BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1887.

Ex-governor Pattison and Ex-Secretary of the Commonwealth Stenger have formed a law partnership, and opened an office in Philadelphia.

Sheriff Rowan of Philadelphia is hopelessly insane, and legal steps are contemplated to remove him from office.

A three year-old son of Governor Beaver died last Saturday night of diphtheria, and was buried on Sunday. He was the pet of the household, and Mrs. Beaver has been prostrated by the blow. A little son of Pattison's died of the same disease soon after Pattison's inauguration.

The Harrisburg Patriot of the 22d says that a House bill has been reported favorably, from committee providing for an additional judge in Columbia county. This is a mistake. No such bill has been introduced, and if it had been it would never have gone through the committee, as it would be clearly unconstitutional on several grounds.

Superintendent Grimes' reply to a writer in the Sentinel of last week who insinuates that the surplus funds received at the county institutes has been appropriated by Mr. Grimes to his own use, seems to be clear and satisfactory, and ought to put a stop to the annual repetition of this charge. He has thus far publicly accounted for all money in his hands.

Legislative Committees.

Senator Metzger is on the following committees: Federal Relations, Judiciary Local, Banks, Retrenchment and Reform, Congressional Apportionment.

Representative Fritz, is on the following: Congressional Apportionment, Bureau of Statistics, Judiciary General, Retrenchment and Reform.

Representative Fox is on the following: Agriculture, Centennial Affairs, Judiciary Local.

Democratic State Committee.

The Democratic State Committee met at Harrisburg last week Wednesday.

Cairman Hensel having called the committee to order J. Marshall Wright Esq., one of the original opponents of Philadelphia, moved that Dallas Sanders, Esq., be elected chairman by acclamation. Colonel E. H Rauch, of Carbon, moved to amend by substituting the name of Eckley B. Coxe, of Luzerne, and supported his amendment in a vigorous speech. He was sustained in this by Mr. Burke, of Lackawanna. E. P. Kisner, Esq., of Luzerne, who is a close friend of ex-Senator Coxe was not a candidate and would not accept an election under the circumstances. He desired to withdraw Mr. Coxe's name, but this was not permitted. A vote was then taken on the amendment, which resulted in ayes 15, noes 39. The original resolution was then adopted by an almost unanimous vote. The committee then took a recess until 7:30 o'clock.

The committee reassembled at 7 o'clock, and at once proceeded to elect seven members of the executive committee. Thirteen names were presented, as follows: Allegheny, W. J. Brennen; Bedford, E. F. Kerr; Crawford, James M. Guffey; Erie, W. L. Scott; Elk, Harry Alvin Hall; Huntingdon, R. Bruce Petrikin; Lehigh, R. E. Wright; Luzerne, Eckley B. Coxe; Mercer, James A. Stranahan; Northumberland, James H. McDevitt; Lycoming, J. Henry Cochran; Westmoreland, Dr. H. L. Donnelly; Wayne, George S. Purdy. On the first ballot Messrs. Brennen, Kerr, Scott, Wright, Coxe, McDevitt and Cochran were chosen.

The committee then proceeded to fix the place for the next state convention. Harrisburg, Allentown, and Pittsburg were nominated, and the ballot resulted: Harrisburg, 28 1-2 votes; Allentown, 22 1-2 votes, and Pittsburg 6 votes. The fixing of the date of the convention was left to be determined at the next meeting of the committee, which will be held in Harrisburg in May.

Mr. Huckenstein offered the following resolutions which was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That in Governor Pattison the democratic party has had a most faithful officer to whose administration we point with pride as he leaves the gubernatorial chair, clean and pure as he announced when he took his seat and so endorsed by both parties. He has served the people in the true meaning of the constitution and has delivered the government of the commonwealth once more from all jobbers; he has been the most earnest exponent of the people's rights and has fearlessly and earnestly held sacred the trust put in him when elected that private citizens have rights that even combined monopoly of corporations must respect.

The same gentleman offered the following which was likewise adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That we hereby express our feeling of unwavering confidence in President Cleveland and proudly and gratefully refer to his faithful application of the democratic principles of reform; to his strict adherance to the platform of the last national democratic convention held at Chicago, and to his wise and conservative policy of administering for the best interest of the people of the United States.

Mr. Harley, of Schuylkill, offered the following which was agreed to:

Resolved, That the committee recommends an alteration in rule one so as to make it read, "The state committee shall consist of one member from each county and in addition any county that is entitled to more than one state senator shall have an additional member for each additional senator. The chairman of the local organization shall be ex-officio member of the state committee. Additional members in counties entitled to them shall be appointed in such manner as the local regulations of their respective county organizations may determine."

