in an attempt to beat his time for a purse of $2,000 made it in 2:10¾

O'Donnell the man who assasesinated Carey, was landed at Southampton on the 17th. O'Donnell stated that he had not been placed in handcuffs or irons during the voyage. He does not fear the trial for the murder of Carey so much as he does that he may be implicated in other affairs.

The Roman Catholic church of the Sacred Heart at Plains, Luzerne county was dedicated Sunday. Fully 3,000 persons were present. Father James Mulholland, of Philadelphia, acted as master of ceremonies, and the Right Rev. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton, celebrated high mass. There were about twenty deacons of honor present.

Shortly before her departure for Europe Mrs. Langtry stated that she held extensive mortgages on property in Fifth avenue and other streets. Lately the truth of this statement was confirmed by the filing at the Register's office of an assignment of several mortgages to Mrs. Langtry by William Boswell on property in New York city, the consideration being $81,000.

The Pennsylvania railroad is considering the establishment of a "time standard," as the railroad men term it, to put into operation at an early day. The proposed standard would simply add the hours after midnight to 12, so that 11 o'clock in the morning would be 23 o'clock, and noon would be 24 o'clock. The dials of clocks would be made into 24 divisions of time, and the troublesome a. m. and p. m. would be avoided.

John W. Edmonson and Anthony Hale of Philadelphia, were arrested last week for counterfeiting. For several years they have been flooding Brazil with spurious government notes. At the time of their arrest they had sufficient material to manufacture to the amount of several millions of dollars. Their operations of introducing counterfeits into Brazil commenced in 1868, and because of circulating so great an amount the genuine government notes have greatly depreciated within the last couple years.

Abraham G. Nesbitt, a sixteen year-old son of Abraham Nesbitt, president of the Second National Bank of Wilkesbarre, ran away from home August 31. The last heard of him, he was in New York, and expected to go from there to New Orleans. He sent the following letter to his mother, postmarked at New York.

"Don't know why I left home. Guess I must have been crazy. I will take care of myself, and expect to see a good deal of hard work. Don't worry about me. I'll turn up somewhere."

The boy had about $80 with him when he left Kingston.

Harvest Home.

A Harvest Home and a Missionary Convention were jointly held at Numedia in the St. Paul's Union Church on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The little village of Numedia is located on a prominence and affords a commanding view of the surrounding valley which is interspersed with fine farms. The church is a large brick structure and is somewhat pleasing in its external appearence but rather antique in its interior as it has galleries on three sides and a pretty high pulpit. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In front of the chancel were three pyramids. The centre one was tastefully decorated with flowers and the other two displayed a collection of the finest vegetables, fruits and grain the valley afford. The pulpit also was artistically decorated with festoons, vases of flowers and miniature baskets of choice fruit. At the hour appointed for convening, might be seen lines of various vehicles coming from near and far to the Harvest Home and Missionary convention.

The order of addresses was as follows:

TUESDAY FORENOON.—Harvest sermon in the English by Rev. A. Houtz, and remarks in the German by Rev. S. C. Meckel.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.—First subject: Necessity of a regular attendence upon the ordinance of God's House. Opened by Rev. W. B. Sando and followed by Revs. Meckel, Hautz and Scheaffer; Second Subject: Our church Periodicals in our congregations and families opened by Rev. S. S. Kohler and followed by Rev. W. B. Sando.

WEDNESDAY FORENOON.—First subject: Home Missions, opened in the English by Rev. T. J. Hacker and followed in German by Rev. S. C. Meckel; Second subject: Foreign Mission; opened in the English by Rev. A. Houtz and followed in German by Rev. W. B. Sando.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.—Subject: Relation between Pastor and People; opened in the English by Rev. W. C. Scheaffer, and followed in the German by Rev. W. G. Engle and others.

The attendance upon these sessions was good, and the interest unabating. The harvest offering aggregated about $90. At the beginning of the present pastorate it did not exceed one tenth of this amount. We see great progress made in the spiritual condition and numerical growth of this congregation, and bespeak for Brother Dechant and his people more peace and prosperity. We think these Harvest Homes and Missionary Conventions highly beneficial. They awaken in the heart a sense of gratitude to the Given of all good, and cultivate the spirit of christian benevolence. They are also the means of developing the social life of the people in bringing them in contact with one another and the ministers of the church. With many thanks for their kindness, we bade this people good-bye and heard the hearty reply, "Safe journey," "Come soon again."

A. HOUTZ, Secretary.
