The rush of immigrants from Europe to America is astonishing. For the present year already over 135,000 have arrived. The work of them are from Ireland. This week over 12,000 men of them are from Ireland. The greatest number of arrivals since 1849-50 when the people were driven from Ireland because of starvation.

Says an exchange: The three signs of a counterfeit coin are not often heeded of a careless public. A bad piece of silver has a hollow ring or a light weight or an imperfect rim. If these characteristics were fully learned counterfeiters would soon be discouraged in trying to pass imperfect money.

The grounds at the Sanatorium are looking very pretty now, as they always do about this time of the year. They are very tastefully laid out, and the fountain playing in the centre produces a beautiful effect. It is as pretty a place to spend the summer in as can be found in this section of the country.

L. W. McKelvey is building a two-story addition at the rear of his residence.

Latest shape in hats, Dunlaps, Youman, et cetera.

Sleeping cars have been introduced on the Philadelphia and Reading R. R., between Williamsport and Philadelphia. This will be a great accommodation to persons traveling on night trains. Sleepers have been much needed upon the P. & R. and the new management was quick to see the necessity of them.

A new and pretty drop curtain has been hung in the Danville Opera House, similar to the one here. The border of the curtain is filled with advertisements of the leading business firms of Danville, and in the center is a landscape representing ancient buildings. In the four corners are plants with a variety of flowers.

Never place fresh eggs near lard, fruit, cheese, fish or other articles from which any odor arises. The eggs are extremely prone to absorbing power, and in a very short time they will be contaminated by the particles of objects in their neighborhood, which the peculiar and exquisite taste of a new-laid egg will be destroyed.

As a little son of N. J. Headert's was riding a horse out Third street on Tuesday afternoon, the horse was struck by a baseball thrown by some boys who were playing ball near the skating rink. The horse immediately took fright, and started to run, throwing the boy off, but not injuring him. The horse then ran on home.

John Gingrich, who was on trial at Sunbury for murder of James Haley on December 15th, after he had been ejected from the room of which Gingrich was manager, and who was convicted of involuntary manslaughter, was on Monday sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and to undergo an imprisonment of five years with labor in the Sunbury jail.

Mrs. Miner R. Smith, of Benton township, died very suddenly at her home on Monday night between 10 and 11 o'clock. Her husband, noticed that all was not right with her, but before he could raise her up she was dead. Mrs. Smith was a sister of Dr. T. C. and J. B. McHenry, of Benton, and daughter of Benjamin McHenry. She leaves a husband and eight children.

The Decorative Art Exhibit, at J. Salzer's music rooms, from the 18th to the 18th inst., was very fine. The imitation oil paintings worked in silk were very pretty, and there were also handsome draperies, etc. The rooms were well filled every day and evening with people who much admired the work, and were several times treated to Prof. Metherell's enjoyable music.

At this season of the year our little town can be seen to the best advantage. The trees blossoming out in all their beauty, the green foliage of the trees, in many places entirely overhanging the streets and forming beautiful green bowers, and all the other beauties of Spring, all combine to make our town at this time of the year one of the prettiest places in this section of the country.

The Keystone Minstrels played in the Opera House last Friday night to a fair-sized house, and gave a good entertainment. The West Brothers' dancing was very good indeed, and the afterpiece was well acted and very laughable. The remainder of the programme was well carried through. The boys went to Orangeville Saturday, and were greeted there Saturday evening by a full house.

There are some dog fanciers in Benton. It is rumored that one of them recently sent away for a pair of water spaniels, but when they came he was not entirely satisfied with his purchase, as the dogs looked very much like common Bantons. They ought to have been full bloods, as they came over the water. They were hauled across the creek on the Benton stage, having been shipped at a point some where near Patterson's mill.

Miss Audiana Hagenbuch died at her father's residence, near the Normal school, Wednesday morning, after a lingering illness with consumption. She was confined to her bed for nearly a year and every effort made to prolong her life but without avail. She was about twenty-five years of age, and had a wide circle of friends who will mourn her early demise. The funeral will take place this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church.

Persons calling for these letters will please say "advertised."

GEORGE A. CLARK, P. M.

