Death of Maggie Gingher.

We are sorry to announce the death o Maggie Gingher, daughter of 7 summers, of Mr. and Mrs. James Gingher of No. 408 South Main St. Berwick Pa. with that children's scourge diphtheria. She was the favorite of the family and a most incresting child, bright and intelligent far beyond her years, another illustration that death loves a shining mark. She was buried Sunday 24th of September. The neighbors' children loved her dearly and she was universally beloved. Her funera was largely attended by weeping friends but she has gone from our twilight wo ld and entered into realms where stars never set and rain hows never fade, to the palms of victory along the banks of the river of life. Earth's loss is Heaven's gain. It is not strange that the brightest flowers of our humanity are plucked first for the realms of immortality. Maggie though in far better off with her God and to bask for-
