BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1886.

A comet is now visible in the northwestern sky. It can be seen about an hour after sunset.

The Mt. Carmel Trotting park Association was formed Monday. Hon. Jerre Snyder was chosen President and Benjamin Wert, Secretary. Twenty acres of land between Mt. Carmel and Shamokin have been leased, and a large number of men will be put to work at once to prepare the course. The stockholders are prominent business men and coal operators, and it is their intention to make Mt. Carmel the. their intention to make Mt. the President may do. One of them, for instance, because Mr. Cleveland applies himself so closely to his official duties, thinks he is laboring under the erroneous impression that the government would have to suspend if it were not for his exertions. If the President did not apply himself closely to business the captions critics would be call-ing him a drone, but their fault finding is of but little account to a public official who understands his duty and has the will to do it. They complain, when he removes Republican office holders, that he is violating the rules of civil service reform. When he does not remove them he is accused of infidelity to his party. "Anything to find fault with" is the principle of the Republican press, and when they can find nothing based on fact they manufacture it out of the whole cloth. The latest is that Cleveland is a free trader.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1886. The labor troubles, the proposed exposition in Washington, the probable fate of the new tariff bill, and the President's removed marriage, are among the subjects that one hears discussed on the streets here now. At the Capitol our lawmakers are talkng about inter state commerce, secret propriation bills. An enthusiastic meeting was held at Willard's hotel a few evenings since, at which representative business men of Baltimore and Washington discussed the projected exposition to be inaugurated here in 1889. Au address was presented, which is to be scattered broadcast over the country, setting forth the plan of the great World's Fair. Congress is to be asked to establish a number of permanent exhibi tion buildings in the city on the Mall, for the products of North, South and area of parking extending from the Capitol to the White House, including the Smithsonian, Agricultural and Monumental grounds.

It is the intention to strip the proect of all local purpose, and to make it national and international, politics being ignored in the interest of all countries. For instance, it is suggested that a building be crected for the display of working models in the interof gold.