Mr. C. M. Drinker had his patent issued last week on his baggage check. We are informed that he has also made application for patent in Europe and other foreign countries. The baggage check is of neat construction and so designed that the one cannot be taken from the trunk or other article without its counterpart. Thus checks are not liable to be lost nor to the annoyance of some party taking them from the parcel—they are locked fast—the one serving as a key for the other. Mr. Drinker expects soon to manufacture them, and he looks for a large sale.

Prof. Niles' Orchestra and the Glee Club of the Philologist Literary Society went to Danville last Friday night and gave an entertainment in the hall of the Danville Insane Asylum. They started from here about three o'clock in the morning, in the hand-wagon and a two-seated spring wagon, and returned the same evening after the performance. They were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience, who seemed to appreciate the music very highly. Prof. Niles' orchestra played well, as it always does, and the singing was excellent. It must have been a great treat to the inmates of the asylum.

This Spring has been one in which the people in this place made more advancement in improving their residences than in any other year for many years. On almost every street in the town may be seen the work of the painter's brush. Many have also had the paper hangers at work and thus beautified the inside of the house. Mr. W. F. Bodine, one of the painters in our town, has been overworked with work. It seemed as if he was the only paper hanger in town, by the way he was urged to do work. It is a fact, that he is putting paper on the wall with nice effect. Mr. Bodine stands at the top.

Very many persons, men, women and children, who need and enjoy some gentle outdoor exercise, will read with pleasure of a revival of the excellent game of croquet. Nothing but a freak of fashion caused croquet to fall as it has done into innocuous demutue. The very fact that it was equally suitable for everybody was doubtless one reason why it became unpopular, but it was too good a game to be lost, and it is not strange that it is coming up again. We may hope that in the coming summer the once familiar sound of the mallet and ball will again be heard in many a modest garden, if not also on many a lawn.

Inter-State Picnic Exhibition.

The fourteenth annual Interstate Picnic Exhibition, under the auspices of the Patrons of Husbandry, will open at Williams Grove, Monday, August 29th, and promises to be unprecedented in the history of these exhibitions. Varied and extensive as was the display last year, it will be greatly surpassed the present season. A large number of new and handsome permanent buildings will be erected, which, together with other substantial improvements, have been made, and will add greatly to the beauty of the place. Thirty years ago, when the Patrons of Husbandry, to the number of a few hundred, came to this spot to hold a pleasant reunion, and talk over the work already done and arrange plans for the future, little did they think that they were even then laying the foundation for the greatest gathering of farmers, manufacturers, and all interested in agricultural pursuits, ever known in the United States. That few hundred has become over a hundred thousand, representing twenty-eight States of the Union.

Voris-Bernhard.

On Thursday afternoon, the 12th inst. Miss Annie J., eldest daughter of Mr. L. Bernhard, became Mrs. Robert R. Voris. The ceremony took place in St. Paul's church at half past three and was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Levertet, in the presence of a large number of invited guests, many of whom were from Danville, where the groom resides. The bride couple marched up the centre preceded by the ushers, Messrs. H. B. Clark and C. W. Funston of Bloomsburg, and Mr. Voris of Danville and Mr. Diefenderfer of Philadelphia. The bride wore a white dress, presided at the organ. The bride wore a very pretty traveling suit and hat. After the ceremony many of the friends attended a reception at the residence of the bride's parents on Fifth street.

At 8:47 Mr. and Mrs. Voris went direct to Danville and began house-keeping at once, their home being in readiness for them.

The bride was the recipient of very many presents, and we are permitted to enumerate them.

Two mahogany rocking chairs presented by the Danville Presbyterian choir, mahogany and brass table, rattan work table, large decorated vase, pair Dresden vases, pair amber and peach blow vases, large blue glass fruit dish, bouquet holder, mirror with flowers in relief, velvet mirror in bronze frame, velvet mirror in carved walnut, four steel engravings in gold, wall and oak frames, hand painted panel picture, two dozen after dinner china coffee cups in satin lined Morocco cases, hand painted case scarf, embroidered table scarf, book rack, statuette of Shakespeare in bronze, hand made mantel clock, antique brass 15 day clock, brass hanging lamp, fifty dollar clock, twenty dollar clock, twenty dollars in gold, brass crumb set, decorated china and silver tea set, sugar shell and butter knife in case, lemonade set, six dozen dinner napkins, eight linen table cloths, one linen tray set, two Marcellus quilts, one comfort, one piece quilt, one pair black and white damask, silver table, plush sofa pillow, silver pickle caster, silver card receiver, silver pitcher, silver cake basket, silver fruit dish, silver and cut glass oil and vinegar caster, silver vases, pair silver salt cellars, butter knife and sugar shell in case, sugar shell in case, two sugar spoons in old silver, one case chased silver, one set after dinner coffee spoons set, silver carrying set, nut pick, pair decorated salt and pepper, china tea set, cut glass berry set, one rug, pair tidies, one pair knit slippers, one plush picture frame, one oil painting.

