Friday, Sept. 21st. A most interesting performance opened pleased to receive visits from as many of our this week at the Academy of Music, both in regard to the play and the star, who assumed the star part, "The Creole," in a new version of "Article 47," Miss Lillian Spencer made her first appearance before Chicago audience last night as Cora. She is young, very pretty, with a slight figure, expressive eyes, and a strong, clear voice, which she fully understands how to modulate. Her conception of "The Creole" is an exceedingly good one. It does not bear any traces of imitation, but is quite an original and strong creation of her own She was warmly received and won several recalls. Chicago Times, March 20, 1883.

Bloomsburg Opera House, Friday, Sept. A farewell service on the occasion the departure of Dr. James B. Neal and wife, was held at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening. Rev. Dr. Poor gave a lecture on China; the pastor, Dr. Mitchell said farewell for himself, and Rev. D. J. Waller Sr., spoke on behalf of the congregation. Dr. Neal responded in a few well chosen remarks. He and his wife went to Maryland on Tuesday to visit her parents, and from there they will go to Cincinnati to see Mrs. Shipley, and will sail from San Francisco on the 11th of next month, for China, where they expect to remain ten years. Dr. Neal will take charge of a hospital there, under the direction of the Presbyterian Missionary Board, We wish them a safe journey, and abundant

The Philadelphia Times of the 17th in referring to the growth of County fairs, gives some good advice, which would be well for our readers to observe, just at the dawn of our fair. It speaks as follows :

This is the month for County Fairs in Pennsylvania, and it is gratifying to note how important they have become in most sections of the State. The failure of the State fair has quickened rather than chilled the County Fairs, and they put to shame the great Commonwealth that is distanced by Dakota Territory in a State or Territorial exhibition of the growth of the industries of the people.

The County Fair has been rapidly grow-The County Fair has been rapidly growing into importance during the last score of years, and now it enlists the interest of all the varied industries of the community. It has done more to diffuse good stock among the farmers; to introduce new implements; to improve the products of the dairy; to beautify the homes of the people, to make deeper plowing, more intelligent use of fertilizers, and better crops with less labor than any other method of education among our industries; and it has also made among our industries; and it has also made the wives and daughters of industry more skilful and more proud of their vocation. The county fair should command the best efforts of the best men in every locality. The fogies and the growlers, who al-ways resist all that make people more pros-perous, will sneer at the County Fair. They will jog along in ill-tempered poverty, raising mulleins and weeds instead of the suc lent grasses that fatten their stock and make their cream and butter golden, and they will reap scant sheaves where others reap in abundance; but they are past re-denption and they must be left behind in the race. The County Fair will go on, and whenever it commands the hearty co-oper-ation of the industries of the county it will tell in better farms, better stock better ation of the industries of the county tell in better farms, better stock, products generally and better people.

THE JERSEYTOWN TRAGEDY.

Prosperous Farmer Murders hi Wife, and then Cuts his own Throat. The Annual Meeting of the Penn's

