DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania met in Convention at Harrisburg on Wed-nesday. Chairman Hensel called the meeting to order at 10:30. R. P. Allen was chosen temporary chairman. Hon. Jacob Turney of Westmoreland was elected permanent chairman, and made a ringing speech. Courad B. Day was unanimously nominated for State Treasurer, and then after the adoption of the platform, and a few strong speeches the convention ad-

We clip the following item from the Washington Republican.

"The prospects for the coming season indicate unusual activity in trade. Washington merchants are providing themselves with ample stocks to meet the expected demand, knowing full well that present prices are rulling at the very lowest quotations and that any change from them will be an advance. This state of affairs naturally gives buyers such confidence as induces them to

for a Blaine organ to make. The Democratic Administration is not six months old yet, and this same paper was among those that predicted that the success of the democratic party would ruin the country. Now they for a Blaine organ to make. The nothing in their ante-election attempt to influence the labor vote. The business of the country is no worse than it was for many years under republi-can rule, and if any reliance can be placed on the prediction of such papers as the above, it is slowly improving.

Mr. Montgomery, the new Commissioner of Patents, while engaged in "turning the rascals out," decapitated a messenger in his bureau who had been in office for several years without doing much of anything to earn his salary. Upon receiving his discharge he made a great ado over it, and insisted that the axe had fallen on the wrong neck. He was a Democrat, he said, and had always been a Democrat; had voted the ticket straight at every election, and stood by his party even in the face of discharge by a Republican Admin-istration. Mr. Montgomery looked him over and then called for the letters of recommendation upon which he was originally appointed. You are a Demoerat, are you !"

"Yes sir," replied the man.

"And always have been ?" "Always."

"Then you are discharged for false-hood and for obtaining an office under false pretences. In this application for appointment filed five years ago you state that you are a Republican, no one but Republicans endorsed you, and every one of them commends you as a faithful and useful member of that party. You can go." There are a good many department clerks turning up who have always been Democrats, but this example has assisted to make such pretensions un popular.

An Interesting Review.

IN WHICH THE CHANGES OF MAIL SER VICE TRANSPORTATION ARE CONSIDER-ED-A VETERAN'S ACCOUNT.

Mr. John Jamieson, the general superintendent of the railway mail service, smiled as he leaned back in his chair and thought of the difference between the way we distribute now and tween the way we distribute now and almost be said, enthusiastic indorse-the way it was done before the ments of the course the Administra-war. "Yes," said he, "things seem to tion has so far pursued. have changed since the days when the mail bag used to be received into one corner of the baggage car at Washington and thrown out by the baggagemaster at Baltimore or New York, just is marked by honesty and sincerity of as he received it. In those days the purpose, should receive the favorable that place. railway car that carried the mail was not a railway postoffice, with its staff those who place him in position. It is of busy clerks, as it is now. The rail-difficult to see how any Democrat can laid, one across Third street, on West road did nothing but transport the bags from one city to another. No present Administration, although he official at the postoffice went along may think that some things have been either to guard and protect them or in any way to handle them on the way. The distribution then used to very slow work, too; now there is comparatively little of the work of distribution done at the receiving offices-there is no time for that. The letters and packages of all sorts are thrown in

It was twenty years ago that the railway postoffice took the place of the old distributing offices. You know certain postoffices, designated for the purpose, used to receive and collect the mails both in large parcels and separate package from various points for particular regions of country, and then distribute them to the various places to which they were addressed. These were called distributing offices, and Democratic success is inconsistent with were called distributing offices, and served as landmarks to guide the course of the mails to distant points.

They received them in bulk from the landmarks to guide the freedmen."

If nothing else had been accomplish-of men work from Baltimore to Grafnot hurt the administration sny, and they appear to amuse the opposition organs, so it is hardly worth while to contradict them. the through lines are managed. One set of men always travel between the same two points.

"Carrying the mails is not the fun it used to be in the old coaching days?" "No; there was no room for a staff of distributing clerks on the old stages. Why, sometimes there wasn't even room enough for the mails. When people began to be numerous and the number of letters increased, and especially when the newspapers began to be formidable both in size and weight-formidable, I mean, for a two horse stage. You know the roads were none too good, and when the old machine got stuck in a hole it was quite the custom to heave the mails, especially the newspapers, which were twenty or thirty times the weight and size of the letters, overboard, so that the passengers might have room, and the stage with its lighter burden might trudge on. But the stages were independent institutions. It was only at their own convenience that they would take the mail. The money had a good deal to do with the matter. You know the This is quite a remarkable admission stage would not take the letters until a sufficient number of them had accu-

would ruin the country. Now they are compelled to admit that there was better for speed or regularity; in fact the stages beat the railroads for some time. In the last years of the coaching period, you know, the distance be-tween Philadelphia and New York was covered in six hours, being at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, whereas for the first week or so the railroads complained that eleven miles an hour was too much to ask for the money. As a matter of fact the stages kept the mails from the railroads for a good while on score of speed. However, it was but short time, and the stage had to go. But thirty years ago 360 route agents and 34 local agents performed all the work required in handling the mail for the whole country.

