BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1886 The Congressional Conference for this district will be held at Wilkes-Barre on Thursday, September 16.

J. H. Swoyer of Wilkesbarre has been nominated for Congress by the democrats of Luzerne county.

There are enough farmers in the State to determine the contest. If they are wise they will secure the strated his friendship and that man is Governor Black.

The republican organs appear to be very much troubled about what they call dissensions in the democratic party of the state. They allege that Chauncey F. Black was nominated for Governor by a faction, and that the Wallace men will not support him. This is purely imaginative on their part. The warmest friends of Mr. Wallace announce that they are for the ticket, and will do all in their power to elect it, and Mr. Wallace himself says that the ticket must be elected. Wallace and Black are warm personal friends, and thoroughly understand each other. The Beaver organs had better spend their time in patching up their own fences. The democratic party can take care of itself without any of their assist-

Victoria Morosim, the daughter of the wealthy New York banker, who created a sensation some time ago by marrying her father's coachman, has left her husband. She has been connected with an opera company, and the husband, Ernest Schilling, holds a position as conductor on a street car ine. Her father disowned her, and has refused to see her except on condition that she would leave Ernest. It is now known that they have been living unhappily for some time past. Different reports are in circulation as to her whereabouts, one being that she has returned to her father's house, another that she has gone to Canada to enter a convent, and still another, that she has eloped with another man Wherever she may be, she has doubtless repented her foolish action in marrying a man far beneath her.

John O. New on Blaine.

The Washington correspondent of Treasurer, on Mr. Blaine's standing in Indiana and his chances for a renomination by the Republicans for the Presidency, Mr. New said:
"Mr. Blaine has a few Republican friends in Indiana who might think that his nomination would be expedient, but you will find that the party generally in the State is not of that The cause of this diminution of Blaine enthusiasm is traceable directly and principally to that libel suit. The Republicans think they were very shabbily treated in that mat-The nominations are two years off. By that time we will in all probability pass through stages of experience, progress and change in political sentiment which will cause the Republicans to move cautiously in the matter of making up their ticket. Mr. Blaine might have some influence in shaping the nomination, but be will not be nominated. A great many influential Republicans declare that if Blaine should be nominated there will be no Republican electoral ticket the party organization in Indiana, and as for carrying the State for Blaine, that is entirely out of the question. I am not saying this out of any Stalwart notions of hostility to Mr. Blaine, but purely on the grounds of expediency and a knowledge of the attitude of the party leaders growing out of Blaine's course in that libel suit." "How about Logan !"

"His course in the Senate on the Payne investigation resolutions hurt him badly. The Indiana Republicans stand with the Ohio Republicans on that question. Logan could not get either of these two delegations as they now feel. Our people take more stock in Sherman than any one else. I think Sherman will be the next Re publican candidate, and he will be elected if we can elect anybody."

The Store Order Business-

When Beaver issued store orders to the men employed at the Bellefonte Nail and Iron Works his object was obviously to go into mercantile life as a regular occupation. In that event the thing for him to have done was to purchase a store and attend to the sale

But General Beaver knew no such thing as limiting the profits to a fair supply of goods and in general competition with other merchants. In that event the prices of goods would have to be kept down to the rates charged, and the profits limited to a legitimate figure But he started a store at the site of his are wealthy. Several have already left the country, and others are preworks, where there are no other stores, giving orders not transferable and redeemable only in goods to a workman, and he is compelled to buy at the only place where their currency is receivable. This opened a fine field for making profits out of merchandise, and the Republican candidate's avarice led him a willing follower into the scheme.

This was a great injury to the workngmen of the country. It put those of them who where employed by Beayer is a position akin to slavery. Every workingman should testify to his ap-preciation of the outrage by voting for Chauncey F. Black.—Patriot.

A Greenbacker On the Prohibition Boom-

He says it is wonderful how the Pro- vember 18, 1727; December 7, 1737; hibition boom is growing. "The preachers are talking Wolfe from the pulpit," said he, "and I would not be surprised to see the Prohibition vote October 29, 1870, earthquake shocks of run up to 80,000. There were 135 some severity were felt on the Atlan-preachers in attendance at the recent tic coast of the United States. Others want to en-dorse Osborne, the Republican candidate for Congressman-at-Large. Robert J. Houston, of Lancaster, will be nominated for Governor. Seth Hosg-land, of Mercer county, is spoken of as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor."

