They might justly be called Little White Elephants.

Some fine music was discoursed on Mair street, near the court house, on Tuesday evening, by a newly organized Band, composed of the following members: Davis Brooks, B. stand that we approve of the rumored methods used in electioneering at our fate primaries. We have always denounced such and do still. All these evils may be corrected within the party without the aid of our republican neighbors who are trying to keep up a warfare in order to elect their candidate. In the late issue of the Republican they say : "Our fight against Mr. Snyder is from principle." fitted to write with loving appreciation of Hans Christian Anderson, the teller of wonder-tales for children, than Horace E. Scudder, who, in many children's stories as well as in the Bodley books, has himself written so delightfully for children. It is pleasant news that Mr. Scudder has written for the October Harper's a paper on "The Home of Hans Christian Anderson." n which, with the help of many pictures, he shows the reader Copenhagen, and particularly the parts of it associated with the great writer. He speaks of Anderson as "the first child-author,"-"not the first to write for children, nor the first to introduce the child into literature," but "the interwhich is significant of childhood; the child spoke through him."

A game of base ball was played on Friday last at this place between the Reliance of Mt. Carmel and the Bloomsburg Association resulting in a score of 15 to 6 in favor of the former. On Saturday a game was played at Catawissa between the Asociation nine from that place and five of the Association nine of Bloomsburg. The other four of the nine who were chosen have had but little practice. The Bloomsurg boys thought they could beat with five of the Association nine, and would have done so but for the assistance of the umpire. The score was 11 to 14 in favor of Catawissa. A return game will be played to morrow (Saturday) afternoon.

Hon, A. J. Dietrick of Wilkes Barre, died at his home on Monday morning, after an illness of about six months. Mr Dietrick was born in Columbia county, April 6, 1822, and was 62 years, 5 months after leaving school he studied law with the bar at Danville, August 17, 1847. He practiced for several years in Columbia and Sullivan counties, finally settling at Laporte, the new county seat of the latter ounty. During his residence there he served three times as deputy district atorney and county treasurer one term. While residing in Sullivan county he received the nomination for state senator. but was defeated in the election. In 1856 he removed to Williamsport and practiced law for eight years. In 1864 he removed to Washington where he resided for four years, returning again to Williamsport in 1868. In 1877 he was elected Judge of the Williamsport judicial district. At the expiration of his term of office he removed to Wilkesbarre, where he resided and gave attention to his large law practice, which

In another column we print the proceed-ings of the meeting of the Democratic Standing Committee on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was one of general harmony. and indicates that the rumors that there are to be bolters of the ticket as nominated is without foundation. Every member of the Standing Committee has shown that they are ready to put forth every effort for the election of the entire ticket. Reports were given us by members of the different hat Wesley Bodine, was found dead in a townships stating that they are thoroughly organizing, and everything tends to foretell the largest majority this Fall ever given by the Democracy of Columbia county.

The Republican this week attempts to bield its purported democratic correspondent from West Scott. They appear to be of last week to Mr. John Christian, living interesting themselves very considerably near Danville. The ceremony was perin the matter of the democratic primaries. It reminds us of the campaign in 1879, when the editors of that paper, induced their republican friends to support the greenback democratic candidate for Sheriff with the expectations of securing some patronage. This year they hope to secure enough democratic voters to elect their candidate for prothonotary, for the same purpose, and are attempting to mislead the people. If a third candidate were in the field upon whom they thought they might unite to secure his election, they would turn the cold shoulder to Mr. Kinter and try to be with the winning party. When the republican standing committee was called upon to substitute the name of some one in place of Mr. Stiles, withdrawn, the names of other republicans than that of Mr. Kinter, were suggested, because it was thought they would be stronger candidates. Fire was started and steam quickly raised; Engineer Brown blew the whistle, and then opened the throttle, and an elegant stream was thrown; a momen tary stop to Insert the Siamese coupling, and two streams were mounting high in the air; another line of hose was laid, and without stopping the engine, the third stream was on. Our citizens viewed with amazement our little third-class engine playing with perfect case, a one-inch. seven-eight inch, and one and one-eight inch streams, simultaneously and with enough force for effective fire service : the one and one-eighth stream went fully two hundred and twenty feet. The three streams were kept on for some time to show the steaming quality of the boiler. Steam was easily kept up. Some one wanted to see one stream, so the smaller streams were shut off and a stream thrown over Thompson's Hall, clean and clear. Altogether the test was a complete success, and the boys deserve great credit for keeping it in such good condition. - Nation-

Death of M. A. Ammerman

On Thursday evening of last week, September 4th, at about six o'clock, Mr. M. A. Ammerman died at his home in Asbury, Columbia county. He had been troubled with Asthma for some years. On Saturday evening, August 30th he attended a school meeting as president of the school board. The meeting was held in one of the school houses some distance from his house, and was for the purpose of making arrangements to supply desks, seats, &c., for the different schools in Fishingereek township. The evening was a disagreeable one, and will be remembered as the occasion of the most severe storm this season. Mr. Ammerman was exposed to the rain, in the performance of his duty, and contracted a severe cold. He was confined to his bed on Sunday, and physicians sent for at once, but there seemed to be no relief eral took place Wednesday afternoon, and correspondent who was troubled with hay given him. On Thursday morning he was up at the breakfast table and tried to eat, but was so distressed that he could eat nothing. He remarked to his wife that if relief was not soon obtained he could not endure it. He remained in a chair the rest of the day until about two hours of his leath. His affliction of asthma prevented his reclining. Mr. Ammerman was about 59 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters. One of the Hungarians living at Mon tana was fatally shot, on Saturday night, while several officers were arresting some of his countrymen, for robbing a Jewish peddler, who went among them to dispose of his goods. After being robbed the peddler came to Centralia and swore out warrants for the arrest of five whom he knew took part in relieving him of his eash and pack. Three officers and the Jew went to Montana and brought three Hungarians with them; after putting them in the station-house they returned for the rest, and while putting the hand-cuffs on one of them the remaining Hungarians tried to explain that the party under arres had no hand in it, when one of the officers or the peddler fired a shot, the ball taking effect in the back of a Hungarian who was ntering the house. John H. Phelps, Pharmacist, Dear SirI was troubled with Sciatic Rheumatism for nearly six months in both hips, and after trying all available cures and medicines without success, I at last was recommended your Rheumatic Elixir, and after using five and one half-enter. asing five and one-half bottles I am pleased o state that I am entirely cured. I before could hardly drag my feet after me, now am able to work and lift as good as ever, and have no fear of being attacked agai You may publish this if you wish.

's to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder. "I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances.

E. G. Lovin, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. Morr, Ph.D." "I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious sub-stance. Henny Morron, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology." "I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. Dana Haves, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1876; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country. No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of licaits all over the world. NOTE-The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedier. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

*While the diagram shows some of the atum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous. A DMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.
