A monument to the memory of the late republican candidates for President and Vice-President, hangs from the third story windows of Dentler's building. It was formerly used as a transparency by the Blaine and Logan club, but now it hangs there, dark and solitary, like Poe's raven perched upon the bust of Pallas, and though it speaks not in words, it wails in silence

'Nevermore.'

The remarks of Col. Freeze in nominating David Lowenberg for Chairman of the Democratic meeting at the Opera House last Friday, were words of well deserved praise. There is no more ardent and unselfish worker for the party in the State than Mr. Lowenberg, and what he does, he does from purely patriotic motives, and not for any selfish personal gain. May he live long to enjoy the respect of his fellowdemocrats.

John Moyer was robbed of about two hundred and fitty dollars at Beach Haven on last Friday evening. He placed two valises, one of which contained the money, behind the bar of the hotel about half-past six o'clock, and went away. Upon his return in a short time, the money was miss. ing. Suspicion fell upon three tramps, two men and a woman. Two of the were traced and were found upon a car boat while at the Rupert lock, and we arrested. They gave their names as ward Myers and Maggie Ward of Wilk Barre. On Monday they were brought fore Jno. M. Clark Esq., for a hearing and were discharged for want of sufficient evidence to be hold them.

as mud about the dwellings of many disappointed and disheartened Republicans. Not a ray of light gleamed through the tightly-closed shutters of their front windows, and even the kitchen girls are supposed to have been compelled to sit in darkness with a screen before the cook stove, for fear a gleam of light might be seen in the back part of the house. The masters of the mansions are suspected of sitting in their cellars wrapped in sack cloth, with ashes scattered profusely over their heads, cursing the Democracy in general, and old Dr. Burchard in particular. Here and there a head appeared from a second story window, where curiosity got the better of the orders of the head of the house, but as a rule the Republicans seemed to forget that the President-elect will be President of the United States, and not simply the President of the Democratic In many places the people have party. united, irrespective of party, in illumina tions and friendly feeling, but such liberality of political sentiment does not exist here. Notwithstanding this, the Democrais made just as much noise, and painted the town just as red as though there were no houses of mourning along the line.

The company is fortunate in having Mr. Harry T. Wilson as manager. We have met Mr. Wilson on a number of occasions and invariably found him identified with uccessful companies. Don't Leave Children Alone. The great danger which mothers run i caving their little ones by themselves, even for a brief period, has been so fre quently exemplified that it would hardly eem necessary to give further warning. Monday morning Mrs. Leslie left the house on an errand, leaving everal of her children in the kitchen. Daing her absence the child which was siting on the floor began playing with matchs and accidentally set its clothes on fire. Soon the garments were all ablaze, and seeing the child's perilous position the rest of the children ran out of the house and screamed for help. By the time assistance arrived, however, all the child's clothing
