THE COLUMBIAN AND DEMOCRAT. BLOOMSBURG, COLUMBIA COUNTY, PA.

The Columbian.

O. E. Elwell, J. K. Bittenbender.,} Editors. BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1886.

Make your arrangements to spend the day on Nov. 2, at the polls. Every man can afford to give one day in the year to his country. See that your neighbors do the same. Democratic success depends upon the work done in the rural districts.

The Democratic Senatorial Conference met at Danville on Monday evening, but made no nomination, and ad journed until 9 o'clock Thursday morning. If no result is reached at this session we would suggest that the con-(From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 19, 1886. ference adjourn sine die and let each county vote for its own candidate.

Election day is on November 2, a who follow the daily details of national history they are significant and not un-important. The work of purification, of redistribution, of change, of improve-ment, daily goes on in the Departments under the new Administration. The history of a single day would fill a vol-ume, and would furnish interesting reading to political philosophers and week from next Tuesday. If every Democrat does his duty victory will once more perch upon our banners, Go to the polls early, and stay late. See that every Democrat in the district is out, so that not a single vote will be lost.

C. G. Murphy, one of the nominee for Associate Judge, is a man of edu-cation and intelligence. He has risen in life by his own efforts, and has alcondensation. ways been an active and consistent Democrat. He was nominated in the work on their yearly reports. These when completed, will be the simplest convention by a large majority, and there was no cause for dissatisfaction. as well as the ablest argument for the Why, then, the talk in some townships continuation of a Democratic Adminison the other side of the river about not voting for him ? His defeat is an utter impossibility, and the only excuse that any Democrat can give for voting against him would be some personal grudge. Such motives are undemocratic and unworthy the Democracy of this county. We have no doubt but that it will be Judge Murphy, by the usual majority.

A Discharged Post Office Clerk Complains and is Answered.

Thomas Parker, an employe of the Brooklyn Post Office, was discharged Thomas Parker, an employe of the Brookiyn Post Office, was discharged by Postmaster Hendrix on September 1. The postmaster had removed him to appoint a man who had passed the civil service examination, and who to appoint a man who had passed the civil service examination, and who was selected as a special delivery mess senger by the former postmaster. Par-ker presented his case to George Wil-liam Curtis, and among other things in his reply Mr. Cartis said : "The removal is an act of discretion on the part of the Postmaster, and un-less there is evidence that there is a gross and flagrant wrong, and that a perfectly satisfactory clerk has been removed for improper reasons, neither

An important election is approaching. An opportunity is again offered the Democratic party to elect the state ticket. All that is needed is concerted ing. An opportunity is again offered the Democratic party to elect the state ticket. All that is needed is concerted action and a full vote. In this county it ought not to be necessary to get out the brass bands, and arouse enthusiasm through the medium of stump speeches in order to induce voters to do their duty. Nowadays, when everybody reads the papers, the issues of the cam-ment was made until Thursday morn ing and when the whole number of ballots had reached 160 with the same result, the conferrence adjourned to duty. Nowadays, when everybody reads the papers, the issues of the cam-paign are well known. The leading juestion is whether the state constituion, the fundamental law, shall be en- ing of this week.
