

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1886.

Simon Cameron was 87 years old last Monday.

It seems to be generally conceded that General Beaver will be the next Republican candidate for Governor.

Mrs. Horatio Seymour died in Utica N. Y. on Monday. She had been in ill health for some time, and was very sick when her husband died less than a month ago.

Samuel Johnson, a negro, has been convicted of the murder of John Sharpless in Chester county. The widow failed to identify him, but another criminal named Pritchard sworn to a confession made by Johnson to him.

The constitutionality of the Tax Law of 1885 will soon be decided by the Supreme Court, on an appeal that went up from Lackawanna county.

Judge Hand of Scranton, and Judge Schuyler of Easton have decided the law constitutional, but there is reason to hope the higher tribunal may reverse them.

Columbia county should put its best foot forward, and nominate Hon. Charles R. Buckalew for congress, if he will accept. The Eleventh Congressional district is one of the best in the State, and this county with the largest democratic majority of any in the district, has not been allowed a congressman.

Senator Wilson's bill to increase the rate on four class mail matter will double the present rate, making it thirty-two cents per pound instead of sixteen. While he claims that it is in the interest of the small dealers throughout the country, it is really for the benefit of the express companies whose business would be largely increased by making postage so high that small packages of a pound would be sent by express cheaper than by mail.

Fourth-class matter embraces photographs, printed blanks, patterns, maps, merchandise, models, samples, seeds, bulbs, paintings, &c. The postage is now one cent and one-half higher than in any other country.

If any change is made it should be reduced to the old eight cent rate, instead of being doubled.

We are inclined to treat our contemporary, the Sentinel, with more courtesy than it shows us when it alleges that our Pennsylvania correspondent was only a cover for our own article. A communication in that paper last week signed X. we are willing to admit was not written by any one in their office. It is courteous, reasonably well written, and though somewhat defective in grammatical details, is a large improvement on that respect than most of the writing in that paper, we believe for these reasons that it is a communication, as it purports to be.

While endeavoring to be fair the writer is unfair in his effort to make it appear that the Correspondent has done certain expenditure of public money. This is not true. We have simply shown the insincerity of Mr. Krickbush in fudging with others for following precedents established by him.

In 1873 we criticised the payment of $25 to the clerk for stating the accounts, and the times since then and our opinion has not changed. Our criticisms were made when we were receiving a fair share of the public printing, and not under a threat that unless certain unauthorized bills were allowed by the commissioners and auditors we would be taken from the printing statement. Such a threat was made by the owner of the Sentinel, and he is now carrying it out.

The writer who signs himself X either is not a resident of the COLUMBIAN, or else does not remember what he has written. The files of the COLUMBIAN show that this paper attacked some of the commissioners on the new jail job, and it was mainly through its efforts that the first contract was rescinded and thousands of dollars saved the taxpayers of this county. Again a few years later, the contract to build a $12,000 addition to the jail was abandoned by the commissioners because the taxpayers were aroused against it by the COLUMBIAN. On another occasion did any other paper have the courage to attack the commissioners. At the same time we were receiving a fair share of the county printing and for several years afterwards were cut short on it. When Mr. X insinuates that we have kept silence by the offer of patronage he either shows his ignorance of local history, or else wilfully misrepresents.

It is not murder for one sharper to kill another. New York Times says Holland was sent acquitted on a charge of shooting Tom Davis in that city. Holland lives in Texas, and hearing that Davis had a peculiar way of making money, he went to New York to beat the sharper at his own game. Davis pretended to sell counterfeit money, and when Holland was taken for him he took him to his room and counted out a pile of genuine bills. If the purchaser was satisfied, the money was placed in a satchel and put in a desk on the plea that some one might come in and surprise them, and while the victim was counting out his money an accomplice took the bills from the satchel through a panel in an adjoining room, and replaced them with a bundle of paper cut and tied like the bills. The victim went out with his purchase and when he discovered the fraud he returned to prosecute, as he was guilty of an offense in trying to obtain counterfeit money.

In the present case Holland had learned of this game, and went to see Davis with the intention of preventing any change being made through the good money, which Holland gave him $500, and then grabbed the satchel and attempted to leave the room. Davis undertook to prevent him, and Holland shot and killed him. The jury claim that the verdict was grounded on the belief that the act was done in self-defense. Holland went to see Davis with the intention of obtaining counterfeit money, and it is hard to see how the jury could acquit him. The world was well rid of Tom Davis, even at the hands of another villain and if the gallows had been permitted to send Holland after him, it could just as easily have been said.

SUPERINTENDENT HIGBEE.

Governor Pattison ought not to have appointed Dr. E. H. Higbee to the position of Superintendent of Public Instruction, because he is a republican, and the democratic party was entitled to the office. But now strong and sufficient reasons why he should resign have been shown, and Dr. Higbee is investigating the Soldiers' Orphan's schools and exposing the miserable condition of some of these institutions. The Superintendent writes a letter in self-defense and confesses his ignorance of the condition of things which the Governor has discovered. It was the Superintendent's duty to know all about these schools, and the manner in which they are conducted, and if he has failed to do this, he is incompetent to fill the responsible position which he occupies. Mount Joy where the boys were taken to school is a filthy place, and the boys and 180 of them bathe in the same tubs without change of water, and with one towel, is only a few miles from Harrisburg, and was often visited by Dr. Higbee, and yet he did not know that these pupils were kept on 13 cents a day. While thirty clothes are the items all of which the Governor and Attorney General discovered on their first visit. It will not do to say that somebody else is responsible for the negligent care of these children, and Dr. Higbee's defense is not at all satisfactory.