"Do you know that at present more than 120 tons of mail matter leave New York city every day? Some years ago, when a great deal of the disribution was done in the city office, the work fell behind, and there was a great accumulation of paper mails on certain days of each week. The deand by this means the block was entirely overcome. At present one-half of the newspaper mail received at the New York office for distribution pass-es through it intact to the railway

Indorsing the Administration

Notwithstanding the effort that is being made by its political opponents to create the impression that a deepseated dissatisfaction with the Admin istration exists in the Democratic party, the indications upon which an inpression on the subject may be formed are just the opposite, and encourage the Administration with the assurance the report was received and adopted that it has the good will and wishes of the party as a mass. Within the last week it has been indorsed by the Dem ocrats of the New Hampshire Legisla-ture, by the Democratic State Commit-tee of New York, and by the Demo-itemized bill amounting to $47.23 for crats of Iowa, Mississippi and Ohio in State Conventions assembled. These expressions were not half hearted and perfunctory, but they were and, it may

Indeed there could be no reason why this should not be so. It is very natuthat a public officer who is evidently trying to do his duty and whose course consideration and earnest support of done that should have been done other-wise or left undone. Such objections do not extend to matters that touch street. done at a stationary office, and it was the solid principles of the party, or af-

Cest, a trench about one hundred and the kind of support the President ten feet long leading from the Market and packages of all sorts are thrown in mail cars and the work of distribution is done on the cars while they are flying along the rails at full speed on the way between the sender and the addressee. At present there are about 4300 or 4400 railway postal clerks in the United States always on the road and busy at this work."

"You have been familiar with the workings of the railway mail service for a long time *f"

The kind of support the President is receiving should be especially gratifying and encouraging to him, for it evinces the sincere friendship of men who are not willing that difference of opinion as to unessential points of policy should interfere with their approval along time for a long time *f"

The kind of support the President is receiving should be especially gratifying and encouraging to him, for it evinces the sincere friendship of men would lay the pipe in said trench as well as furnish the pipe, and if the Council would accept this proposition, he would advance the money needed to purchase the necessary pipe, the Council to give him an order therefor, which he would use in the payment of his taxes in 1886. On motion of Sharp no opportunity of public expression to pass without an emphatic and hearty

If nothing else had been accomplished by the election of a Democratic President, the simple fact that it has demonstrated that the Government can road car while it was flying along to its destination, and thus the work was removed from the distributing offices. States is dishonest, disloyal and incapasection of the Constitution which for bids one railroad from purchasing a competing line. The hearing will take place on September 8th.

Occasionally we see a paragraph in the New York newspapers about the health or pursuits of one, William A. Wheeler. There are probably nine out of ten people who stop to think who the man is, and have to be reminded that only five years ago he was Vice President of the United States. How soon the frauds of 1876 have passed into oblivion?

Republican papers are amusing their readers inst now with reports of a from New York to Washington to Washington to Summer resorts above above their number of hands were comparatively small. Car and lives as plainly as the lowest grade clerk in his office.

Secretary Lamar also lives very plainly. He is occupying for the summer the house of Senator McPherson of New Jersey and he takes daily exercise in the saddle.

He Wants the Post Office.

Postmaster P. H. Dowley of Toledo, Ohio, authorized the following; "I cannot indorse the Republican platform nor vote the ticket longer, cause the party continues to appeal to sectional passion, while the patriots who formed it never shared in such feeling. The present leaders are asking for its supremacy on the assumption that over half our citizens are enemies to the Government. All patriots should rebuke this falsehood. The party has drifted into the hands of men of whom Gen. Grant said: "They did not get enough of fighting during the war, and are doing their fighting now.' Men should not be deceived ino believing that another rebellion is brewing, when the air is voiced with jubilee of peace and good will.

