that they are of age.

[For making false representations as to his or her age any minor shall be fined $300, and the clerk of the court issuing a certificate in violation of this act shall be fined $200.]

Schuylkill County is likely to have a temporary experience of prohibition through the failure of 250 hotel and saloon keepers to pay for licences which were granted at the February term of court within the time pre-scribed by law. The Law and Order Society has notified the Clerks of the Court not to issue them now, after the an increase in its debt, which was in time has elapsed, under legal penalty, and there is promise that there will be sessed value of its taxable property, this number of drinking places less in but when added to the debt previously this number of drinking places less in that vicinity than there would have been had the applicant been more prompt. The practice hitherto has been to take out the licenses whenever this could be done without the previously existing made and aggregate of more than 2 per cent. The question was raised by certain tax payers whether this could be done without the previously

The Pension Frauds.

The new Commisioner of Pensions has made a good start exposing and putting an end to the gross frauds which have been perpetrated for many years in the executive bureau over which he presides. The number of illegally drawn pensions whose suspensions he has just directed is 109, all belonging to a single agency, that of Philadelphia. In 102 of these cases the only persons entitled to the pensions have been dead for years. Some died as long ago as 1871, yet the periodical allowances bave ever since been regularly drawn in their names. In seven of the cases widows who forfeited their rights to pensions by re-marriage years ago, have called for and received money as usual ever since.

But in addition for several years, the pension Office has been managed by people who ridiculed the idea that any fraud worth worrying about was perpetrated. One of the Commissioners, when asked to recommend needed pension legislation, gravely called for special laws, in addition to the ordinary statutes against perjury, to punish severely "those who swear falsely against a meritorious claimant's right to a pension"—a demand directly Miss Cleveland is away in New York. tending to prevent persons who strongly suspect frauds from mentioning the round of their belief, lest they should be prosecuted by the Government they cleveland, moved into the White wished to aid. "When I assumed the duties of this office I resolved to go slow in making changes, believing that if any mistakes were made they would naturally result from hasty and inconsiderate action. From certain recent occurrences I am more than ever of the opinion that my original determination was right. In the future I intend to go even slower than ever." The recent occurrences referred to in the President's vigorous little speech show his estimation of Mr. Bayard's peculiar personal policy.

THE LIMIT OF MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

Chief Justice Mercur of the Supreme Court of Penosylvania, has just filed an court of Pennsylvania, has just nied an opinion in the appeal of the City of Wilkes-Barre from the degree of the Court of common pleas of Luzerne County, sitting as a court of equity. This case involves an important question as to the right of municipality to tion as to the right of municipality to increase its indebtedness under Section of any municipality or incorporated district shall never exceed 7 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the taxable property therein, and also that ble property therein, and also that no municipality or district shall incur any new debt or increase of its indebtedness to an amount exceeding 2 per cent. upon such assessed valuation, without the assent of the electors at a public election.

The City of Wilkes-Barre proposed an increase in its debt, which was in itself less than 2 per cent. of the ascash was most abundant, and the temperance people have this time taken advantage of the negligence of the saloon keepers and insist on the strict enforcement of the law.

Luns could be done without the previous consent of the electors. The city government contended that there was approached to where Davis sat. The first intimation of his presence was a terrific blow on Davis head, inflicted by successive steps, from time to time by successive steps, from time to time, as it saw proper, and that so long as this increase was less than 2 per cent. the consent of the electors was not nec-that there is no warrant in the Constitution for any such view, and that any increase which has the effect of raising municipal indebtedness more than 2 per cent. must receive the consent of the electors at a municipal election. per cent. must receive the consent of the electors at a municipal election. The decree of the Common Pleas of Luzerne County is affirmed and the appeal dismissed at the costs of the apellant municipality.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 27, 1885. These are the first fruits of an investigation began by a special agent in a single locality. There is no reason for supposing that Philadelphia is the only place where these practices have been considered and acquiesced. When the safe had been opened the tration. Maybe the reason why I did considered and some the process of the administration of the United States out alongside of him."

