The Bullitt bill which regulates the government of cities of the first class, has been signed by the Governor.

The New Orleans Exposition has closed. Financially it was a failure. But in some of its results, it will prove a blessing to the country.

The bill fixing the pay of the members of the legislature at$1500, and $500 extra for special session, was defeated in the House on final passage, on Tuesday.

A Fortune for a Working Man-

SELINSGROVE, June 2.—Considerable SELINSOROVE, June 2.—Considerable excitement prevails here over a story that $100,000 have been deposited with the United States Treasurer in favor of a man by the name of Jacob Strickler, of Selinsgrove. It is not Strickland, but Jacob Strickler, who is meant. He is employed at the depot of the Sunbury and Lewistown division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Strickler received a letter a few years ago from Peter Smith, of England, stating that this amount had been deposited in his favor. The se vices of Congressman L. E. Atkinson, ex-Governor Pollock and an attorney at Washington have been secured to get possession of the fortune. In 1854 Strickler made the acquaintance of Smith, who was a

Vilas' Idea Not Sweeping Enough.

"Turn the rascals out" expresses th entiment of the vast majority of the people and it is that sentiment which Postmaster General Vilas heeds in his who has abused his trust he proposes to remove him and substitute a man who will attend to duty—not to the manipulation of conventions, caucuses and wires. The only fault to be found, if any, is that he proposes to draw the large rather too mildly. His idea seems to be that from one-sixth to one-quarter of the postmasters have been offento almost any reader in the circle of towns in which he is acquainted one-half at least of all the postmasters have been more active in attending to the workings of party machinery than to the duties of office? We believe those who will consider for a moment will agree with us that the Postmaster Gen-eral has given postmasters the advan-tage of every possible doubt.

A Small Wheat Crop.

COMPLETE SURVEY SHOWING THAT IT WILL BE THE WORST FOR TEN YEARS.

The Farmers Review of Chicago has made a complete survey of all the Western and Southern wheat-growing States. "The gloomiest views advanced concerning the winter wheat outlook for 1885," it says, "must now be accepted as the most accurate. The absolute uniformity of the returns in-dicate that the outlook this year is the worst in ten years and it may be set down as positive that under the most favoring conditions the total winter and spring wheat yield to fall considerably under the short crop of 1881, when the total product was 380,000,000 bushels." The Review estimates the winter wheat yield at about 200, 000,000 bushels and the absolute percentages from the most trustworthy souces indicate that the yield will fall somewhat under than over these figures. The probable spring wheat yield, based upon continuing favorable weather, will be 130,000,000 bushels. The total wheat crop of the country, therefore, from the present outlook, will be from 320,000,000 to 330,000,000 bushels are a second to the country that the country therefore, from the present outlook, will be from 320,000,000 to 330,000,000 bushels are a second to the country that the els, against an average yield for the past five years of 464,000,000 bushels.

An Earthquake in India

CITY DESTROYED AND MANY LIVES LOST HUNDREDS BURIED IN THE BUINS.

LONDON June 2,-A dispatch rom Ser magur, India, says the city was visited by a frightful earthquake Sunday. The shocks, which occurred at intervals of the minutes, were of great violence. The greater part of the city was destroyed, and ten cavalry barracks is a mass of ruins. Fifty persons are known to have been killed and hund-reds of the injured have already been taken from the general wreck. The total loss of life or number maimed must remain unknown for several days, as many of the inhabitants are still buried in the ruins. When the shocks were first felt, and the people realized that they were being subjected to the awful possibilities of an earthquake, the wildest panic seized them. Every one able to do so rushed from the houses and fled to the boats on the river and lakes or sought the open country.

The terrified inhabitants are camped in the fields and surrounding towns Serinagur is in the centre of the val ley of Cashmere, and the whole terri-tory experienced terrible shocks. The damages caused throughout the valley are enormous. The loss in cattle alone is very great. The affrighted people seem to be utterly helpless, and succor is being sent as rapidly as the Indian authorities can organize relief. Many of the houses yet standing show large rents in the walls and must be razed to the ground. The shocks have not yet ceased. This fact greatly retards the work of rescuing the people pinned down in the debris. It is feared many must perish before they can be reached by relief parties.

A Mugwump Revolt.