Mr. Moran offered the following:

Resolved, That the county committee be requested to make a thorough party organization in each election district in their respective counties and that they be requested to report to this committee through their chairman the condition of such organization at the next meeting to be held on the 2d of May next.

Murray Rush, of Delaware, offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of seven be appointed by the chair to recommend a uniform plan for making senatorial and congressional nominations throughout the state; said plan to be presented to this committee at its next meeting.

Mr. Brown, of Clarion, offered the following:

Resolved, That the apportionment of delegates to the state convention be based on the vote cast at the last preceding gubernatorial or presidential election, whichever shall have last occurred.

John H. Sloom, of Philadelphia, offered the following:

Resolved, That the distinguished services rendered to the democratic party of Pennsylvania by the retiring chairman, W. U. Hensel, of the committee, merit an expression of the strongest confidence of this great party in him both as an exponent of pure democratic principles and as an honorable gentleman and useful citizen, therefore, further

Resolved, That this body as the representative of the democratic party of Pennsylvania does, in the name of that party, tender to the Hon. W. U. Hensel its thanks for laborious and eminent services, and accompanying the same with an expression of continued confidence and best wishes for his future prosperity.

The work of the committee having been completed the committee adjourned.

Legislation at Harrisburg.

The following are some of the bills that have been introduced in the legislature during the past week; a supplement to the revenue act of 1885. [Reducing the tax on moneys at interest from three to two mills and placing one mill in the State Treasury one in the treasury of a county or city of the first class;] enabling mechanics and laborers to file a lien on a building constructed on leased ground; authorizing married women to transact business, to sue and be sued, to sign mortgages or deeds, etc., independently of their husbands; repealing the three-mill tax; to punish the making and disseminating of obscene literature; appropriating $50,000 for the erection of monuments to the memory of Generals Meade and Hancock, on the battle-field of Gettysburg; to authorize Registers of Wills and Orphan's Courts to require security for costs, and to apportion costs in cases of caveat and appeal; allowing husbands and wives to testify for each other in criminal cases; a Legislative apportionment. [Identical with the perfected bills of 1885;] providing for the retirement on three fourths pay of Judges of the Supreme Court who have served one full term and are sixty-five years old, and the Judges of other courts who have served twenty years or over and are sixty-five years of age.

Also a bill providing for an amendment to section 1, article 9, of the Constitution, to make it read as follows: "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under the general laws; but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation every farm not exceeding twenty acres on which the owner actually resides and which is not situated in a city or borough, every building lot not exceeding 20,000 square feet in area on which the owner actually resides, public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity provided that all taxes on land shall be specific;" a bill providing a tax for saloons, hotels, inns and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold in cities of the first second and third classes of $500, of which $300 shall go to the city, $100 to the county and $100 to the State. The tax for retailing liquor in boroughs is placed at $200 and in townships at $150. Of the $500 in Philadelphia $400 goes to the city and county and $100 to the State, a liquor license bill providing in addition to fees now paid a license tax; to prohibit the blacklisting of employes; a bill appropriating $80,000 to mark with memorial tablets the position of the Pennsylvania commands at the battle of Gettysburg; a bill providing for the appointment of mercantile appraisers by Auditor general, and the publishing of the list in two papers; a bill exempting bequests to churches and cemeteries from collateral inheritance tax; a bill to secure to laborers the benefits of the exemption laws; a bill authorizing appeals by owners of unseated lands to court, from the valuation of county commissioners.

Senator Wolverton, of Northumberland, introduced a bill providing that all deeds and mortgages of real estate situated in this state shall pass the whole estate of the grantor or mortgagor, although there are no words of inheritance or perpetuity contained therein, unless it appears by word of limitation in the deed or mortgage that the grantor or mortgagor intended to give, grant or mortgage a less estate. A bill providing for the biennial publication of the school laws and decisions; prohibiting non-residents from hunting and killing deer; for the better protection and collection of wages of labor; allowing hucksters and farmers to buy and sell farm produce without license; regulating sales by samples; relative to general elections.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24, 1887.

The present Congress has redeemed its reputation during the first half of this its last session, and it will now go down to history honored, even if it should do nothing more for the remainder of its life. The enactment of the Presidential Succession bill has been followed by that regulating the Electoral Count, and so a double peril is removed. It is now pretty certain that President Cleveland's successors will be elected and inaugurated without any resort to partisan war—a calamity that hitherto has been averted only by the tolerance of the people.

