Samuel J. Randall has many friends in this state who would be glad to have his name go before the Chicago con vention as a candidate for the Presidency. His nomination would put a stop to the tariff agitation, and his chance for election would ! e strong.

An Outlaw's Feigned Death-

HE LEAPS FROM HIS COFFIN AND NIM-BLY RUNS AWAY FROM PRISON.

Lucky Joe Wilson, the chief of a band of horse thieves and outlaws, escaped from the jail of Wataugu County N. C. by a sharp ruse, Wilson was sentenced to the State Prison for ten years for his outlawry. For some weeks past he has pretended to be quite ill. One night he feigned death, was laid out by the prison officials and prepared for burial. The coffiin was ordered and all other preparations made for the interment of the dead outlaw.

The body was placed in an outboilding, where it was viewed by many of the prisoners and officers of the jail. The eyes were wide open and seemingly glazed in death. Blood had spurted from the mouth and ran down on the bed covering. A minister was sent for to preach the funeral sermon. The body was left alone until the time arrived for burial. When everything became quiet about the prison, Wilson suddenly resurrected himself, sprang up and dashed out of the room, and made his escape before any one was aware of what had occurred. He dashed down the mountain and fled towards Tennessee. It is hardly probable that he will be captured.

MacVeagh on Arthur.

When Mr. Wayne MacVeagh gave in his evidence before the Springer Investigation Committee he doubtless had uppermost in his mind a desire to have himself set aright on the historical record as regards the part he played in the Garfield Cabinet. But he seems also to have had a sly purpose to thrust in a word here and there that would do damage to President Arthur, and it is not difficult to imagine that he experienced a certain pleasurable vindictiveness in doing so.

He observed that his reason for leaving the Cabinet was that he was diametrically opposed to Arthur's po-litical views, and because he could not figures laboriously and carefully collected and myself callfrom him. It is seldom that we meet with an article that so fully corresponds with its advertised good qualities as does the New American Lever Watch. It has the advantage of being made of that precious metal Aluminum Gold; its works are of the best make, and the general style of the case rank it with the best Watches made anywhere. We recom-mend it to our readers as a Watch that will give entire satisfaction.