Not a Balloon.

For the past week a bright light in the heavens has been viewed nightly by hundreds of people in this town, under the impression that it is an electric light set up in a balloon at Williamsport. It appears to be in the northwest at a point that might be over that city. It is visible soon after sunset, and gradually falls until about ten o'clock, when it disappears below the horizon. A Wilkes-Barre paper first published the story of the electric balloon, and stated that the light was so bright that its rays were reflected on the river at that place, eighty miles from Williamsport. It is almost needless to state that this alleged electric light is nothing less than Venus, the bright and beautiful evening star whose rays reach the earth through millions of miles of space.

We have the information direct from Williamsport that no electric light had been sent up in a balloon at that place, and so such a project has been contemplated. The people of this city are much astonished to learn from outside sources that they have had hovering over their heads for the past week an electric lamp two miles up in the air, that "throws rays of light on the river at Wilkes-Barre, and illuminates the country for miles around." The story is so absurdly untrue that it is almost an instance of impossibility upon its face, but nevertheless, many people believed it, and Venus received more attention for a few nights than she has bestowed upon her since the days when all the mythological gods admired her beauty. It is reported that several learned professors here leveled a telescope at the disputed object, and failed to agree as to what it was, and at last one of them, who was very much of a skeptic, took a big glass trying to discriminate between the mysteries of the heavens and those of Edison. A number of heated discussions have occurred between those who insisted on the balloon story, and those who thought otherwise, and taken all in all, Venus and the Moon-Dancer have afforded a topic of conversation all along the north and west branches during the past week.

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, MAY 16, 1887.

Our buyers use taste and judgment in selecting whatever you write for.

We've had Printed Flannels before, but not such Printed Flannels. The richest that can be had; choicer than could be had last season. Fruit of a year's thought and work by the maker. Genuine, thick-and-thin, all-wool Flannel. Striped and figured; 37 styles and colorings from one of the two or three Alsace-Lorraine printers who stand at the head in such things. Lawn Tennis and Boating Suit stuff; perfect combinations in many of the popular club colors. 75 cents.

500 dress lengths of stuff that were $1.25, $1 and 75 cents.

Tricots, Plain Cloths, Camel's Hairs, Serges, Camel's Hair Grenadines, Canvas Curl and like seasonal and desirable goods.

Odd pieces, broken lots. We cut them into patterns ample for a dress, and let them go at last-end prices.

6 yards 54-inch goods, 8 yards 42-inch goods, $3, $3.50, $3.75 and $4 each.

Call it Percal or "Shirting," there's no nonsense about it. Tough and plump 36 inches wide. The weight is from the cotton in it. Hard twisted, hard woven, every thread of it. A stuff for hard wear, if you will; neat and dressy, too. Handsomely printed in stripes, plaids and figures on white ground. The price has been 15 cents. It's been a lively goer at 15. We make it 12 1/2.

Batistes as dainty as ever, as well liked as novel. Novelties among them of course. Inch square blocks of brown, black and red, black and blue, chance-scattered on a cream surface. That's one. Rings for blocks, another. And so through a score of styles—colored figures on tinted ground, 12 1/2 cents. Some extra fine 16 cents.

Plain Cashmere Shawls. Cardinal, cream, blue and pink. Elegant wraps for piazza or drawing-room. Fine, soft, clinging things that lend beauty to beauty. $1.25 up.

Latest styles and shapes of WRAPS from Paris. We want them to go at once. The price shall be the push—less than that would cost to import them. There are three lots, all silk lined and elegant:

1—Silk Grenadine and Jet $7.50.

2—Silk Grenadine and Jet, lace sleeves, $7.50.

3—Chenille Centres, sleeves and trimming of Jet, $9.

Stylish short wraps, beaded grenadine, trimmed with lace and jet, $20, $22 and $25.

