

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1885.

The bill to put Gen. Grant on the retired list of the army failed in the House on Monday.

Mrs. Dudley, who shot Rossa, was arraigned in a New York court on Monday, and held in $3,000 bail for her appearance before the grand jury.

The contested election case in the Prothonotary of Lackawanna county has just been decided, after two-thirds of the term has expired.

Mr. Cleveland's Model Secretary. The President-elect is fortunate in having a private secretary who knows how to talk fluently and agreeably without giving anything away.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, 1885.

Congress for the past week has been the football of obstructive, dilatory and mischievous cranks. Appropriation bills and other important if not indispensable legislation have been delayed.

There need be no dread that the South will embarrass the party in the administration of the Government by an intemperate department.

Congressional Apportionment.

The congressional districts in the new apportionment as agreed on by the senate apportionment committee, are as follows: First, Philadelphia, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th.

It looks now as if Mr. Thurman may be a member of the Cabinet of President Cleveland. He is earnestly urged by influential democrats throughout the country.

Southern Sentiment.

The following letter was received by a gentleman from this county from a friend at Petersburg, Va., shortly after the election last fall, and as it clearly shows the patriotic spirit of southern democrats, and contradicts the allegations of the opposition, we give it a place here.

"Although my health is grown so wretched that I cannot even attend to the various matters that pressingly claim my attention, I must take a little time and make a little effort to exchange felicitations with you upon the recent great victory, which our 'grand old party' after years of strenuous, though abortive exertions, and after many glorious battles, though resulting in disastrous defeat, has at last achieved.

We have rescued the Government from the practical plunderers, which were upon it, only to advance the private interests of its various officers, and have restored it to the party to which it can only properly and safely be confided, the party which comprehends its theory, which respects its constitutional limitations throughout and will drive it back into the hands of the people, in whom it does not ally itself with monopolists in their struggle with the masses, or sympathize with capital in its oppression of labor; which will not pamper particular industries at the expense of others by taxing the many to support the few; which does not consider that the states have forfeited all their reserved rights, because a minority recently attempted to assert by force of arms the exercise of one, which was questioned even by those who strove to make good, which recognizes geographical distinctions, and recognizes the co-equality of sister States; which in a word, favors the administration of national affairs upon the Jeffersonian rather than the Hamiltonian principles; upon the sound old democratic ante-bellum methods, which advanced the country in all its interests, which to that high degree of prosperity which it was enjoying when the deplorable war broke out, was undertaken most unwisely and wickedly to avert a danger imagined to be menaced by the possession of the Government by a strictly sectional party. There is no reason to apprehend that our party, in the long lapse of time during which it has been excluded from power has abandoned any of its doctrines, or unlearned any of its lessons. The great sages who have illuminated the history and exemplified its beneficent principles have left us their memories to their followers, and we still have our Randalls, our Bayards, our Tildens, our Seymours, our Tuckers, our Lamars, and a host of kindred spirits, to follow in the patriotic footsteps of their fathers, and to carry on the great work to which they devoted a lifetime of noble endeavors.

Mr. Ingalls said he sympathized with Mr. Hawley in his regard for natural rights, but we were confronted with a portentous crisis, and he would be called on to decide whether every man, woman and child on the face of the earth, no matter in what condition of physical or intellectual development or moral standing, has a natural right to come to the United States and do as he pleases with the territory of those already here.

Mr. Blair had supposed the bill in accord with the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the rights of mankind. It was aimed, he said, not at immigration, but at slavery, at the introduction of servile labor, at the wages of the working classes, Mr. Blair said, should be protected from the effects of imported gangs of laborers.

One of the Boys.

He has been anxious to see Henry Irving and told Mrs. Curtis that she should go to the theatre to go and he would meet them there. "No, no," he would not engage a seat for him. "No, no," he would not engage a seat for him. "No, no," he would not engage a seat for him.

Restricting Immigration.

WAINWRIGHT & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERIES,

PHILADELPHIA. CORNER OF MAIN & EAST STS., BLOOMSBURG, PA.

To the Readers of THE COLUMBIAN.

We couldn't have picked out a stuff, or any sort of merchandise, that would have been more of a bomb to throw into the market.

It was a stirring enough event to sell these cloths of Lupin's below the wholesale price.