But this is not half of what has been accomplished. The Inter-state Commerce bill, 'for better or for worse,' has gone through both houses, and only awaits the Executive signature to become a law. Then a rigorous Anti-Polygamy measure has at last been passed; an investigation of the Pacific Railroad crookedness has been ordered and the old Mexican veterans are about to be pensioned.

At the end of this Congress, the terms of one-third of the whole number of United States Senators expire. While some of them have been re elected, others will be succeeded by new men. It is noticeable that Federal soldiers are getting scarce in the Senate. There are only seven men who fought on the Union side during the war, while there are sixteen whose names are on the muster rolls of the Confederacy. It is probable that only three of the ex Federals will be left when the Senate is called to order at the commencement of the next session. These will be Senators Hawley, Manderson and Plumb. Fifteen Republican Senators will be sworn in on the 4th of next March, but four of them wore the Confederate gray. This will leave the Senate with twenty ex-Confederates, and three soldiers of the Union.

In regard to Lieutenant Emory's Arctic trip, Secretary Whitney has expressed himself in no uncertain language. Referring to the report that the Lieut. wanted to go North in the "Thetis," he said the United States had something else to do with its vessels, naval officers and sailors besides sending them off on Arctic expeditions. "I will not say, however," continued the Secretary, "that there will be no such expedition under the present Administration, but certainly not with my consent. No one will receive orders from me for such a trip in consonance with my wishes."

The President is in good health again, but he is careful to favor his rheumatic knee on all occasions. He felt compelled to decline to review the order of the Mystic Shrine which visited the city during the week, for fear of the damp air to which he would be exposed, and he could not go to the top of the Washington Monument with Mrs. Cleveland and Mr. Corcoran according to appointment. This trip to the clouds had been arranged for three o'clock, and at that hour everything was in readiness for the distinguished visitors. The interior of the Monument was electrically lighted from top to bottom, a fire was built in the boiler house, steam was generated, and several preliminary trips of the elevator had been made to see that everything was in complete running order for the expected visit of the President. Mrs. Cleveland was on time, and announcing a disappointed tone that the President was not able to come, gracefully tendered her arm to the venerable Mr. Corcoran, and conducted him to the elevator. The air inside the Monument is damp and chilly, and when the marble door swung open a blast rushed out that almost took the breath of those entering. The visitors looked down upon the magnificent panorama at the 500 foot level. Mrs. Cleveland took especial interest in the White House, and tried hard to recognize a familiar figure at the library window.

To-morrow the prominent advocates of woman suffrage will begin their nineteenth annual convention in this city, and to-morrow Senator Blair will make an effort to have the Woman Suffrage amendment to the Constitution discussed in the Senate. Miss Susan B. Anthony, who has been here for some weeks, is as grim and hopeful and resolute as ever, wearing her defeats of the last forty years as cheerfully as other veterans wear plumes of victory. She doesn't think at all well of press reporters, however. She says, where women are concerned, at least, the reporters are sure to seize upon some triviality and ring its changes to the exclusion of business. She mentioned that when she spoke in Chicago last week, a dog that came with a newspaper reporter ran across the stage and springing up laid his nose on her shoulder. "I prophesied to the audience then," continued she, "that that dog would figure in the press reports more conspicuously than anything that was said or done, and so he did."

Miss Anthony does not change much as the years go by. The opening of some new avenue for the employment of women, or some new gleam of Hope from a State Legislature always comes opportunely to offset the effects of years and labors that might otherwise be adding new wrinkles to her brow.

AN OPEN LETTER.

"Teachers' inquiry in the Sentinel of last week has called forth the following letter from the County Superintendent.

MR. KRICKBAUM.

Dear Sir:—I noticed an article in your last issue in reference to the finances of the County Institute. The object of the writer was not information, as the statements must show that he knows that the receipts and expenditures of the Institute have been carefully examined and approved by a committee of teachers. I write, therefore, not for his information, but for the benefit of those who have not given the subject much thought, consequently may not be fully acquainted with the law and the facts in the case. Before Dr. Higbee's lecture Monday evening Dec. 31, 1883, I publicly stated that the evening entertainments were not required by law as a part of the Institute, that they were gotten up by myself for the entertainment and profit of the teachers and the public; that I was personally responsible for all of the expenses and if there was a deficit I must pay it, but the surplus money I would use for the benefit of the Institute.