When the safe had been opened the robber took the contents, threw his clab contents and we may therefore pre-So far as can be judged from the nature of the Philadeldhia frauds, they must have resulted from careless or corrupt discharge of official duties. There are now over three hundred thousand pensioners on the roll, and more than a hundred different grades of pensioners. The Government, has sometimes paid out fifty or sixty millions a year in pensions. These facts, couldn't with the looseness in taking the president he made the President he made the problem that he had no friends to reward, no enemies to punish, and no favors to ask. The "no favors to ask" clause seemed to please the President, and he replied "I am nearly worried to death by those who have nothing but favors to ask." My W. Barret, of the American Express friend then called at the Interior Department upon Secretary Lamar and told him that he wished to see his bath tub! The President and members of his Cabinet have gone to Gettysburg to celebrate the anniversary of the battle.

This is the first respite that Mr. Cleven Northwest, but altogether the sum Col. Lamont and his family, consisting of his wife and two little daughters, have, at the urgent request of Mr. House and they will soon accompany the president to his country residence at Soldier's home. The President's cottage at the Home is about three miles from the White house and about a mile and a half from the northern boundary of the city and the Potomac river. Surrounded by trees and acres of green sward it will have all the advantages of a summer resort with the additional advantage of complete retirement from society and fashion that cannot be obtained at Long Branch, Saratoga or Newport. The illness of the President's private secretary has revived the old talk about the peculiar Washington malaria. Every ill that flesh is heir to in this city is attributed by the non-professional writers for the press to malaria. A Senator cannot eat or drink too much but that his indisposition is malaria, and one of them went so far as to attribute the encouchment of a prominent woman to the same prolific cause. Washing sally healthy city and its death rate shows as small a percentage from ma laria as any city in the union.

What will the administration deconcerning official changes' is a question that is being very earnestly asked methods of gross corruption have been in vogue to shrink from exposing either existing or past iniquities. Robbing a Train.

ROLD EXPLOIT BY AN INDIANA TRAMP

As Wednesday night's Chicago ex-press train on the Louisville and New Albany Road slacked up at the Har-rodsburg, Ind., water tank, a sleeping passenger in the second-class car awakened just in time to see a shaggy-whiskered man dart up the rear plat-form of the baggage and express car just ahead. A moment later he had disappeared through the door. It was nearly midnight and the sleepy pas-senger thought nothing of the incident, and when the train resumed its journey he slept again. Two miles further north and only a short distance from Bloomington he was again awakened by the slacking up of the train. The door of the smoking car opened and a man covered with blood and faint staggered in and fell on the floor. Somebody had pulled the bell rope and the train came to a standstill. Conduc platform, the pulling of the bell cord and the arrival of the wounded Webber on the smoker were the occurrences of exactly nine minutes. but in that brief time an unexampled train robbery and probably a cowardly mur-der had been committed. After having been restored to consciousness Web-ber told the story of the assault to the conductor, who reported the robbery to the Chicago officials.

When the robber entered both Web-ber and George K. Davis, the express messenger, were taking a nap, Webber being at the further end of the car. with a club. Davis staggered to his feet, but, blinded by the shock, he was unable to use his pistol. The robber knocked it out of his hand, then pick-ed it up and deliberately shot him in Chief Justice Mercur, however, holds the head. could not be over $3000 or $4000."

The experiment was tried by Paul Hines, Sam Trott, Charlie Snyder, Phil. Baker, and others, but none succeeded in holding it. Now the fact is that a ball so dropped has a velocity of 187 feet per sec ond when it strikes the ground. This velocity can be better comprehended by comparing it with a batted ball.

The longest hit which the writer has any knowledge of was made by George Wright at Indianapolis, when the ball struck the ground a few inches over 200 yards. The ball, in this instance, was hit into the air at an angle of about 45 degrees—the most favorable angle for a long hit.

Without giving the formula, I will state that, as near as can be calculated, the angle and the distance being given, the initial velocity of the ball in this case is found to be about 100 feet per

The idea of put ting a work like this at only $2.50 per copy, seems preposter ous; and yet there is wisdom in it, for everybody will want it, and it will thus be the means of advertising and introducing the numerous other valuable books which the publisher is put ting forward."-Christian at Work, New York City. "It is truly a marvel of skill and a triumph of modern me chanical art that such a noble volume can be furnished at so small a cost. Whether we admire its large proportions, beautiful binding, fair page, excellent paper, numerous and striking illustrations, numbering nearly 100-all are first-class."-Christian Cynosure, Chicago, Ill.