On the 22ud of February 1883, there was happy gathering at the house of Conrad Kreamer at Jerseytown, the occasion be ing the marriage of his daughter auxiliary Unions in the State. Besides Maggie to William M. Runyan, a young man of excellent character and industrion habits. It was considered a good match on both sides, and when the young couple settled down to house keeping on a farm about two miles from Jerseytown, it looked as though a long life of happiness and prosperity was before them. If there were any misunderstandings between them, they were carefully concealed from the outside world. They had a comfortable home, a good farm well stocked, and everything to make life pleasant. For these reasons their terrible fate was all the greater shock to their friends. On Wednesday afternoon Sept. 5th., Mr. and Mrs. Runyan were is the village of Jerseytown, and made some purchases at her father's store. Friends who saw them that day, say that both seemed in excellent spirits. If the husband then had in contemplation the horrible leed that he was about to commit, he did not betray it by word or action. They drove home that evening, and here the curtain falls. No living being can describe what sent out to every subscriber outside of the took place that night, and the account must be supplied by the imagination. They were Up to to this time but very few have re- never seen alive again. The house stands in sponded. As we have to pay postage on an isolated place, and as this is a busy time with farmers, nothing was thought of ance with our terms which are strictly in their not coming to the village. It was obadvance. We cannot afford to pay the post-tage on the papers, send several bills and some of the stock left in the field over pay postage on them, and then run the risk night, a practice not common with Runyan. On Thursday afternoon of last week some children passed the house and observed an offensive odor proceeding therefrom. They informed their parents, and the county that are not paid for by October 15th will be stopped. We dislike to print ed and placed to a second-story window, township, consisting of a dwelling house, soon a large crowd gathered at the scene when the bodies of Runyan and his wife were found on the bed, in an advanced stage of decomposition. The stench was so great that it was almost impossible to enter the room. An alarm was given, and of the tragedy. An examination showed about 28 acres of improved land. Inquire that the throats of both were cut, and the razor with which the deed was done was found on the bed. Circumstances point out clearly that Mrs. Runyan was murder ed by her husband, and that he then comlate John C. ble, one dead from starvation, and the other nearly so. The other stock was out in the field. If there was any suspicion of foul play it was dispelled by the fact that all the windows and doors were fastened on the inside, and the following note was found pinned to Runyan's vest : "Maggle proposes and I act. Give he watch to Annie and mine to Howard, Good bye." What prompted the husband to do the act will never be known. The terrible death struggle that took place in that room, when with a murderous weapon in hand the man let out the life blood of the womhe had promised to love and protect, can never be portrayed. Those who are charitably inclined ascribe the deed to insanity. Whatever it may have been, the sorrow of the friends of the deceased at their untimely and unnatural end, coupled as it was with circumstances so terrible and revolting, can only be soothed by the great healer, Time. The President and a Committee from the Farmer's Club of the American Institute, have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars, and they report that the Port Grape Wine of Afred Speer, of Passalc, New Jer-sey, is the most reliable wine to be obtain-ed. It is now being used by Passalc, sey, is the most remain wine to be obtained. It is now being used by Physicians who are the most choice in the selection of wines for convalescent patients. The principal hospitals in New York have adopted this wine. It is for sale by C. A. Kleim.

MY WIFE'S NERVOUS APPROTION. "We had ceased to hope that my wife's nervous affection could be cured," writes Rev. J. A. Edle, of Beaver, Pa. "Many physicians failed to do her good, but Samar-ican Nervine has cured her." At druggists.

See a woman in another column, near Speer's Vineyards, picking grapes from which Speer's Port Grape Wine is made, that is so highly esteemed by the medical profession, for the use of invalids, weakly ersons and the aged. Sold by Druggists.

Nathan Knapp says:
Gents—I have been troubled with rheumatism for several years to such a degree that I found it impossible to attend to my business, which is that of foundryman, and have been confined to the house and to my bed much of the time. Have tried all sorts of remedies, and have been treated by several doctors, all to no purpose, until I finally heard of your Rheumatic Syrup, and was induced to try it, and I am very happy to say, after the use of a few bottles, I am as strong and well as ever, and never feel a symptom of anything like rheumatism any more. I can cheerfully recommend your Rheumatic Syrup to all who are afflicted Wolcott, N. Y. Rheumatic Syrup to all who are afflicted with rheumatism, for it is certainly a most invaluable remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise.

How Watch Cases are Made. Imitation always follows a successful article, and imitation is one of the best proofs of real honest merit; and thus it is its imitators. Boyers can always tell the genuine by the trade-mark of a crown, from which is suspended a pair of race of scales. Be sure noth crown and scales are stamped in the cap of the watch case. Jewelers are very cautious about en-dorsing an article unless they not only know that it is good, but that the character of the manufacturers is such that the quality of the goods will be kept fully up to standard. WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Feb. 18, 1883.

The James Bose' Gold Watch Cases we like hot cakes. Each one I sell sells another. Don't need to recommend them, they sell themselves. One of my enstoneers has had a James Bose' Gold Watch Cases in use for 29 years, and it is asproval as ever. With this case I do not be selate to give my own suarantee, especially with the new and improved cases, which seein to be everlasting. JESSE T. LITTLE, Jeweler.

New BRUNSWICE, N.J., Jan. 5, 1983.
This gold case, No. 6998, known as the Jamos Rose Gold Watch Case, oams into my possession about 1985, has been in use since that time, and is still in good condition. The movement is the one which was in the case when I bought it, and its condition shows that the case when I bought it, and its condition shows that the case has really outworn the movement, which is played out.
