The funeral of Gen. Geo. B. Mc-Clellan took place on Monday. The remains were taken from his home in Orange N. J. to the residence of Mr. W. C. Prime, New York, on Sunday, and services were held at Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church on Monday. Among the pall-bearers were Gen. Hancock, Gen. Joseph E. John ston, Gen. Fitz John Porter, Gen. W B. Franklin, Gen. McMahon, Congress man A. S. Hewitt, and other distin-guished soldiers and citizens. In obed ience to the request of Mrs. McClellan the services were of a very simple character, and there was no military display and no brass bands in the procession. The great general had expressed his aversion to such funeral plays orly a few weeks ago, and so was laid away simply as a private citizen. There was an immense crowd in attendance.

INTEMPERATE TEMPERANCE.

Women who devote their talents to the welfare of their race, are entitled to the greatest respect and consideration. Whether it be in church work, in the missionary field at home or abroad, in the temperance cause, or in labors of love of any kind, her influence for good is great, when her course of action is governed only by a desire to do good, and balanced by christian charity and common sense. Unfortunately there are many women and men too, who are drawn into public life simply by a desire to become conspicuous, and because they are somewhat allied to the genus "crank." And of this latter class a striking instance has come to our notice. week and this, for several days the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in Philadelphia the eleventh annual convention. The President of this Union is Miss F. E. Willard of Chicago, and on Friday last in addressing the convention she gave atterance to some most remarkable language. In the course of her annual address she said:

Crimes against women seem to be on the increase everywhere. It is not by the vain attempt to reintroduce the exploded harem method of seclading women that they are to be saved. When we remember the unavenged murder of Jennie Cramer, of New Haven, the acquittal of the ravishers of a cultivated Illinois school teacher; when we reflect that the Pull Molt Gosette says the law is framed to allow men to outrage girls. law is framed to allow men to outrage girls with impunity; that in Massachusetts and Vermont it is a greater crime to steal a cow than to rum a girl; that in Illinois seduction is not recognized as a crime, it is a marvel not to be explained that we go on the even tenor of our way too delicate, too refined, too prudish to make any allusion to these awful facts. We have been the victims of conventional cowardice too

As to our relation with politics we do As to our relation with pointers we do not forget in the midst of our unmistakable gains that the Democratic party is the open ally of the liquor oligarchy in the realm of national politics. We want the Democratic party to bite the dust. The saloon is entrenched in politics eyen more firmly than in law. We can write and speak and pray for the only party that de-clares "the saloon must go." What the lady says of the social evil is true and deserves the heartiest endorsement, but the language immediately following that, clearindicates that she is a republican, and is endeavoring to run the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union as an auxilliary to that party. Her charitable character disappears, and she displays her strong partisan bias. She has no word of condemnation for the party in the state of Connecticut, more frequently republican than democratic, where the murder of the unfortunate I would be supported by the state of Connecticut, and the state of Connecticut, more frequently republican than democratic, where the murder of the unfortunate I would be supported by the state of the state of Consumption, Bronchial affections, Scrofular, Salt-Rheum, Loss of Manhood, Skin discases, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Old Sores, Enidemocratic, where the murder of the unfortunate Jennie Cramer has gone unavenged. She has nothing to say agginst the republican party in the strongly republican state of Illinois where the ravishers of a "cultivated school mistress were acquitted, and where "seduction is not recognized as a crime." No comments on the strong republican states of Massachusetts and Vermont where "it is a greater crime to steal a cow than to rain a girl." He owes his wide reputation for the successful treatment of all lingering or chronic cases, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Old Sores, Epiters, Syphilis, Deafness, Loss of Voice, Chronic Diarrhoea, Chills and Feyer, Worms, Liver complaint, Cancers, Tumors, Paralysis, Tape worm, Heart disease, &c. &c. &c. of intemperance. Perhaps she is not VOTE POLLED AT GENERAL ELECTION, TUESDAY, of intemperance. Perhaps she is not aware that in the southern states controlled by the Democrats there are much fewer saloons than in the northern Republican states. In Pennsylvania where the Republicans have had a majority in the legislature, and the entire state government for many years with but few exceptions, the liquor traffic is legalized, and in Philadelphis where Miss Willard's intemperate speech was made, with its 15. perate speech was made, with its 15, 000 to 20,000 republican majority, with its republican Mayor and police force, with the courts largely controlled by the same party, the liquor laws are a dead letter and intoxicating drinks are sold on Sunday with perfect im punity. And the same may be said on nearly every city in the north, and ye THE REPUBLICAN TICKET ELECTED IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Quay has been elected State Treasurer by a majority of 25,000 to 30,000 and the people of Pennsylvania have intemperate tongues cannot be restrain ed. The Democratic party can stansuch criticism, but the temperance cause cannot stand it, and can neve hope to make much progress as a poli-tical organization until the cranks and hot heads within its ranks can be made to undertand that its battles must be East Scott.

Although much is said about the importance of a blood-purifying medicine, it may be possible that the subject has never seriously claimed your attention. Think of it now:

Almost every person nas some form of serofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in Scrofulous Sores, Ulcers, or Eruptions, or in the form of Rheumatism, or Organic Diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible. THE RADIANT HOME BASE-BURNER.

ed to call and see.

We never had a coal stove around the house until last Saturday. Have al ways used pine slabs and pieces of our neighbor's fence. They burn well, too, but the fence got all burned up, and the neighbor said he wouldn't build a new one, so we went down to Jones's and got a coal stove. It is called the "Radiant Home," is manufactured by BLACK & GERMER, of Eric, Pa., and any man that says we didn't have a radiant home at our house for about four hours last Saturday night, is a Republican and a villain. You see, we didn't know anything about coal stoves. We filled the Radiant Home about halfknow anything about coal stoves. We filled the Radiant Home about half-full of pine fence, and, when the stuff got well to going, we filled the artesian well on top with coal. It simmered and sputtered about five or ten minutes, and all went out, and we put on an overcoat and a pair of buckskin mittens and "went out too" to supper. We remarked, in the course of the fruga meal, that Jones was a "froad" for recommending such a confounded refrige rator to a man to get warm by. After supper we took a piece of ice and rub-bed our hands warm, and went in where that stove was, resolved to make her draw and burn if it took all the pine fence in the First Ward. Our better-half threw a quilt over her, and shiveringly remarked that she never knew what real solid comfort was until she got a coal stove. Stung by the sarcasm in her remark, we turned every dingus on the stove that was movable, or looked like it had anything to do with a draft, and pretty soon the Radiant Home began to heave up heat. It was not long before she stattered like the new Silsby steamer. Talk about your heat! In ten minutes that room was as much worse than a Turkish bath as Hades is hotter than Liverman's ice-house. The perspiration fairly fried out of a tin water cooler in the next room. We open ed the doors, and snow began to melt as far up Vine street as Hanseombe's house, and people all around the neighborhood put on linen clothes. And we couldn't stop the confounded thing. We forgot what Jones told us about the dampers, and she kept a biling. The only thing we could do was to go to bed, and leave the thing to burn the house up if it wanted to. We stood off with a role and travel the dampers are respectively. with a pole and turned the damper every way, and at every turn she just sent out heat enough to roast an ox. We went to bed, supposing that the coal would eventually burn out, but about twelve o'clock the whole family had to get up and sit on the fence. Finally, a man came along who had been brought up among coal stoves, and he put a wet blanket over him and crept up to the proper dingus, and she cooled off, and since that time has been just as comfortable as possible. If you buy a coal stove you want to learn how to engneer it, or you may get roasted.
