The Bungling Work of an Executioner in

One of the most singular incidents the apple is a deep, rich, moist loam ever connected with the execution or attempted execution of a murderer happened at Exeter, on the occasion for not too dry. carrying out the death sentence passed upon John Lee, who was recently con-demned to be hanged for the murder of Miss Emma A. W. Keyes, at Bab-bacombe, near Torquay, on November water in it. 15th last. Three attempts were made to execute Lee, but each attempt proved futile, the drop failing to work successfully. The execution was consequently postponed.

It will be remembered that Lee, who was an ex-convict, obtained employ-ment from Miss Keyes as a valet by means of forged letters of recommendation. Lee wished to marry Miss finer quality when planted upon light, Keyes, who was an elderly lady of wealth. She refused to wed him, whereupon Lee assaulted her. He lived than upon a stronger soil and a then murdered her and set fire to the house to cover his crime. The flames were soon extinguished by neighbors

A HORRIBLE APPAIR The details of the futile attempts to hang Lee make the case the most horrible that ever disoraced the gibbet in England. At first Lee was perfectly firm and went to the scaffold undaunt-When the first attempt to hang him failed the prisoner's spirit remain-ed unbroken. When the murderer was made to realize that the gibbet had not done its work and that he was not yet hanged, he appeared to start as if from a nightmare. But he quickly recovered himself. The machinery was carefully examined and the woodwork was found wet and swollen, so that the spring and trap would not move quickly and smoothly. The ma-chinery was then oiled and moved unofficers were convinced that it brought out from his cell. He stood firmly again upon the trap and when the noose was fixed again tried to fit his body for the fatal fall and when the spring clicked its signal he seemed again to drop in perfect physical sur render. But the machine of death again refused to do its work. THE THIRD FAILURE.

The victim shuddered, as if shaking himself out of some horrid dream., and the executioner pounded the frame work and stamped upon the trap, but the trap would not move. Lee straight-ened himself up and was a second time removed to his cell. It was evident, however, that his spirit was very much broken and those in charge of the gallows were very nervous. A third time the machinery was overhauled and ad-justed; a third time it was pronounced all right, and a third time the murderer led out and noosed and blackcapped The spring was again touched and again it refused to operate. The strain | ket. and suspense had, however, taxed Lee.

He sank down in a swoon and had to be carried away from the place. No words can give an adequate idea of the family has taken a forty-acre side-hill hanged was limp, motionless and in a most pitiable condition, lying in his prison cell, dazed and stupefied and physically exhausted. The Sheriff decided to abandon his task. He closed up the execution yard and went down to the post office, telegraphed to Sir William Vernon Havcourt, the Home Secretary, a full history of the horrible failures to execute Lee and asked for instructions what next to do. ## Ferrets.

A correspondent of the Sun writes to ask where he can buy a pair of ferrets and what they will cost. Ferrets can be purchased at most bird fancier's stores, but are expensive.

"I can sell a good pair of trained ferrets for $15," said the young man in a store in Fulton street. "We have a large demand for them, and Mr. Isaacson is now in the South purchasing new stock. The best breeds of rrets are the white kind, and the fitch ferret, which is a cross between the North European fitch and the African ferret; and the American mink ferret, a cross between the American mink and the fitch ferret. ## How to Dress Warmly

A person with much less weight or costliness of clothes-provided he or she was dreased correctly for the cold -could face the still, frosty air without either red face or benumbed hands, and yet neither be dressed in fur, carry a mug nor wear a veil. It is so im portant to know where to put the warmth of clothes that a suggestion was in perfect condition to carrry out the sentence of the law. Lee was again brought out from his cell. He stood three outposts of the body that need to be guarded from the cold. These are the knees, the wrists and the neck, well up to the ears. If these are thickly and warmly covered the rest of the clothing does not need to be so very heavy as is supposed. The most imknees, and especially for the very young and the elderly. BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 8, 1884.

Camden Mears, Agent:—I have been in the laundry business constantly during the past ten years, and have tried very many different kinds of family washing machines, one of which is the New Improved Western Washer, sold by you, and I cheerfully recommend it as being the best one for my work that I have ever tried. It gives perfect satisfaction, and I would not part with it for double the amount I paid for it if I could not procure another one. Any person wishing to see it in operation can do so, by calling at my laundry.

Вьоомявина, Ра., Dec. 8, 1884. Vandergrift Mfg. Co.: GENTLEMEN:—When your agent, Mr. C. Mears, solicited me to purchase one of your Western Washing Machines, nothing but a desire to be courteous prompted me to give one moment's attention to it, as all the washing machines I had ever seen had proved utter failures. But when your agent, in a commendable spirit of fairness, offered to sell your machine on its merits, I could not refuse to give it a fair trial. It has now done service in my hundry three months, and I must say that it is perfect it every respect, doing its work thoroughly and with it one girl can do the work of two, without fatigue. It is simply match less.

Very Truly Yours,
