The Tribune flag has been hauled down. Democrats may now rejoice. It is hardly probable that the result can be changed.

LATER STILL.

The New York Tribune concedes the election to Cleveland.

Why, oh why, did the Republican their honored leader James A. Gar-field, when he said "Don't pitch your tents among the dead."

The Louisiana Riot.

THE DEMOCRATIC MEETING MOBBED BY THE REPUBLICAN NEGROES.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3 .- A special to the Picayune from New Iberia says: About 200 Republicans, principally negroes, entered Lareauville Saturday afternoon, cheering in the wildest manner and using profane and obscene language in the greatest profusion. The crowd was headed by Ex-Sheriff Viator, and they assailed the Democratic candidate in the vilest terms. The most reliable and impartial witnesses agree that a few of the citizens of Lareauville, not over fifteen, led by Joe Gilfaux, met this crowd of Kellogites and remonstrated with them, when some unknown party fired on Gilfaux. The assault was very unexpected on the part of the Democrats and before they could rally Gilfaux and Captain Bell had fallen. The latter's pistol was taken from his body. It the United States this afternoon in anhad not been discharged. As soon as other of the series of cases which have the shooting commenced there was the arisen out of the adoption of the fourgreatest confusion, and the negroes teenth and fifteenth amendments to THE DESPERATE DEVOTION OF AN OUTscattered in every direction. It is very probable that many of the balls of the Kelloggites found victims in their own When the negroes stampeded they left their wounded to take care of themselves. The Democrats surrounded the Republican leaders and took them prisoners.

A dispatch from New Iberia says:

The preliminary examination of the prisoners was not held to day as expected, owing to the absence of district attorney, consequently prisoners will main in prison until after the election. WILLIAM KNABE & CO. -Boarding Stable.

Having recently leased the Ex-change Hotel Stable, I am now running it as a boarding, exchange and Hotel stable. I can offer owners the very best accommodation for their horses. My loose boxes and single stalls for boarders are large and in good condition, my prices reasonable. I shall always buy a good horse when the price is suitable, and intend to keep such on hand for sale, either single drivers or matched pairs. Persons in distant parts of the country can send their horses to be prepared for the market. The drives are good in all directions from my stable door, so that those coming here with fine horses needing daily exercise can have the advantage of the best roads to jog them upon. The Exchange Hotel Stable is so situated as to exclude objectionable persons, who not unfrequently interfere with sales. I shall be pleased to communicate with any gentlemen from the country who may be coming to this place with horses for By permission I reter you to W. R. Tubbs, Proprietor of Exchange Ho-

Manamaker's.

A Lyons silk-weaver some years ago set up a factory in Hackensack, New Jersey, and is now making there a first-class silk which we are selling at $1 to $2 a yard, according to weight; less by 75 cents a yard than we can sell an equal Lyons silk for. We know nothing as to his resources, or his arrangements for bringing his influence to bear on the American silk industry. We know only the silk he is making: black cachemire that nobody can distinguish from the best Lyons silk. He cannot help disturbing every American maker. Such an example at our very doors is positive proof that American silks can take rank with the highest, in beauty as well as in strength. We do not propose to go into silk-making. It is quite enough to know silk; and the silk manufacturers' chemistry is apt to make it hard to do that. We judge a maker by his work. Here is a new black silk to be judged; and it is so easy to judge it that you turn instinctively to judging the maker and congratulating the country so fortunate as to own him. The new silk has the lustre, the softness, the pliable readiness in drapery, of an oldfashion Bonnet. In no respect is it inferior in beauty of surface or softness of fabric to the ancient silk of the most famous maker of Lyons.

How will it wear? We agree to replace any piece that cracks in three months. The incentive to buy it is the 75 cents a yard. An equal French silk costs that amount "nore.

We fill a large window on Chestnut street with the new silk to-day, and give the maker the advantage of his trade-mark brand, "Regatta:" his designation, "American Cachemire;" and his firmname R. & H. Simon.

The occasion is a most interesting one to every buyer of black silk.

Lupin's merino stands as high in all the markets of the world as Lupin's cashmere; but for some reason "unknown to us nobody else in Philadelphia keeps a general assortment of it. There is no wholesale stock of it in the U. S. to draw from; and aobody can get it without order from Paris, But that is no reason. Merino is wanted; Lupin's of course. The only reason we can see | Sheep polts, cach... Wool per lb......

for out keeping merino i. the ladies who want it will generally take or how, That's a very trad at the tile reason, in our op You want a merine . or wrap, or baby cloak, You ask a merchant for it. He probably hasn't any; he may have two or three two-yearold colors, or black too fine or too coarse; not a merchant in the city has twenty colors and neven qualitiesnot one but \ mamaker,

No other lease in the country provides anything like so many colors and qualities and makes of cashmere. We sell more of evening colors alone than some of the largest houses seil of all more of the costlier qualities than almost any other house of coarse and fine together: more of Lupin's, doubtless, than anybody else of all the makes." But this wouldn't worth the saying, if the son were not worth your knowing, too. We live all the colors in use a lie qualities, and several makes, The reason for having so many is that people have come to expect them here: they all want Lupin's; but they are better satisfied with what they get if they see others. There'd be no loss to buyers, if we kept only Lupin's cashmeres and meri-nos, and no others; but people wouldn't continue to be satisfied with Lupin's even. without constructly comparing with other & \nd the only way other names can be sold at all is by putting them a trifle under Lupin's price. It is not superfluous to keep them.

We sell possibly a tenth as much merino as cashmere. It costs a trifle more and looks exactly the same: but it is heavier, wears longer, can be turned wrong side out and made over. It is two dresses in one. Perhaps ladies are not generally good enough economists to buy two dresses in one.

*Cashmere-we're speaking of all-wool cashinere, of course-costs 50 cents to $1.25 a yard : merino, 60 to $1.35. The colors and qualities of cashmere are too long a list to think of; of merino not so many, but all the uses are provided for.

And this is about the whole story of all-wool cashmere and merino here; and here is the better part of the cashmere and merino world at one counter.