In many of the counties of the state the Superintendents keep the surplus money, which they have a legal right to do. I know of no other Superintendent who under similar circumstances uses it for the benefit of the Institute. There is not a single town in this county which has a regular course of lectures. It matters not how much teachers may desire to attend lectures they cannot often do so in this county. The expenses of the teachers who attend the Institute, so far as board, traveling, etc., are concerned are the same whether they attend the evening lectures or not. I have put forth all possible efforts to give the teachers and the public good Institutes and evening entertainments. The Institutes and evening entertainments of Columbia county now rank among the best of the state. An opportunity was given the teachers to enroll, but they were not asked to do so. The enrollment card gave them not only reserved seats for the course of lectures for fifty cents (one dollar less than the popular price) but an opportunity to select a desirable seat three hours in advance of the public. The officers of the Institute have not been extravagantly compensated, but they have received all that was promised them prior to their acceptance of the honors conferred.

It might not be uninteresting to give a short sketch of the history of our Institutes, but as this article is already lengthy, I will only say that the receipts from the evening entertainments of my first Institute were only $60.75. At that time the people of Bloomsburg did not patronize lectures as they now do. That winter three of the most active attorneys in the town of Bloomsburg gave the citizens a course of lectures. They canvassed the town and worked it up as I never knew any other committee to do and yet they did not meet expenses.

I have been in correspondence with most of the lecture bureaus. I read carefully the circulars and testimonials of each, and whenever a lecturer that I think will please the patrons of our Institute, speaks at Wilkesbarre, Danville, Shamokin, or at any of the towns not too far distant, I go to hear him, and, if pleased immediately engage him. In this way I have secured lecturers that have not only pleased the patrons of the Institute, but added largely to its funds. The surplus on hand, after defraying all the expenses of every Institute, I applied to the expenses of the next one. During no year of my Superintendency until 1884, had I more than $20 on hand. After the Institute of that year I had $120.87 surplus. After all the expenses of the Institute of 1885 had been paid, I had $223.35 on hand, and this sum I used in defraying the expenses of the late Institute. Had I not had this sum on hand of last year, I should have been out of pocket more than one hundred dollars after paying the expenses of the Institute of 1886. It will thus be seen that I have appropriated no money received from any of the Institutes, to my personal use, and I challenge any one to show anything to the contrary. If the superintendent has no surplus money from the county treasury, enrollment fees, or evening lectures, and does not realize sufficient from these sources to defray the expenses of any Institute, he is obliged to pay the balance out of his own pocket. This, it seems to me, should show the reasonableness of keeping an unexpended balance on hand whenever it is possible to do so.

Should I have any such money in my hands at the expiration of my official term, I shall in accordance with my public statement of 1883, hand it to my successor, to be applied to the expenses of his Institutes. A statement of the receipts and expenditures of all the Institutes held by me can be seen at my office.

J. S. GRIMES,
County Superintendent.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practising physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases. —M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which grew worse and settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Saulsburgh, Penn.

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine, and was cured. —Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind.

Fautless Family Medicine.

"I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my only Family Medicine. My mother bef re me was very partial to it. It is a safe, good and reliable medicine for any disorder of the system, and if used in time is a great preventative of sickness. I often recommend it to my friends, and shall continue to do so.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Reported by G. S. Palmer, Wholesale Commission Merchant, 166 Reade St., N. Y.

New York, Jan. 24, 1887.

Eggs selling, strictly fresh stock, from 29 to 30c; limed or preserved eggs, etc. It is too early in the week to note any change in the market on poultry. Should the mild weather continue, with present receipts, we cannot look for any improvement in prices. Fancy chickens, 11 to 13c; fowls, 8 to 11c; ducks, 12 to 13c; geese, 9 to 10c; choice quail scarce and selling from to $2.00 to $2.25 per doz; Canvas backs, $2.50 to $4.50 per doz. Live pigeons, 40c per pair; wild ducks, red head, $2 0 to $2.25 per pair; Mallard, $1 50; rabbits, 60 to 250 per pair, choice dressed veals are scarce and selling for 12½c; fair to good, 10 to 11c; dressed pork, light, 7½c. The butter market remains unchanged and selling fancy creamery from 30 to 31c; rolls, 28 to 30c. The market on fancy winter apples is firm and prices ranging from $3 00 to $3 50 per bbl; medium grades, $2 50 to $2 75. Florida oranges continue a glut and selling f
