Rev. Dr. Monroe on License.

The Presbyterian church was crowded on Sunday night last with an audience anxious to hear Rev. Dr. Monroe preac on temperance, license, &c. The large auditorium of the church was filled to overflowing, and chairs had to be set in the aisles. There was a large choir and the service of song was quite beautiful and entertaining. In addition to Dr. Monroe teverends Laurie, Steck and Woodcoc ccupied the pulpit -an array of clerical talent before which the devil might well tremble and draw in his horns, to say nothing of his cloven foot. The sermon was able and very much to the point. The Reverend gentleman took advanced ground, even going so far as to ondemn the practice of putting the names of hotel keepers and saloon keepers into the jury-box. He did this on the ground that ministers should not be afraid to speak out what is in their minds. Intemperate or drinking men, he said, should not be elected to make our laws, nor should hotel or saloon keepers be allowed to sit as out the preacher somewhat miscontrued gard to license, but were compelled to ling the vote grant licenses to the right sort of men, while under the law of 1875 the courts have full discretionary power to grant or with-hold license, as they please. We think this is a mistake. The courts have no more discretionary power now than they had under the 1856 law, and they had no less then than they have now. The matter has atways been discretionary with the courts. We do not think that any law was ever passed compelling the granting of license-at least we have never heard of any suit being entered against any court for refusing to grant a liceuse. Be this as it may, bowever, we would rather have the law explained by a judge on the bench than by a preacher in the pulpit. When it comes to the law of God, give us the preacher, but when one of the incomprehensible, mixed up acts of a State legislature is to be unraveled, we prefer to have the work whose duty it is to expound it for the guidance of his fellow citizens. But generally the sermon of Dr. Monroe ent and pointed, and old Satan bite his line with vexation. At the same time we decline to concur with the Reverend gentleman in the opinion that respectable landlords are unfit to sit

Novel Way to Make Collections.

People who live in Elmira, says an exchange, and who promise to pay their debts and don't pay them, do not have a very good time this year. Some smart Yankee who settled in that town bethought him self of a new style of collection bureau which is calculated to make things exceedingly interesting for folks who are bad pay. Subscribers pay a moderate sum yearly and place their bills in the hands of the bureau managers. A collector is first sentin citizen's clothes, to see the debtor; if he can't get anything a second collector goes, who wears a striking uniform and hat marked "collector" in very distinct letters. He visits the debtor three times and failing a third collector goes out with 'collector of bad debts" conspicuously displayed on his hat. He sees the debtor every day and is also seen by everybody in the debtor's office, so that the money is very apt to be forthcoming. In fact, the success of the scheme is said to be phe-

A Sad Affair. Our people were shocked Monday eyen-ing to learn that G. L. Kostenbauder had ommitted suicide in the shoemaker shop at the rear of his store on Main street. The affair occured about six o'clock, he being alone in the building at the time, Mrs. Kostenbauder and the clerks having gone to supper. The means employed was a large-sized revolver, the bullet entering his head just back of the right eve and passing directly through the head, the ball showing through at the left temple. He had appar ently gone back into the shoemaker shop soon after his wife left the store, and sitting lown upon the work-bench, placed the nuzzle of the pistol against his head and pulled the trigger. The body was first dis covered by Mrs. Kostenbauder upon re-Help was instantly at hand, Drs. Vastine and J. K. Robins responding, but it was too late, as death had probably been almost instantaneous. The only cause that can be assigned for the rash act is temporary iusanity, as all who saw Mr. Kostenbaude during the day noticed that he seemed in excellent spirits and looked better than he had for months before. Esquire Ellis held an inquest upon the spot, and a verdict of suicide was rendered in accordance with the above facts. The funeral will take place from the late residence of the deceased on Main street this (Thursday) afternoon

Mr Kostenbander was about thirty-four ears of age,"and leaves a wife and two bright children, besides a mother and sister, o mourn his untimely death. The heartfelt sympathy of the whole community is with the family in their bereavement .-
