Strange Conduct. Last Autumn, Dr. W. K. Wilkins, from 1574 Park Ave., New York city, opened negotiations with Dr. Shattuck for the purhase of a half interest in the Blo omsburg Sanitarium, and to this end came on here to see the property in October. After two or three days' investigation he expressed himself highly pleased and agreed to take an interest on terms satisfactory to his father-in-law, Mr. J. M. Mansfield, of Napa county, California, whom he represented u wealthy banker and ranchman and who was to furnish the money to pay the interest or the purchase money for one year, after which, if satisfied with the investment, the payments were to be made. Both parties accepted this liberal offer and Dr. Wilkins, with his wife, came to take possession, or January 3, tringing with them some bouse hold furniture, with which they partially furnished their rooms. There being some Mr. C. C. Trench of Light Street was delay in carrying out the contract on the business. Dr. Wilkins promised to look af two o'clock Friday morning the matron called him to a patient who had been taken

The Doctor and wife not appearing promptly as usual at breakfast, it was supposed they had overslept and it was thought smoke, and tracks in the new-fallen snow best not to disturb them; but when nine o'clock came and no steps were heard in had been engaged in the job. Mr. Morgan, their rooms, a servant was sent to call them. The doors were locked and repeated rapping and calling failing of any response the porter was summoned to look through the transom, as the ladies of the Sanitarium were paralyzed with tear, visions of suicide and accidental death, arising before

The porter reported the rooms vacant and to the depot it was learned that Dr. Wilkins and wife had taken the early morning train for New York and their furniture was upon the depot platform waiting for the next train and labeled G. Frost, New York city. How he managed to move his furniture out without awakening people in adjoining rooms is a mystery. He had to carry through a long hall in to the east wing and out of the front door of that building, leaving it and the basement door open in his haste. His movements outside were manifest by tracks in the snow and by articles strewn along between the Sanitarium and depot. Instead of going out the front gate, near by, he threw his things over the fence and jumped after them in the shadow of the building. As Dr. Wilkins had not paid his board and his actions were so manifestly fraudulent, Mrs. Shattuck was advised to attach the goo ds, which was done in time to stop them, and Dr. Shattuck was summoned home. At Bell Bend Dr. Wilkins mailed a letter to Mrs. Shattuck, inclosing key of his room, saying he was suddenly let it affect the price now. called to Boston on important business, and had decided, during the night, to go. Also another letter to Dr. Reber asking him to attend the Sanitarium. He was a prepossessing, gen tlemanty-appearing fellow, and by his frank manner and good address, won the confidence of those with whom he came in contact. Dr. Shattuck, by hard work and close attention, has built up a successful business, which, with this fine property, so amicably and promptly adjusted and that Dr. Wilkins was an adventurer sailing unpolicies of insurance. On Friday evening Jan. 28th at 7 o'clock the Amusement Hall at the Hospital be-gan to fill to witness an exhibition given by the attendants of the institution and the house was soon filled by the lomates and employees. Since the amusement Hall has ridge, too, furnishes employment for a concerts and entertainments of different kinds but none of them were appreciated or applicated so heartily as this one. Alternative and a root office.

a large number of men. There are two churches in the village, two schools, three stores and a post office.

Last Sunday the M. E. Sunday school adopted a new and very beautiful Sunday school service, to be continued to the close of the year. It was arranged by Mr. M. I. Low, and will add very much to the attractiveness of the school. This school will compare favorably with any in the Danville district, and has been pronounced by many the best. The attendance during the part month will average about two hundred intereen.

The C. L. S. C., of Lime Ridge, known as "The Clover Circle" organized three years since, now numbers twenty. The meetings are held semi-monthly and are very interesting indeed. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. M. d. L. Low, Feb. 18th, at which time "Long-fellow day" will be observed by proper intendancy of Sias How.

For some time past it has been obvious that a depot is greatly needed here, and this week a petition is heing circulated, requesting Supt. Halstead to order one built. The Pennsylvania Canal Company are rebuilbring the lower lock, at this place, employing a large number of men, under the superintendancy of Sias How.