A Grand Political Transformation Scene At the Government Printing Office at Washington there is now going on the most rapid and wholesale change of political sentiments on record. It s a regular tidal wave. Previous to the announcement of the appointment of Col. Benedict as successor to Rounds few Democrats could be found anywhere in the establishment. There are about three thousand employees in the office, and it is safe to say that onelife-long Democrat.

Mansfield, Ohio, Sept. 6—Simon Dolph filed in Court to-day a petition for $20,000 damages against 12 farm-ers in this county including two wom-en. While Dolph was going atter his cows just before sunset a week ago, a sentinel on the road fired a shot, at which signal four men rushed out from a cornfield upon Dolph. He was too much for them, and four more men ap-peared, and he was bound. His wife was driven away at the muzzle of guns. She tolled the farm bell, and one of the neighbors responded, but was driven away under threat of death. A rope was placed around Dolph's neck, and he was dragged through the woods. The rope was then thrown over a limb and he was pulled up. When he re-covered his senses, he was lying on a log. A man was blowing into his mouth. He was taken thence to a graveyard where he was stripped. Tar was rubbed over his body, and he was commission was appointed to examine commanded to roll in several bushels of feathers. There a bonfire was built, around which he men forced him to march to music. The inhabitants of the village went out to see the sight, but no effort was made to rescue the tortured man. He ed the promise with a fine ring, and was punched with sticks, kicked and set up two kegs of beer in the widow's terribly treated. He appealed to a justice of the peace and a constable for help, but they said they could do of $200. Before releasing him the cap-tain of the gang told him to leave town within 10 days or they would kill him and his family and burn his premises. The neighbors charged Dolph with talking scandalously about all the women in the neighborhood, which he indignantly denies. Warnings had been given him to leave the country three days before the outrage by two masked men, and again the night be fore by two women in disguise. He refused to obey. One man was shot during the melee. Many of the accused

The Earthquake. Though the shock of the earthquake last week was felt in many places, north and south, the city of Charleston, South Carolina, suffered more than any other locality. Beginning Tues-day night the earth tremors were felt at intervals, and there was a reign of terror among the people, who dared not enter their dwellings, not knowing at what moment they might fall. The first shock was on Tuesday night, and it was heralded by a sound resembling distant thunder. This was followed by a heaving and quaking that ruined nearly seven-eighths of the buildings in Charleston and killed 32 people by

Now, Mr. Blaine, you are a speaker of too many resources to indulge in the mere slang-whanging of the average stump orator. The Morrison Bill, which Democratic votes prevented from being considered by the House, would, if enacted into law, have left the tariff 30 per cent. higher than was considered sufficient for the purposes of protection by Senator Morrill and larger territory than any that has taken place in Nort America within the history of the continent. It also was fraught with the greatest loss of life known to have been caused by any such event in the region to which it was confined, but while in these respects it was unparalleled, it was not the most violent that has been felt in this country. That precedence belongs to the earthquake which in De-cember. 1811 swept through the entire Mississippi Valley, concentrating its powers at the town of New Madrid, Mo., which was nearly obliterated. Memphis, St. Louis and other points along the river suffered, and over a region stretching for three hundred miles southward from the month of the Ohio the ground rose and sank in great undulations and lakes were formed and were again drained. It is said that the numan family living to-day on earth consists of about 1,450,000,000 individuals; not less probably more. These are distributed over the earth's surface, so that now there is no considerable part where man is not found. In Asia, where he was first planted, there are now approximately about 800,000,000 densely crowded: on an average 120 to the square mile. In Europe there are 320, 000,000 averaging 100 to the square mile, but not crowded, but everywhere dense, and at points overpopulated. In Africa there are 210,000,000. In America, North and South, there are 110,000,000, relatively thinly scattered and recent. In the islands large and small, probably 10,000,000. A Negro's Prediction.

THE END OF THE WORLD SCHEDULED FOR ВЕРТЕМВЕВ 29.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 7 .- In a ne gro hamlet forty miles from the rail-road,last Monday, a negress apparently died and her friends were sitting up with the corpse. While the wake was at its height, the woman burst the glass in the coffin lid and assumed a sitting posture. A stampede ensued. She extricated herself from the coffin and cold her coffin an and told her friends that the end of the world was scheduled for September 29 and that she would die at dawn.

Her death ensued as predicted, and on Tuesday night came the earthquake. The negroes of the entire neighbor-hood now look upon the dead woman as a prophet and have spent the entire time since Tuesday night in their weird religious devotions in preparation for the expected day of judgment. Farm work is suffering severely as a conse-quence. Fully 500 negroes have now collected at the scene of services.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Barsapariffa has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial. A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I