65 cents for 4-button Suede Gloves, embroidered.

75 cents for 6-button Mousquetaire Suede Gloves, plain.

$1 for 6-button Mousquetaire Suedes, embroidered.

Until this year these gloves have never been shown in this country.

100 Lace covered parasols at $5.00 have just come. Some of them, if not quite all, rank with goods we've been getting $1 to $2 more for.

Some extra good things in Children's parasols, 50 cents and $1.

An extraordinary black Satin parasol, $3.00 worth for $1.50. You will bear the statement out when you see the goods.

A very good black or colored Satin parasol for $1.38.

Don't worry over the Lace Curtains. Take them down as usual, wash them as usual. Then let the Lace Curtain Stretcher step in and push Care to a back seat. Dry as Care as you please at once; not one of them can get awry. $3 and $3.50.

From our Book store shelves you can select something for every taste. How else could we sell more books than any other house in the country? And there's no combination bulge in the prices.

Grant's Memoirs, 2 vols., $1.50. The Diary of Samuel Poppo, 5 vols., a new edition. Niles' Standard Dictionary of the English Language, revised edition, $1.00. Rand's and McNally's Standard Atlas of the World, $2.00. Sanborn's, by Martin Crawford, $1.00. Gray's Grammar, by Rev. Arthur T. Peabody. Ginn's New Third Reader, with Memoir $0.60.

Also, timely works on Agriculture and Horticulture; a large assortment of French Books, bound and unbound; Seaside and Franklin Squares; Butterick's Patterns, etc.

More things for sporting wear than we know of anywhere. The floor space of a good sized store given to them. Lawn tennis, boating, base-ball, cricket, swimming, bicycle and other things. From Virgoe, Middleton & Co., London, and the best domestic makers.

Good Hats like other good things are sure to be imitated. When you read of a $5 silk hat for $4, go slowly. Either know the goods or know that you can trust the merchant.

The best assortment of Cassimere and Derby Hats we've ever offered. Quality and style all right, so's the price.

A little early for Men's Straw Hats, but we have the new ones to show you.

JOHN WANAMAKER, Constant Thirtieth and Market Streets, and City-Hall square.

Court Proceedings.

A. K. Smith vs. Samuel Brugler. Case tried. Verdict for plaintiff, and damages assessed at $5.00.

Sale ordered in estate of Thomas J. Hoffman.

The following Sheriff's deeds were acknowledged in open Court: To William Krickbaum, sold as the property of Lewis C. Young, for $300; to Sarah Tilley, sold as property of John M. Chamberlin, for $750.

John M. Chamberlin vs. W. Krickbaum et al. Case tried. This was a suit brought about by the Treasurer on a note payable to him, given by W. Krickbaum, D. Lowenberg and J. W. Hoffman, for a balance due on the duplicate of R. Harris, collector, on whose bond they were sureties. On December 10, 1884, Lowenberg and Krickbaum paid each a third of the amount and were released from further liability on the note, by the Commissioners and Treasurer, and produced receipts to that effect. The Court charged that this arrangement was binding, though it might not have been good management on the part of the officials. The jury found a verdict against all the defendants. A motion was made for a new trial.

W. Krickbaum vs. Columbia County. This was a suit about a disputed item of $10, for advertising Commissioners' sales in 1885, the sum charged by plaintiff being $30, and that paid each of the other papers being $10. Commissioner Pohe testified that he made a contract with all the papers for that figure, and plaintiff denied this so far as his paper was concerned. Verdict for plaintiff.

Sale ordered in estate of Elias Boyer. Real estate licenses granted M. J. Ryan and E. J. Hattley, in Central.

W. Shafer, D. K. Sloan, Geo. Conner, Edward Hartman, M. F. Bowman, M. Houcknecht and Elisha Ringrose appointed viewers to assess damages in case of John P. Cressy vs. B. & S. Railroad.

A usual order for the railroads at Sept. Court was made, and an adjourned Court appointed for June 13, at 2 p. m., and 14th at 9 a. m.

F. P. Billmeyer appointed auditor in estate of Peter Miller.

Estate of Daniel Thomas. Specific performance. Citation awarded.

S. N. Walker, appointed commissioner to take testimony in case of appeal from probate of will of Mary A. Brittain.
