THE COLUMBIAN AND DEMOCRAT. BLOOMSBURG, COLUMBIA COUNTY, PA.

The Columbian.

One good result of the tax law has been the clearing up of the records. A large number of judgments and mort-gages have been satisfied.

Superintendent Higbee refuses to resign at the request of the governor, because he says the latter has no pow-er to remove him. Mr. Higbee be-longs to a party that doesn't give up an office unless it is compelled to do so. This is a point which the governor seems to have lost sight of when he ignored the claims of the democracy, and reappointed a republican to the position of Superintendent of Public ought to have vested. Instruction.

AMENDMENTS NEEDED.

Now that the new tax law has been put in operation, numerous questions have arisen as to the manner of filling up the returns furnished by the Asses-sors. Some hold that money held m trust for married women and minors ought not to be returned, as they are not voters. We do not so understand While it is a case of taxation without representation, all moneys at interest, without exception, is taxable for State purposes.

A woman with young children may e left by the death of her husband with an income arising from an in-vested fund sufficient only to keep them from actual want. As the law stands, this fund is taxable for State purposes, and this is one of the hardships that ought to be removed by legslation. In such case it would be but humane to exempt small sums which afford but a meagre income.

Another difficult point is to know just what to return as household furniture. If musical instruments, carpets, mirrors, works of art, brie-a-brac, &c., are included, there is scarcely a comfortable home that does not contain a considerable excess over $300. Very few people keep an inventory of what they buy for their homes, and the cost thereof, and it is therefore difficult to make an accurate return. The law should state plainly what is intended to be included in the term "household furniture." Another hardship is the double taxation allowed by the taxing of mortgages and judgments, as in nearly every case the tax comes out of the borrower and not the lender. Encumbered real estate should be taxed only for the amount of its valuation. as the amount of the encumbrances. The theory of the law is good, but its practical operation is bad. If one-half of the citizens of the State make true returns, the result ought to put sufficient money in the treasury to pay off the entire State debt this year, and then leave so much on hand that it will take the Legislature six months to spend it in extravagant appropriations. An Important Decision.

entire State, has just been rendered by Judge McPherson, of Lebanon county. The case was one brought by an ex-Jury Commissioner against Lebanon for certain services rendered the county while in the discharge of his duties, which the County Commissioners re-fused to allow. The case, briefly stated is this: In making out his bill against the county he included not only the usual per diem charge for services rendered in filling the wheel at the be ginning of the year, and drawing the regular panels during the course of the year, but also for the time during which he was "engaged in securing the names ed in the wheel." In the perto be plac formance of this latter duty the Commissioners travelled over the entire county, going into all the districts to make inquiries concerning the fitness of those persons whose names had been handed to him, ascertaining. whether they were "sober, intelligent and judicions persons," as the law requires they When this bill was presented to the County Commissioners they at once disallowed the latter portion of the charge, upon the ground that the Jury Commissioner could not claim the proper one. pay for travelling over the county. The result was the suit in which Judge McPherson has just rendered his do

The Judge holds that the selection of persons to serve as jurors in the county courts is a duty of the gravest importance; that great discretion should be used in the performance of it; that the Commissioners should subject the names of those handed to them to careful and judicious sifting ; that it is not only the right of the Jury Commissioners, but their bounden duty as well, to go into the various townships to make careful inquiry whether these men are in reality "sober, intelligent and judicious persons." In accordance with these views, Judge McPherson holds the Jury Commissioner was en-titled to pay for the time he was employed in making these very necessary investigations.
