A Hunter's Story.

Rabbit tracks were plentiful, but they principally led in the direction of a large swamp, in the rabbits could run without the same as it would be when onewithout difficulty, but where the hun-third worn out, in order to prevent ter constantly broke through the thin tripping; allow one week's rest, have ice, sinking into the half-frozen mire to the legs showered for a few minutes at his knees. Notwithstanding these dif- a time with cold water through a hose, ficulties, the writer had persevered, all in order to create a spray; then rub though a very small bag of game was dry briskly, from the chest down to the the result. While tramping about through a particularly malarial portion of the swamp, a middle aged man suddenly came into view, carrying a muzzle loading shotgun and completely loaded down with game of the finest loaded down with game of the fi description. man, with the following result : "You've had fine success, where did you get all that game?" "Right here in the swamp." "It's pretty rough hunting in these parts, especially when a man goes up to his waist every other step." "Yes, it's not very pleasant, but I am used to it and don't mind it." "How long have you hunted herea-

"Why, bless you, I have lived here most of my life and hunted up to ten years ago every year ?" "How does it happen you omitted the last ten years?"

"Because I was scarcely able to move, much less hunt." "I don't understand you?"

"Well, you see, about ten years ago, after I had been tramping around all day in this same swamp, I felt quite a pain in my ankle. I didn't mind it very much, but it kept troubling me for a day or two, and I could see that it kept increasing. The next thing I knew, I felt the same kind of pain in my shoulder and I found it pained me to move my arm. This thing kept going on and increasing, and though I tried to shake off the feeling and make myself think it was only a little tempo-rary trouble, I found that it did not go. Shortly after this my joints began to ache at the knees and I finally became so bad that I had to remain in the house most of the time."

"And did you trace all this to the fact that you had hunted so much in this swamp?"

"No, I didu't know what to lay it to but I knew that I was in misery. My joints swelled until it seemed as though all the flesh I had left was bunched at the joints; my fingers crooked in every way and some of them became doublejointed. In fact every joint in my body seemed to vie with the others to see which could become the largest and cause me the greatest suffering. In this way several years passed on, during which time I was pretty nearly helpless. I became so nervous and sensitive that I would sit bolstered up in the chair and call to people that entered the room not to come near me, o even touch my chair. While all this was going on, I telt an awful burning heat and fever, with occasional chills running all over my body, but especially along my back and through my shoulders. Then again my blood seemed to be boiling and my brain to be on

"Try, I should think I did try. tried every doctor that came within my reach and all the proprietary medicines I could hear of. I used washes and liniments enough to last me for all time, but the only relief I received was by injections of morphine."
"Well, you talk in a very strange manner for a man, who has tramped around or a day like this and in a swamp like this. How in the world do you dare do it?"

"Because I am completely well and as sound as a dotlar. It may seem strange, but it is true that I was entirely cured; the rheumatism all driven out of my blood, my joints reduced to their natural size and my strength made as great as ever before, by means of that great and simple remedy, Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure, which I believe "And so you have no fear of rheuma-

"Why, no. Even if it should come on, I can easily get rid of it by using the same remedy."

The writer turned to leave, as it was growing dark, but before I had reached the city precisely the same symptoms I had just heard described came upon me with great violence. Impress ed with the hunter's story, I tried the same remedy, and within twenty-four hours all pain and inflammation had disappeared. If any reader is suffering from any manner of rheumatic or neuralgia troubles and desires relief let him by all means try this same great remedy. And if any readers doubt the truth of the above incident or its state ments let them write to A. A. Coates, Brookmere, N. Soap Bubble Parties.

Soap bubble parties are the latest Twenty or thirty common clay pipes, for as many young ladies and gentle-men, have ribbons of different colors for every two, and are separated in equal piles, from which each person selects one, and, by matching colors, finds a partner, so to speak, for the On a medium sized table stands a bowl of soap and water. The partners in turn blow bubbles, trying three times, amid the efforts of the oth ers to annoy and embarrass them. The one whose bubble remains unbroken the longest is entitled to a prize.

Some of the prizes are painted plush shaving and handkerchief cases, painted picture frames, Russian leather toi let cases, blotters, plush boxes of writing paper, and others are tasteful and CATARRH Causes no Pain letters. The prizes are sometimes expensive jewelry. There is always a special prize given to the one whose bubble has lasted the longest of all. A judge selected before the blowing aunonnees the decisions.