The Neglected Orphans. There have been some astonishing revelations made in the Mount Joy Soldiers' Orphan's School. Governor Pattison and Attorney General Casiday visited the school accompanied by the Hon. J. W. Cass and others. They found 180 boys who had to sleep in stables.

E. O. Kreider, who has been acting as manager for the school since September 1, was sent for to give the committee some idea of the cost of running the school. He had in his possession a number of bills which showed the average cost of board per day for each pupil to be 13 2/10 cents.

Several boys were called to testify concerning their treatment. Among the number was Frank Hicks, of Bedford county, 14 years of age. He had been at the school accompanied by his father, who said that if Dr. Newman gets the appointment the church will receive substantial aid from Senator Stanford.

It would seem that the Crosses of the Pacific Coast does not relish this kind of popularity and gossip, for he has recently taken a few of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church and intends to occupy it. Senator Stanford is by far the wealthiest man in Congress.

He is not considered an intellectual force, but he probably gives the most recherche dinners of any millionaire in Washington. He recently had a dinner at St. John's with twelve members of the Pacific Coast delegation in Congress. The guests sat down to a dinner whose wines and fruits were from California. The tea and coffee service were of solid gold from California mines on a massive gold tray.

There is in Georgia a woman 70 years old who has never eaten a mouthful of meat of any kind. Some malicious person says that the delicious fresh vegetables served at Florida hotels all come out of one little tin.

It is said college athletes are subjected to a kind of calculation of brain and muscle both does not improve the belows.

Information that in Dakota one can buy the best butter at eight cents a pound is what makes Eastern housekeepers indignant.

Society is just like a pie. There is an upper crust and a lower crust, but the real strength and substance lies between them.

An American living in Kobe, Japan, has engaged thirty very skillful Japanese ivory carvers to introduce the art into this country.

New York and Washington belles now carry opera glasses to church. They shored the distance to a new bonnet on the head of another woman.

In the gastronomic almanac, it is said, "about this time look out for spring chickens." Boarding-house keepers do not rely on the almanac.

There is a story of a bride reading the hotel menu who asked her husband to read the menu of the party of 20. "It must be French cooking," said he.

Senator Sawyer, of Wisconsin, one of the richest and single men in the Senate, usually rides in the street cars in going to and from the Capitol.

A scientist states as a most wonderful fact that salmon sometimes jump sixteen feet. Guess the professor has never seen a woman trying to get away from a mouse.

The conductors and drivers of the New York street car lines struck last night, and though 10,000 of them were gathered together there was no violence done to person or property. The companies acceded to the demands of their employees and the cars were running again in a few hours.

About the time that Samuel Johnson was convicted of the murder of John Sharpless, another negro of the same name was dazing in the air Eaton-town, New Jersey, for assaulting a young lady at that place. The dastard met her on a lonely road, and under a threat of death accomplished his purpose. The recognized him, however, and he was arrested and placed in the lock-up, from which he was taken by a mob, and after being slowly pounded to death with clubs his mangled body was hung up outside the door. Lynch law within fifty miles of New York city is something new.

We notice that Mr. E. P. Alberton has sold his stage route office to William S. Fleckenstein, of Orangeville, for whose honesty, integrity and sobriety we can vouch. We will do his duty and deserve the patronage of every one on the line from Benton to Bloomsburg.

Mr. John Karus will put up a fine house in town this Summer. The subject of an Academy to be built in Benton is being argued. A meeting will be held on Saturday evening to consider the propriety of the movement. We trust the conclusion of the matter will be to go on and put up an Academy, as its worth to the present and coming generations of children is inestimable.

Rev. Savage delivered his farewell address or sermon on last Sabbath evening. He made some very pointed remarks, but not any too pointed, especially from a man occupying his position. He leaves many warm friends in Benton.

One thought now and we will give you a rest, and that is to tell you readers what kind of business not presented (to our knowledge as yet), we think is sorely needed. The first is a planing mill, the second is a good tailor.

Council Proceedings.

Regular meeting of council, Friday March 5th. All members present. Committee on road from river to canal at Port Noble, report that they examined the same and find some parts too narrow as represented in the contemplated plan. The proposition is ordered to consult with the solicitor to learn what course must be pursued to widen the road.

Enos Jacoby, Commissioner of highways, produced two specimens of limestone from Upper Lime Ridge, which can be obtained here at station at 70c per ton. Mr. Storrie also reports that he learned of parties who would haul limestone from the valley below town at 40 cents per ton in winter time. Committee on road materials was continued.

On motion building permits were granted to Charles Krug, Edward Kester and S. C. Creay, provided that the latter does not build to a point less than 16 1/2 feet from west side of Jefferson alley.

Bill of Columbia County for rent of old jail stable Jan. 1st, 1886, $35, was received. On motion it was ordered that the same be paid after deducting the several claims that the town has against the county.

The following bills were passed and secretary instructed to draw orders for the same: Enos Jacoby, Com. Highways, $1.25; John W. White, Com. Highways, $1.25; John W. White, Com. Highways, $1.25; John W. White, Com. Highways, $1.25.

M. C. Woodward high school, $11.00; M. C. Woodward high school, $11.00; M. C. Woodward high school, $11.00; M. C. Woodward high school, $11.00.

BRIEF MENTION. Ex-Governors in Connecticut never die. Eleven of them are flourishing there now.

China has 563 books on behavior, 361 of which refer directly to the ceremonial of dining.

The quickest way for a young man to become a millionaire is to marry a millionaire.

Mars was the god of war, but he couldn't compare in this respect with man-in-law.

We dispense of broom drills. The average woman can wield a broom too well already.
