SELECT READING. AN EDITOR'S DREAM. BY SCOTT WAY. Once upon a time a village editor sat in his quiet sanctum idly perusing the political editorials in his daily city exchanges.

humor enough. Why don't you fill her full of jokes and bright things by the funny folks and make your readers laugh. Nobody cares a cent for those political editorials and those scientific articles, and that stuff about the tariff you print.

"I am sorry to notice that you are neglecting politics just at this important period," he said kindly but gravely. "You should strive to keep the vital principles of our party constantly before the people."

"I am very sorry," he said, in measured tones, and with a fixed and critical stare at the end of the editor's nose. "I am very sorry to notice that you are neglecting politics just at this important period."

Patents. I obtained and all patent business attended to for moderate fees. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office.

THE FINAL STAGES OF A DISPUTE PROLONGED THROUGH TWENTY-FOUR YEARS. The President's nomination of Fitz John Porter to a colonel in the army was the necessary sequence of his having approved the act of Congress under which this nomination becomes possible.

Porter's first alleged offense was that, having received from General Pope, during the evening of Aug. 27, 1862, an order to march his corps at 1 o'clock in the morning to Bristol Station.

The second accusation against Porter was that he did not move his troops in strict accordance with a joint order given to McDowell and himself on the morning of the 29th.

As a result of the investigation, the President's nomination of Fitz John Porter to a colonel in the army was the necessary sequence of his having approved the act of Congress under which this nomination becomes possible.

It went. A citizen in Detroit has had his faith in human nature rudely shaken. One day when the rain was falling fast he saw a young man and a young woman padding through the wet, unbrimless.

THE CHINESE RULER'S BRIDE. HOW THE GREAT CELESTIAL SELECTED HIS LITTLE HONGKONG BELLE. It looks very much as if the year of our Lord 1886 will be noted in history as remarkable for a kind of epidemic of matrimony in high places.

The latter is said to have thought of a matchmaker named Tao-Tao, who had been gathered together from all parts of China for his inspection.