"For many years the platforms of the Republican party have rung out for economy and purity of public service, and yet when a man has been found who, like President Cleveland, makes vital these very principles, they turn around and denounce him as an enemy of the Government. President Cleveland's course as Governor is simply being repeated on a grander scale; every branch of the public ser-vice has profited by the reforms inaug-urated, and the result will be the sayry. President Cleveland deserves the must most emphatically decline to march in the so-called Republican procession this fall. I cannot obey the commands of such leaders, and shall strenously resist every effort they may put forth to subvert good government and exalt themselves at the expense of a reunited country."

This is pretty good Democratic talk for a republican postmaster. It would have sounded better, however, had it come last fall instead of this. It looks as though such officials were in favor of a revenue for office only.

There are three members of Congress who have houses in Washington and at present are residing here and making this city their regular home, notwithstanding their legal residences are many miles away. Mr. C. R. Breckenridge, member from Arkansas where here is a Ping Plant Arkansas whose home is at Pine Bluff, has a house upon Capital Hill, and with his family has been there all the summer and intends to remain. Hon. John S. Barbour of Virginia, lives in Washington also, although Alexandria is his legal residence. Mr. Barbour also resides on Capitol Hill. Mr. Benjamin Butterworth, who, while Commission er of Patents, took a house out at Le Droit Park, has had his family there ever since, and has paid little atten-tion to his home in Cincinnati. Mr. W. M. King, that new chief of the Seed Division at the Agricultural Department, seems to be taking hold his work with real vigor. Mr. King was well known by Commission-er Coleman before the appointment was made, and it is said that he is pe culiarly well posted on the various soils of the country and the seeds that will thrive therein. The difficulty with this Department in the past, and the reason it has been brought into disfavor is because seeds were not judiciousiv distributed. The Department is now sending out wheat and rye. A new kind of wheat, which Mr. King calls ing of millions of dollars to the people and a better civil service in this count. the Houghton farm variety, he expects support of every thinking American of the best ever distributed. He is citizen irrespective of party in what he is doing. Holding the views I do, I seed into the South also. Four varieties of Italian wheat have recently been received at the Department, which will be distributed to the experiment stations.

The reported breach between the President and Mr. Tilden has fallen very flat. Few persons took any stock in its truth, and as was very likely the expectation of its author. Somebody else will probably take Mr. Tilden place in a day or so as the "bitterly disappointed and vindictive Demo crat, and so the good work will go on until the name of every prominent Democrat shall have been dragged in. This is not very good campaign material, but it is a valuable as any good Republicans can now lay their hands on.

Wanted-A Fortune.

Several hundred members of the Zechman family in Berks county are excited over the information that a fortune of $20,000,000 is awaiting them in Switzerland. They are now advertising for the recovery of the missing family Bible, which alone is needed to establish the claim of evidence to secure the fortune. The family say that the last man who had it was Fred. Moyer, who when last heard from resided near Williamsport; but he cannot new be found.

This is the old, old story. A fortune of millions in Europe somewhere, a family gathering to take steps to secure it, the assessment of a few thous and dollars to pay an agent's expenses to go over and investigate, the agent goes over, investigates, comes home, reports progress, pretty soon has to go over again, more money wanted, an other assessment, agent takes another trip, and so on indefinitely until just as he has everything in shape to secure the fortune, the family Bible is missing, a link in the chain is gone, and the dupes who have been putting their hands in their pockets and paying out their money with the hopes of suddeny enriching themselves are no nearer he possession of the fortune than when they first started. Fortunes in Europe belong to which American heirs are not lying around loose, and they are foolish who bother their heads and empty their pocket books in the indulgence of such vain hopes.

In answer to questions as to the propriety or advantage of putting Hungarian or Slavonian slate pickers in the breakers, a prominent colliery foreman says that the change would not create any serious trouble, as it has been reported but the foreigners could be made rather fair workers after considerable practice. It is a fact, however, that one good boy is worth two inexperienced men at the occupation of coal cleaning. The only difficulty anticipated from the change is in the form of complaints about the fuel after it reaches the city markets.

this paper in full to date, and one year in advance, will be presented with one year's subscription to

A sixteen-page Agricultural Magazine, published by E. A. Hackett, at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural publications of the country. It is devoted exclusively to the interests of the Farmer, Stock Breeder, Dairyman, Gardener, and their household, and every species of industry connected with that great portion of the people of the world, the Farmers. The subscription price is ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR. Farmers cannot well get along without it. It puts new ideas into their minds. t teaches them how to farm with profit to themselves. It makes the home happy, the young folks cheerful, the growler contented, the downcast happy, and the demagogue honest.
