Billy, the War-Horse, Dead.

Billy, the old war horse of the late Gen Wellington H. Ent, died on Monday, Septhe fire, and used in battle less valuable market, mourning paper and correspondorses. However, at the battle of Bethes. da Church, Billy was a part of the time in he thickest of the fight, receiving no inary other than having a portion of his forelock shot away. It was at this battle that the Colonel's regiment was three imes out danked by the enemy, and three times compelled to retreat, but each time may the whinnying of Billy served as signals to and raised in Vermont. In his prime he ould easily travel a mile is three minutes with a buggy. The General often related 0 miles a day for successive days, safely esping fences and ditelies and swimming ivers on the line of march. It is sail of his own length. He was buried at the got of a walnut tree on the farm of Mrs. Petrikin and Nevin U. Funk on Tuesday evening, September 16th, a detachment of Ent Post of Bloomsburg being present and firing a salute over his grave.

On the death of General Ent in 187 Billy became the property of his widow, Mrs. M. E. Ent. who retained him in he possession to the day of his death.

A New Order.

The Penn's Canal Co., have issued orlers to their officers at Nanticoke to prefer ompany boats instead of loading in turn n the future. The order throws out of the trade a great many boatmen who have their all in the business and also the boat builder whose business is largely represcated in repairs on boats affoat. The move has created great dissatisfaction with both the parties named and an effort will probably be made to test the legality of such an order. Others are making threats o secure the end desired everything should along e done in a lawful manner. It is a matter in which right and not might will prethat if carried out, will be to the mutual fer cemetery. nterest of boatmen and Canal Co. If the order is carried out to the letter it will oring a large number of boats to the Colambia wharves, and as the shipments are limited at that shipping point it will not be of much benefit, as the rule referred to already applies to the shipping at this wharf. P. &. R. canal boats are preferred. It will then be a question of moving to other points or abandoning the boating business for those who do not run company boats. We hope in the interest of harmony and peace that the matter may be adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties without any serious trouble. - Columbia Herald.

fell dead in the furrow. And now Benton is to have a Pair. Great preparations are being made, and every effort put forth to secure stock and funds to fix up the ground in proper order. It is a good location, and access and egress convenient. Whether it can be made a success this year is a question, but let us have a fair. It is consistent with the spirit of our people, and when they once through. Besides, it will give all of our efits. "So mote it be," The farmers report grain as turning out very well per hundred sheaves. Oats any where from fifteen to twenty-five bushels wheat from five to nine, rve from seven to sine and a half. Some report wheat as going thirty-one bushels per acre. We beleve these reports to be true, from our personal acquaintance with the farmers in question. Should any one doubt the correctness of any of the above reports it will be our pleasure to report the names and evidence. The merchants at Cambra, viz : the Hen. James McHenry and William H. Krickbaum, have spectacles for sale. The former has Cleveland spees, and the latter Blaine spees, and mighty magnifying glasses they are, too, but they don't suit all parties.

This is a great year for disappointments From present indications seeding will progress slowly on account of the drought; some farmers are done, some half done some commenced, some ready, some about ready, others still not near ready; some buckwheat cut, some about ready

Some sickness in the neighborhood. Mr. Jacob Wenner, at Bendertown, has been severely afflicted with rheumatism ever since the 18th of last January, and now begins to hobble a little with the aid of crutches. The disease was at times painful in the extreme. Dr. Kemerly, at Townhill, is his physician.

Miss Laura Stine, of Benton township has been similarly afflicted, since some time in May, and was part of the time in great distress. She is convalescing. Dr. Patterson of Benton, was her physician.

How is This?

In its issue of August 1st the Sentinel

"The Sentiact will accept the verdict of the convention, even if our preferences may not be selected. Voters, however, will do well to look out for any element the whinnying of Billy served as signals to who will be ready to belt if they get left rally the men. Billy was of Morgan stock, Their policy is to rule or ruin." In its first issue after the convention the Sentinel plainly indicates that some of its friends "got left," and that it is ready to hat while in the army he had ridden him lead any element that wants to bolt. It has refused, up to this time, to put up the whole ticket as nominated by the convention, and the inferences to be drawn from Billy that he could leap a ditch as wide as its columns are that it will do all in its power to aid in the election of the Republican nominee for Prothonotary. This is not the first time that the Sentinel has go off the track. Its present action, however, will make but little difference in the result, except to itself. It will be left in the unenviable position of a defeated belter, and if the Democratic party has ever placed any confidence in it, the Seatine will have forfeited all right to recognition in local affairs. "To rule or ruin" is the selfonfessed policy of our contemporary.

Wanamaker's.

We owe you a full statement of the fact about the adulteration of linen. It is getting worse and worse. This year it is going to be worse than ever before. Last year there was only one large store in Philadelphia besides this that did not put in its windows cottonand-linen to be looked at for linen, and of course to be sold for linen. There is one store in New York in which linen is sure to be linen; and only one so far as we know. is it of any importance whether linen is pure or not? Cotton is prettier, evener, new; turns yellow and gets fuzzy, washed a few times. The smoothness and beauty of new cotton helps the substitution; for they tempt the eye and delude the judgment. Linen is lumpy, neversmooth: and yet the smoother it is, the more like cotton, the better Is it any wonder that cotton is sold for linen? It is important that linen be linen.

Can you tell which is which? In a difficult case not one merchant in ten can tell which is which, and be sure of it. When our buyer goes to a maker of linens abroad, one of his first things to say is: "Don't offer me any 'union goods.' I may not detect the cotton to day, but I shall find it and hold you responsible for it." Anybody is liable to get cotton in with his linen That isn't the trouble. Most merchants want it. They want the beauty and the price and the profit; and are willing to take their chance of reputation. And the public is by no means reluctant to be cheated It will believe almost anything of what is pretty and seems to be cheap.

We are not saying that every merchant that sells cottop and-linen cheats; far from i - We have already intimated that a very considerable part of the buying public wants cotton-and-linen, and doesn't want to be told of the fact. Most merchants sell what is wanted as it is wanted. There's no cheating in that. But we don't like the business. We prefer to sell linen for linen, and nothing but linen for linen. And the reason we prefer it is because we think it a fairer thing to do, and in the long run more profitable.

We are not over-critical upon others. We sell linen for linen; let others do as they will.
