NO ONE NEED Remain A DYSPETIC. "I have been suffering for over two years with Dyspepsia. For the last year I could not take a drink of cold water nor eat any meat without vomiting it up. My life was a misery. I had tried recommended Simmonds' Liver Regulator, of which I am now taking the second bottle, and the fact is that words cannot express the relief I feel. My appetite is very good, and I digest everything thoroughly. I sleep well now, and I need to be very restful. I am feeling up fast; good strong food and Simmonds' Liver Regulator have done it. All I wish in hopes of benefiting some one who has suffered as I did, and would take to these statements if desired."

THE WITCH'S HEAD.

By H. RIDER HAGGARD. Just at the moment that Jeremy heard the voice, the girl started up, her little preparatory to making a fresh effort, and thus enabled his antagonist to fill his lungs with air. Ernest saw the small white chair heave with relief by this time most of the upper clothing of the combatants had been wrested away and the drenching eye grew bright again, and he heard the girl cry out a word that he would conquer or die where he was.

And then he beheld just as the Boy, leaping forward—feeling that at last he was master of the situation—prepared himself for a final struggle, suddenly the Englishman advanced his right leg forward, and with the rapidity of lightning, entirely shifted his grip, and then he gathered himself for the effort. That mighty reserve strength he drew on, who can say? But Ernest's voice had excited it, and it came at his call; and he did a thing that few living men could have done, and the same would go down in the annals of the world.

"Make an end of him! Make an end of him!" shouted the Boy; but behind the blacked face of Ernest, and behind the blacked face of Ernest, he could not see.

To and fro was Jeremy, and now the girl was lifted from the ground. And then one mighty effort, and the girl was up, still above the grasping of the woe-stricken crowd, up to his shoulder—his head over the top!