There are surface indications among the Republicans of opposition to the cool manner in which Messrs. Quay and Magee propose to make the State Treasurer contest a question of person-al interest as between themselves. Although such an arrangement, as carrying out the principle of boss rule, is in conformity to the habits and traditions conformity to the habits and traditions of the party, and is regarded by the rank and file as within the natural order of things, yet there is being developed a displeasure on the part of other party leaders who object to the State Treasurership being made a personal issue between the two prominent bosses of the party. Therefore we hear of a Senatorial causes with a purpose of a Senatorial caucus with a purpose in regard to a candidate entirely different from that of either Boss Quay or Boss Magee; and encouraged by this initial movement in opposition to boss rule, some of the Pittsburg leaders are venturing upon the expression of an opinion of their own on the State Treasrer question.

But there has been kicking of this kind before without disconcerting the plans of the one or two managers who tige of mugwumpian contumacy has disappeared. The contest for Treasurer will be between Quay and Magee, with the former in all probability master of the situation .- Patriot

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.] Washington, June 1, 1885.

This morning I thought I would take a birds-eye view of Washington in her summer dress, and instead of writing you a political news letter, tell of your country looks on the first of June after a week of rain. I am writing from the top of the Washington Monument, at an elevation of 500 feet.

The city is spread out below me like a chess board in which the church spires are bishops, the equestrian statues, knights, the huge department buildings, castles, and the palaces of millionaire senators—but I have stretched as an insolvent debtor, but the median grounds have a bright emerald fre.h. preferred going to jail. ness. The many thousands of trees that now reach the house tops give the appearance of a city planted in a young forest. From this height one can get a much better general view of the improvements that are in progress, 2 o'clock this afternoon, while a num-than by driving over the city. The visible public improvements are confined mainly to the Potomac flats the Pension Office, the new State Department and the Capitol. It has long been an objection to the Capitol that it was squatty or stumpy in its architecture, and that imposing for such a flat pile of build-ings as are the House and Senate wings. To build the Capitol over again when it has already cost about $15,000,000 was too extravagant an indertaking even for this country. To build the Senate and House wings higher was not desirable, for taken by its height by building it lower! The west front of the Capitol is surrounded by a sodded terrace. This is to be removed and a white marble lower story is to be added to it. The work

A story is told in the Washington Capital of one of the heads of division whose resignation was asked for last week, and who went on Friday to see Secretary Manning, with a view of getting some mitigation of his sentence. He was received with much kindness by the Secretary who asked him if he had not all along anticipated removal when a Democratic Administration should come in. "I really cannot see," said the Secre-

The Republican official demurred to this, and said that he had faithfully performed his duties, was not a poli-tician, and no one had complained of

THE SOLDIER BURIAL BILL.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Dear Sirs:—Resolutions by a committee of the "Gen. Ent Post No. 250, G. A. R.," in behalf and at the request of the people of the State, join in their disapproval of the narrow minded and unpatriotic action of the Governor and those members of the Legislature who sustained the veto, and condemnation of the Governor's "audacity" in vetoing the "Soldiers and Sailors indi-gent burial bill." As a citizen of the State I have a right in opinion as well as the G. A. R. but will neither condemn the Governor's action, nor the Legislature bill. It is very evident that some one has blundered, either the Governor, or the "noble six hundred." But can the G. A. R. or any other fir-minded citizen tell which ! In the event of a righteous and patriotic law, the Governor will, and should receive universal condemnation. On the other hand the Legislature will, and should receive it. Only one or the other is responsible for the weal or woe of the above named bill. The Governor's veto message seemed so reasonable and convincing to a fair-minded citizen that he could not have been actuated by any selfish motive, or, partisan purpose, but for the patriotic protection of tax paying citizens of the various counties hand the Legislature, by an almost unanimous vote passed the bill, the Governr's objections notwithstanding, which bill also seems to purport pat riotic designs. And which leaves the a blot upon the Governor, or, upon the Legislature. If the bill is a nonpartisan and patriotic one, and which the people in future heartily endorse, then the legislature have the entire credit, and the Governor will have no share of its praiseworthy fruits. If on the other hand the law should become burthensome and obnoxious to the tax paying citizens of the different counties, as in the Governor's judgment it seemed it would, then the Governor was right vant." We will condemn neither one
