The Sanitarium is undergoing a thor ugh overhauling. Many repairs have een made, and the walls, ceilings and wood work have all received fresh coats of paint that have brightened up the rooms wonderfully. Dr. Shattuck proposes to make this institution a pleasant resort not only for the invalid who seeks rest, and ed medical treatment, but for an desire a pleasant and healthy retreat during the summer, from the cares of business of the beat and flurry of the city. It is an in stitution that is worthy of the hearty support of all our citizens, for when it is well patronized, its patrons will leave considerable amounts of money in the town, in one way or another. Those having invalid friends should recommend the Sanitarium "The Flying Dutchman" is a play found ed on the legend of the Dutch captain who trying to double the cape in the face of a heavy gale, swore to accomplish his purpose, even though he should have to sail till doomsday. For this he was doomed to roam forever over the ocean. In "The New Flying Dutchman," "Captain Vanderdecken," of the phantom ship, is released from the penalty of his basty oath by the love of "Madeline," a child of the wreck. The production of the drama last evening by Flockton & Edmunds' Combination was successful throughout. The company worked as smoothly as could be "Captain Vanderdecken," and as an actor desired. Mr. C. P. Flockton appeared as has few superiors. The other parts were in good hands. A large audience witnessed the performance, and the company has arranged for a return visit later in the sea-

It is within the power of the county commissioners to take steps to wards carrying out the recommendation of the grand jury, and if in their discretion hey see fit to do this, of course they will act cautiously and wisely and see that all no more awarding of contracts to the highest bidder, unless the board wants to stir the people up to a pitch of opposition that will result in impeding, if not stopping, the proposed work. The county is now practically out of debt, and the expenditure of a few thousand dollars on the court house will not be felt by the tax-payers, but they must feel assured that the noney is being honestly expended for necessary improvements.

Ma. EDMUNDS :- Dear Sir. In the above version of the famous Dutch legend, the people of Newark are presented with a play which combines all the best features of the drama. It is as wierd as Poe's "Raven," and inspiring as "Enoch smoke Arden," and yet has a thread of fun running through it as delightful as sunlight among hemlocks. Mr. Flockton is a thorough artist of the old school, and is the very image of Henry Irving, whose photographs are now so abundantly displayed in New York. The play is what might be termed a delicious sea poem, and the spirit of it may be judged by the following thrilling sentiment with which "Madeline" concludes : "Love is eternal, and life and death but the shadows of a Property of a Married Woman, Lewis Troxell recovered a judgment against Christian Stockberger in the Court of Common Pleas of Lehigh County. Exccution process issued and the sheriff levied upon a large quantity of personalty and property used in carrying on the business of brewing. Stockberger's wife, however, interferes, claiming the property levied apon as her own. An issue was found nder the Sheriff's Interpleader act to try the title to the property, and on the trial the facts proved were about as follows: That by the will of Mrs. Stockberger's former husband, all his property including the articles levied upon by the sheriff, were left to his wife. She continued the business until her marriage with Stockberger. She then had the license of the saloon changed from her name to that of her husbund, had his name put upon all of the wit signs, permitted Stockberger to draw Bill of Harman & Hassert for Iron, checks in the course of business, and left the bank account in his name and under his control. The execution creditors asked the Common Pleas Judge to charge that, under this state of facts, the wife could not set up separate ownership to the injury of creditors. The Court, however, refused to instruct the jury that a married woman could so lose her title to personal property clearly her own before marriage. The jury found a verdict in favor of the wife. The Supreme Court affirms this judgment of the Common Pleas of Lehigh County in a per curiam. The Court says: "The fact that a husband acts as the agent for his wife in buying and selling and investing her money, does not, without her consent, transfer her property to him. The pupose of the act of 1848 is to protect a married woman in the enjoyment of her separate Charles Bomboy has purchased a team of property. A PEW PACES CONCERNING PUBLIC ROADS Our township has had a burdensome oad tax for years past, and at the present time there is nearly $600 due different parties for making new roads and over work. Now, I think it right to grant or lay a money tax to straighten up road matters as soon as possible. I have read the statement or settlement of the county finances for a number of years back. It is enormous, the sum of money that is paid out for viewing, surveying and damages, There is a number of roads right here in this section of country, and I presume it is more or less the case all over the county, that were put through years ago at a big cost of money to the public which are used but little by the public. They serve as a short cut, occasionally, to benefit one or two persons. There are parties all over the ounty getting up petitions for public roads and outlets, and the motive of near ly all the parties is to have the roads cut up their land so they can get big damages. Now, these are facts. There are too many roads granted, and I say it is high time there is a stop put to it, and all other needless expenses that our county treasury is drained of. There are parties who will get up petitions for public outlets when they have a private outlet, with only the encumbrance of a gate or pair of bars to open, when it is only from 15 to 20 rods from the public road to their own land. If it is on others' land, as long as they have no objections to his passing in and out, why should the public be heavily taxed? Other parties present petitions to vacate and relay a long stretch of road at a large expense and but little or no benefit to the public. There is no use of it and I oppose it and all wrong in every department. These parties will get up a petition and ask neighbors and friends to sign it and naturally they hate to refuse and so there are too many cases put through and granted, at a large and unnecessary expense to the

There are several methods by which rethe stove. That accounts for that wet coat form can be accomplished, for instance, the candidate who travels through the county treating and leaving money at every hotel and saloon to treat others, giving money to the political bummers to buy up the scalawags, hiring conveyances to haul voters to the polls, sending demijohns of whiskey and kegs of beer to cercandidate for Chief Burgess of our bor- tain parties to influence voters, giving presents, loaning money and taking no interest, paying bills and furnishing free dinners which are a violation of the rules governing our Democratic County Conventions as well as the law, can be stopped by arresting the guilty parties and sending them to the penitentiary where they belong. I would recommend that our worthy county Chairman offer to pay a liberal reward to those who will furnish information sufficient to convict those engaged in the corruption. The necessary expenses incurred in breaking it up and expenses in the ex bringing about reform should be placed with the legitimate campaign expenses and defrayed by the successful candidates. -----SHAPE WINE FOR COMMUNION AND INVALIDS. The superb quality and entire purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the success that physicians have had by its use, has induced them to write about it, and caused hundreds of others to prescribe it in their practice as the best and most reliable wine to be had; both this and Speer's unfermented juice is held in great favor for Communion purposes, and it is of great service to consumptives. by druggists. THE HEAD AND EYE. Since last October I have suffered from cute inflammation in my nose and headoften in the nig it having to get up and in-hale salt and water for relief. My eye has been twice, for a week at a time, so I could not see. I have used no end of remedies, also employed a doctor, who said it was impure blood—but I got no help. I used Ely's Cream Balm on the recommendation of a friend. I was faithless, but in a few days was cured. My nose now, and few days was cured. My nose now, and also my eye, is well. It is wonderful how quick it helped me. Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn.
